WHAT ABT. JO DAVIES CO. I L.

Hi Lucy,

1870 CENSUS IVER

The baptismal record from 1880 "DANE" Luth. Church in Cedar Rapids, IA, on a microfilm reel that I ordered from Salt Lake City. I have an LDS Family History Library here in Madison, WI where I located the 1910 entry for my John B. BARNHART. From there I located the microfilm for source, and the source happened to be the Christening. 1920 M. JANE

Perhaps you could do something similar. Go to your nearest LDS Family History Library T623-TRESIDDER in Toledo, and go through the microfiche and/or computer CD's trying to locate Nancy BARNHART - then order the source microfilm.

Sincerely, Jim Adams

Hi Lucy,

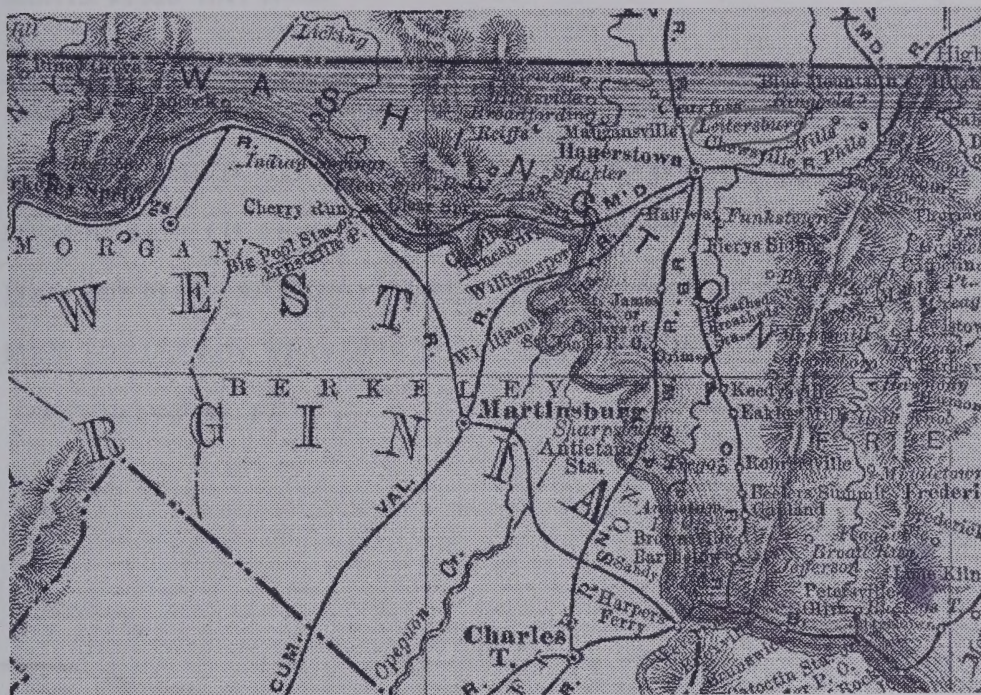

The baptismal record from the Evang. Luth. Church in Carlisle I found on a microfilm reel that I ordered from Salt Lake City. I have an LDS Family History Library here in Madison where I located the IGI entry for my John B. BARNHART. From there I ordered the microfilm for the IGI source, and the source happened to be the christening.

Perhaps you could do something similar. Go to your nearest LDS Family History Library -- probably Ft. Wayne, Lima, or Toledo; and go through the microfiche and/or computer CD's trying to locate Nancy BARNHART - then order the source microfilm.

Sincerely, Jim Adams

Obituary of Nancy Barnhart Weaver: DEATH OF MRS. HUGH WEAVER Nancy C. Barnhart was born in Cumberland Co., Pennsylvania Dec. 17, 1821, & died @ the home of her son, Alfred Weaver in Polo, Illinois, April 17, 1907. The deceased was married to Hugh Weaver in 1840 in her native state & they moved to Maryland where they lived until 1846 when they came west, settling in Pine Creek Twp., Ogle Co., Illinois, where they made their home for 20 yrs coming to Polo in 1866. This has been their home ever since that date. Mr. & Mrs. Weaver were the parents of 12 children, 6 of whom preceded their mother to the World Beyond. Those who survive her are James, Henry, Alfred & Mrs. Maggie Moats of Polo, Mrs. Annie Phelps of Aurora & Mrs. Clara Mizner of Chicago. Besides these, she leaves 18 grdchn & several gt. grdchn. Mr. Weaver died in 1898. Mrs. Weaver had been a mbr. of the Lutheran Church for many yrs. For several yrs past, she had been quite feeble but her final illness lasted only 5 wks. A complication of diseases in connection with her extreme age, more than 85 yrs, was the cause of her death.

up business for the house. They are reliable men, and deal in both foreign and domestic marbles, doing some very fine work. Mr. Ivey is a practical marble-worker, having a full knowledge of the business, and having learned his trade in the shop of which he is now part proprietor. He served an apprenticeship of ten years, and thus gained a full insight into all the details of the business.

The Franklin marble works were established about 1870, by Manuell Bros., and three years later Mr. Ivey entered their employ. Mr. I. is a native of this county, having been born in Galena, July 4, 1858. His father, Warren Ivey, was born in Cornwall County, England, of English-born parents, and was there reared to manhood, receiving a common-school education. He operated as a miner, and was married to Miss Sarah Vincent, a native of the same county. A few years after their marriage, and after the birth of two or three children who, however, did not all live, they decided to seek their fortunes on the other side of the Atlantic. After landing upon American soil they made their way directly westward to this county, and the father settled upon a tract of land in East Galena Township, upon which he made considerable improvement, and remained a number of years. Upon disposing of this property he purchased the "Union House" in Galena, and continued to operate the marble works; George W. acquired his education in the city schools, and at the age of fifteen years began his apprenticeship at the marble business; in 1879 he took unto himself a wife and helpmate, Miss Jennie Tresidder, the wedding being celebrated at the home of the bride in Hazel Green, Wis. Mrs. Ivey was born in Cornwall County, England, Aug. 16, 1858, and emigrated with her parents, John and Kate (Rawlins) Tresidder, to America early in the sixties. They came West, and located in Elizabeth Township, this county; where the father carried on farming until his death, in 1872, when a little past middle life. The mother is still living, and makes her home with her only son, Richard, in Elizabeth Township; she is now quite well advanced in years.

Mrs. Ivey was a child when her parents crossed the Atlantic, and she completed her education in the schools of Jo Daviess County. She received excellent home training, and of her union with our subject there have been born six children, one of whom, Jennie, died at the age of eighteen months. The survivors are: John Wearn, George R., Leslie, Vincent, and Harrison. Mr. Ivey, although meddling very little with politics, keeps himself posted in regard to State and National affairs, and votes the Republican ticket. Socially, he belongs

Mary Jane Trisidder was born in Cornwall, England, June 15, 1846, and passed away from her late home in Warren, March 23, 1924. About 50 years ago, the deceased came to America and settled in Scales Mound, Illinois. For the past 40 years, she has made her home in Warren. On May 28, 1869, she was joined in marriage to Iver Jensen. Pre-deceasing her was the husband, the children, Joe, Lillie, and Wilbur. Six surviving children and a number of grandchildren are called upon to mourn the passing of their loved one. The remaining children are: Albert of Freeport, Carl of Nora, Arthur at home. Mrs. Mayme Leland, Ashland, Kentucky, Mrs. John Weaver, Defiance, Ohio, and Mrs. Carrie Keeton, of Grinell, Iowa. Mrs. Jensen, during her residence here, made a host of friends, and by her upright Christian character was held in the highest regard by them. Owing to ill health, she was not permitted to be much in public life of late years, and the church she always loved, though so near her home, she could not attend owing to the infirmities incidental to her illness, but always expressed her kindly sympathy and prayer for the one of which she was a member these many years. CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank all the friends and neighbors who kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved mother, the late Mary J. Jensen. We greatly appreciate all that was done in any way.

Hello Lucy, thank you for your email. I do have one Elizabeth Combellack, b. 15 April 1781 in Helston, but I am not sure that she is the correct one. If she married in 1821 she would have been about 40. I have several Tresidders in my family tree, the main one being my ggggmother Joyce Tresidder 16 Sept 1767, daughter of William Tresidder and Joyce. She married Richard Combellack on 13 Jan 1798. Any connection. There is also Elizabeth Combellack b. 1802 who married a William Tresidder b. June 1800 and they settled in Council Hill, Joe Daviess, Ill., so they may also be related to your Tresidders.

I look forward to hearing from you
Best wishes

Hello Lucy, I have just seen your listing on the Cornwall Exchange. I also have a listing for Combellack, but the email address is an old one, and I've been unable to find how to change it.

What connection do you have with the Combellack family, and how are you related.

Best wishes

Hi, Lucy

I'm not sure who Mary Dunstan's husband was. I thought it might have been Richard Dunstan. Mary was baptised on 31 Aug 1806 at Wendron.

I attach a copy of all Tresidders in my records.

In addition, I have a note of a Minnie Tresidder born about 1873 who married Thomas Henry Bolitho in 1898 in Cornwall. Thomas and Henry lived in New Jersey.

Hello, Judy, I don't have anything on the Dunstans, except my Mary Dunstan, who married Joel Tresidder prob. abt. 1843. On the 1851 census in Wendron, she is age 28, b. in Gwennap. She is living with her mother-in-law, Elizabeth Tresidder, miner's widow, and her two chn: Joel b. 1844 and Mary Jane b. 1846. States her husband is in America. I obtained her maiden name from Joel(her son) death cert. Sure wish I could help. Thanks for writing. Will keep your names on file. Who knows, we may connect later on.

Dear Lucy:

I am also researching the Dunstans of Wendron. Our group lived in Porkellis at the time of the 1871 census. My ggrandfather is Bennett Dunstan B1816 and his father was William Dunstan - I don't have a DOB for him.

Would these by chance be on your list,

Sincerely
 Judy Taylor

Hi, Wendy, Checked my Tresidder database and have lots of Thomases. Found Thomas Henry Tresidder b. ca. 1872 Wendron, Cornwall, son of Thomas & Grace Tresidder. His siblings were Margaret and Martin. This information was given to me by Stephen Treseder, who is in India until March. When he returns, I will forward your message on to him and he probably can give you more details.

Hello Lucy, Thanks for all the contacts you've sent. It doesn't matter if you duplicate - better that than missing one. Just a reminder that I will be offline from 21st until next March whilst we are on mission in India. Now getting to the 'butterflies in the tummy' stage now with so many things to sort. The two cats went off to a daughters' today for the duration. Just hope they don't escape as they're going to the city (Plymouth) from the country. We fly on 28th to Delhi, arrive at 0030 (!) & have to travel another 300 miles to Jaipur. At least someone is meeting us at Delhi.

We look forward to escaping from the lunatic activities about the Millenium. Hope your country isn't going as stupid as the English over it. Our govt is wasting millions on a Dome which looks like a dying cream puff while there are young people living in cardboard boxes in London. We are hoping the weather in India will improve - the night temp in Delhi just now is 9C. Brrr. It's about that here due to wind chill, but blue skies, bright sun and all the flowers out. We still have roses blooming in the garden & I've had to cut the lawns. Here's wishing you a blessed Christmas & a prosperous New Year.

See y'all in 2000.

Dew genes Stephen

I have the 2nd contact from a source I don't recall - better than the one one. Just a contact from 2nd and 3rd and 4th. We are on mission in Iraq. Now getting to the subject of the enemy's night view with so many things to say. The two cars were off to a dangerous trip for the night. And hope they don't escape as they're going to the city (probably) from the country. We're going to Dallas, arrive at 6:30 (I) & have to travel another 100 miles to Japan. At least someone is moving as in Dallas.
 We have received messages from the music activities about 100 Million. Hope you're coming, but going with these are some things to be in London. We are hoping the weather is better, but the same.

Subject: Pascoe/Tresidder

I am researching Pascoe from the Wendron area. My great grandfather is Benjamin Pascoe b. April 5, 1849 to Nicholas Pascoe and Mary Richards who were married May 21, 1839 in Wendron Parish. My great grandfather married Eliza Tresidder during the 2nd quarter 1878. Eliza's father is Thomas Tresidder b. abt 1824 they were also from Wendron. I am also searching for the exact month of the marriage of Benjamin and Eliza and who was Eliza mother. I have a possibility that this was Ann Priske? Can anyone help with information? Eliza was born according to her death certificate from Negaunee Michigan USA August 1850. Thank you.

Hi Lucy!

I ran across this bio in the 1878 county directory. I didn't know if you had it.

TRUDGIAN, MRS. MARY T.

Farming; Sec. 7; P. O. Galena; born in Cornwall, England, May 23, 1825; Widow of Joseph Trudgian who died June 3, 1857, age 45 years; they were married in Cornwall, England, Dec. 25, 1845; came to this Co. 1854; owns 160 acres of land; she has five children living: Joseph, Nicholas, Samuel, Thomas and Charles; Mr. T. had two by a former marriage: Eliza (now Mrs. Tressider, of Scales Mound), and William (who was in the army); he died in the hospital at Nashville, Tenn., in 1864; Family belong to the M. E. Church.

Charles Trudgian married Amelia Dittmar, my mother-in-law's aunt. It was their daughter, Lillian, who collected all the newspaper clippings and wrote the diary that I am transcribing.

Roberta Wolfe is going to be in the area this week and we have plans to get together. It will be great to finally meet her in person.

I haven't forgotten your Brown's. I just have to make time to get to the village hall and do the looking in the cemetery indexes. I just went full time on my job and it is leaving me precious little time for the important things in life.....like genealogy and sewing! <G>

I better get to bed.....5:30 comes awfully early! Hope all is well with you.

Dear Lucy, I am blessed, thank you. I have mailed to Karlene. Amazingly enough, I have only just been contacted by another branch of her line in Australia and have just written to them, so hope to put them in touch with each other.

Still worrying away at the study, but have cracked lots of 'nuts', have made links which are resulting in truly gigantic trees! Trying to summon up courage to 'go for it' & attempt to polish off the folks for whom I have nothing after their baptism. Problem is, many of them are on the Constantine register & there's no printed transcript for it. makes life difficult trying to look at film at the Record Office. I once had the original register in my hands but now it's not allowed out. The early entries are very difficult to read. GRRR!!

If only I could look at Const. burials I'm sure it would remove a few mysteries. [Have waded thro 47 complete Cornish parish registers so far, plus bits of others. Only about 200 to go.]

Best wishes, Stephen

Hi Lucy.

Thanks for your quick reply.

I'm sending my database which, of course, is a work in progress. Don't have all dates for John and Estella Allen's children, their grand children and greats. There are some names missing, too I know some of my generation has had more kids than I have listed. I have to get these cousins to fill out group sheets for me.

I was busy cleaning up my mail folders last night. Deleted your message before I got it printed. Could you please resend it? Thanks so much for the bother!

The info I have on John and Catherine Rowling Tresidder comes from Roberta Bell Wolfe.

Tresider, Francis Wilcox, Mary Jane 03 Feb 1861 Book B page 317

Again, Thanks for your help.

January 1916

- Wed 5 Awful windy today all day. Papa and Uncle Dan [Dittmar] stacked the fodder from the little field today. We washed an awful big washing today. We also baked bread. John Tresidder came up to ask Dan if he would help him get up some wood. He said he would.
- Thu 6 Uncle Dan went down to help John cut wood. We ironed some today.
- Tue 11 We were thinking to go home [from Grandpa's in Apple River] this morning but missed the train. Came home this afternoon. It started to snow just before we left. Snowing all the time we walked home from the Station. Milton told Mama last night that Alvin Davis's house burned down. Didn't hear any particulars. Ancious to know them.
- Sun 23 Another beautiful day. Dan went to Galena to church. Ma, Ruby and I went to church this forenoon. Quite a few there. We were kind of expecting Young's down but they had to go home. John Tresidders came up this afternoon.

February 1916

- Tue 1 Just a beautiful day only very cold. Ruby and I went up to Ethel Tippetts but she wasn't home so we spent the afternoon at Aunt Annies [Tippett]. Rode home from there to Tresidder's with John in the sleigh. Dan chopped wood today and Papa hauled wood.
- Thu 10 We ironed today. Mama, Ruby and I went down to John's this evening. Blanche isn't feeling very well.

March 1916

- Fri 10 Ruby + I cleaned the cow stable. Ruby + Ma the horse stable. Agnes Tresidder called up today. Said the Baby (Blanche) had pneumonia in one lung. Dr. was out yesterday and today. Wanted to know if somebody could come down tomorrow afternoon to look after the baby. while she do her work. Papa hauling manure today.
- Sat 11 A nice day. Mama went down to John's this forenoon and she is going to stay all night. Said she didn't know how - she [Blanche] is having awful crying spells. Aunt Tillie [Dittmar] and Uncle Herman [Dittmar] went home today. Aunt Annie went along.
- Sun 12 Mama came home from John's this morning. Blanche is getting better. There is no services at Union [Church] today. Heard the minister was called away. We were at home all day. No company. Just Ruby + I went walking on the hills. Just a beautiful day. Very warm.

Thu 30 Another calf and another lamb today. Quite warm today. I baked a pie this forenoon and a cake this afternoon. Mamma called up this afternoon [from Apple River]. She said Grandpa is some better. and all the rest are some better. If everything is alright she said she might come home Sat. morning. Uncle Edd [Tippett] + John Tresidder came this evening. Uncle Edd said there was an awful big crowd a S. V. Tuesday.
[Note: A bad strain of flu was going around and Lillian's grandparents and two aunts came down with it. Lillian's grandmother, Mary Winter Dittmar, died Sat. 25 Mar 1916 and was buried Tue. 28 Mar 1916 at Zion Presbyterian Church Cemetery, Schapville.]

April 1916

Sun 2 A very beautiful day. Mamma laying down quite a bit today. No services at Union today. John Tresidders' came up this afternoon awhile. Uncle Edd came home this afternoon. Came down here to supper. spent the evening.

Wed 5 Aunt Rachel [Dittmar] went down to John T's this afternoon. John came up with her this evening. Uncle Edd + Dan came down to supper this evening. Heard Apple River went dry again. Most or all towns close around are dry now but E. Dubuque and Galena Galena went wet by five hundred [votes]. one hundred less than a year ago.

Fri 7 John Tresidder took Aunt Rachel to Galena this morning. She intends to go home Sat. I went down to John's to get some parsnips this afternoon.

Sun 16 Rainy this morning. Didn't know if we should go to church or not. but we went. Fifteen there with the Elder and preacher. Blanche T. + Evelyn B [Bastian] were to be christened at W. Bastians' after church. We went up to Aunt Annies' for dinner. It rained like everything.

May 1916

Fri 19 We washed today. Aunt Annie came down this afternoon. Papa hauling brush in ditches. About four this afternoon I went down to Tresidders and Milton + I went out picking asparagus. I got enough for about three meals

Sun 21 Rainy today. Didn't go to church. We went up to Uncle Edds' this afternoon. John Tresidders' up there. We started out. It rained. we went in wagon shed at John Tippett. It stopped after awhile. Then we came home.

Wed 24 Papa, Mamma + Ruby planted potatoes this forenoon and some this afternoon. Papa plowed up a little patch up in the field by the oak tree for some potatoes. Milton came up this morning. brought some nice tomatoe plants.

Sat 27 I was sick today. Couldn't do much. I had an awful headache and one side of my throat is sore and swollen. I thought it was the mumps.

Papa hitched Della up in the buggy and drove to Galena. First time she [Della, the horse] had been driven much alone. Papa said she went very nice. Ruby rode along and picked asparagus on Tresidders' hill. They said we could. I went to bed several hours this afternoon. Lots of autos going along today.

June 1916

- Fri 2 We thought something of going to town but we thought the roads would be too muddy. We had quite a storm last night. It rained just awful hard. The creeks got awfully high. It washed so. The corn fields are washed terrible and some things in the garden are washed over. Milton came up this morning. brought us some honey
- Sun 4 Mamma + Ruby went to church this morning. Quite a few there. Home this afternoon. Nobody came near. This evening we went down to Johns'. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie came down there to.
- Fri 16 Papa and Ruby went to Galena today. Some kind of doings at the fairground this afternoon. Pagent, I believe. Stores were locked up. Rained this afternoon + this morning. Agnes said today they are going to Dubuque tomorrow. said a couple of us could go if we wanted to.
- Sat 17 Rained again this afternoon. Well, Mamma + Aunt Annie went to Dubuque with Agnes, Milton + Blanche. John didn't go. Mamma bought a black silk skirt. Aunt Annie got a black silk dress. Pa plowed corn today.

July 1916

- Sun 2 Well, Uncle Edd brought Aunt Annie down this morning then he and Pa went to church. Nearly surprised to death when about half past twelve Helen Weis called up. wanted to know if Ruby + I wanted to go riding. We didn't have no dinner. We hurried awfully. We started twenty after one. Mr Weis, Bert + Helen and us. Went to Galena. It looked an awful lot like a storm all the time. We went out on the turnpike. Went out several miles. it looked so much like rain we turned back. First time I ever was on the pike. They wanted to go to Hazel Green or farther. We stopped at Canes and had ice cream. Then rode around town for awhile and came home. Had a fine ride. John Tresidders' were here when we got home.
[Note: The turnpike she refers to would be present day US Rt 20.]
- Wed 12 Ma + I went raspberry picking this morning in Tresidder's lane. They said we could have them. got a gallon.
- Sun 16 Ma + Ruby went to church this forenoon. the rest of us staid at home. Aunt Annie came down to. Uncle Edd went to church. It is Ruby's + Olive's [Dittmar] birthday today. Ruby is twenty three and Olive six. We gave Olive a blue hair ribbon. Aunt Annie gave Ruby a tie or bow. Uncle Edd went home after supper. This evening Ruby, Olive, Loretta [Dittmar], + I went down to Tresidders a little while.
- Thu 20 Ruby and I washed a big washing. This evening Aunt Tillie [Dittmar], Loretta + Olive came down. They were down to Tresidders.
- Sun 30 Ma + Ruby went to church. Only ones there besides Mr. + Mrs. Haines [preacher and wife]. didn't have any services. We all went up to Aunt Annie's this afternoon. Dad + I rode up the hill with John + Alta Combellick. John Tresidders' were up there to.

August 1916

- Tue 1 Ruby ironed last weeks ironing today. Dad went down to Tresidders and helped shock grain today. Wanted to help John back for helping us with fodder and other things.
- Sun 6 No service at Union today. Haines to lazy I guess. Home all day. But took a walk down to Johns' this evening. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie were ther to. A few autos went along
- Tue 8 Papa went down to John's to help stack today. Ruby + I picked berries this forenoon. Got fourty-five and one half quarts of blackberries put up including two + one half qts of jam. We washed this afternoon.
- Wed 9 Been awfully busy today. Dad helped stack down at John's again today. We ironed, baked bread, baked a batch of cookies and a cake. Ma + Ruby picked berries this forenoon and made jelly and jam out of them.
- Sun 20 Ruby quite sick with her ear. Didn't sleep any last night, Don't know whether to call a Dr. or not. Quite hot. Agnes, Milton + Blanche came up this afternoon. A great lot of autos going along today.
- Thu 24 We had our first muskmelon today. Ruby isn't much if any better yet. We don't know if we should call a doctor or not. Mamma took some apples down to Agnes T. this evening
- Thu 31 I got two birthday cards today. [Lillian's birthday was Tue 29 August] Well today is the Schapville picnic. Not a great many people went past here. Aunt Annie went out with Winters. She is coming back with Martha T. tomorrow. Ruby feels quite a little better today. Cloudy all day.

September 1916

- Fri 1 Well we had a nice rain last night. John Tresidder came up this forenoon. just came home from Des Moines this morning, stopped at Waterloo Tuesday. He said Uncle Thomas's were coming back in their car tomorrow. He doesn't know if they will come now it rained.
- Sun 3 This afternoon John, Agnes, Milton, Blanche + Ida came up. Also Josie and Helen Weis. Quite a house full. Uncle Thomas and Aunt Rachel went down to John's to stay all night.
- Mon 11 Ma went up to the melon patch this forenoon. and all the melons are gone but two little watermelons and several small muskmelons. Some people took them last night. An awful lot of rinds up there also. Dad + Ruby took a ride up the road this afternoon. Took the insurance card along - it came here. Gave it to Walter Werner. He looked quite pale. They gave Milton, Willie + Mary a ride home. They questioned Milton. He, Willie, and Ray Werner had been up to the patch in the afternoon. Took several. We guess who took the rest.

Wed 20 We washed today. We picked wild grapes today. John Tresidder thrashed today and Dad helped.

Fri 22 We put up pears and ironed today. Ruby's legs are awful bad. Can't walk at all. Just hobble around a little. Fiedler thrashed last night and this morning. Dad helped this morning for John Tresidder.

Sun 24 We were home all day. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie were to church and came down to dinner. John, Agnes, Milton, + Blanche came up this afternoon.

October 1916

Sun 15 Cloudy and rainy this forenoon. Cleared up this afternoon. We went up to Aunt Annie's to dinner. Tresidders' were up there to in the afternoon. We were thinking something of going to Mt Morley school house for services today but didn't go because it was rainy.

Sun 22 The roads are muddy yet. Not an auto on the road today. We all went for a walk this afternoon up Bastian's pasture. Called in at the school house. Saw the new furnace. Walked out Guilford Rd and came back on Joe Weis' hill. This evening we all went down to John's. They haven't their car yet. Heard Werners have a car.

November 1916

Sat 11 Papa chanced it to Galena today. He sold the two steers to John Tresidder. Cloudy all day. Started to snow this evening.

Mon 13 Snowing about all day. It cleared up tonight. It is very cold. John Tresidder got our two steers today. We got one hundred four and one half dollars [$104.50] for the two. or seven cents a pound. John T's new Ford is in Galena. It was in there Saturday.

Thu 16 Well we washed today. Aunt Annie came down this forenoon. This evening Aunt Annie, Aunt Margaret, Mamma + I went down to J. Tresidders'. Uncle Edd came down there.

Fri 24 It was just terrible windy last night and today. And cold. But it is nice tonight. Clear. Agnes + Milton came up here and Ruby + I went with them to the social [at Ford School]. There wasn't a very big crowd there. There were fifteen or sixteen baskets. They made between twenty-one + twenty-two dollars. Some folks came out from near Galena. Mr. Sanders was the auctioneer. The baskets brought from about sixty cents to nearly three dollars. Ruby's basket brought one dollar ten cents. Charles Tobin bought it. My basket didn't bring so much as Ruby's. Albert Shultz bought my basket. Milton bought Mary Fiedler's basket.

December 1916

Tue 5 We washed this forenoon. Papa and John Tresidder took ten of our hogs over the Station today [Council Hill Station].

Sun 10 We all went to church this forenoon. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie came down to dinner. John Tresidders' came up this afternoon.

- Thu 21 Quite cold. nice and clear. I baked a batch of cookies. Mamma went down to Agnes's and then called at Weis's and got a dressed duck. John Tresidder went up to Wilbur Tresidders' sale.
- Mon 25 Papa went to meet Anna [Trudgian] this forenoon in Galena. Got here a quarter of twelve. and left again a quarter of six. Papa and Ruby took her to Galena. Got home about nine oclock. John, Agnes, Milton + Blanche came up this afternoon. We had a nice dinner. Asparagus and lettuce, celery and then had duck.
- Sun 31 It was quarterly meeting over the Station today. Services afternoon and evening. We would like to have gone but the roads are so icy. We went to Aunt Annie's this afternoon. We staid to supper. We all went down to John T tonight. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie were down to. Snowing this evening.

January 1917

- Wed 10 We are busy today. Uncle Herman went up to Uncle Edd this afternoon. brought Aunts Annie and Tillie down to Tresidders. This evening Herman and Tillie came up here. Rev. Mr. Palmer came from Spensleys to stay all night. We had lots of playing and singing. We served brown sugar fudge and apples. Council Hill gave the minister a reception last night. about fourty there.
- Tue 30 We got a letter from Uncle Thomas this morning. He said Anna had an operation yesterday morning for apendicitis at the Pres. [Presbyterian] hospital. Mama went over to see Mrs John Weis. She is sick. Then she called at John Tresidders' awhile. They butchered today.

February 1917

- Sun 11 A lovely day, but cold. Pa, Ma + Ruby went to church this afternoon. I staid at home alone. Had to bad a cold to go. Mama staid at Tresidders after church then Papa went down this eve. There is two little lambs this eve. First of season.
- Fri 16 Mable Tresidder talked to Agnes today. Said Uncle Nick is quite poorly. Another little lamb today. Adam Virtue's sale today. We all have bad colds. I am some better.
- Sun 18 Ruby + I went to church this forenoon. Papa + Mamma had to bad a colds to go. Ruby went up to Aunt Annie's this afternoon. Tresidders were there to.
- Wed 21 Mamma went up to Scales Mound with John, Agnes + Blanche in the sleigh today. To see Uncle Nick. Milton staid here. He has been having a cold. Agnes wouldn't let him go to school. He was a good boy. Uncle Nick thought he was feeling a little better today.
- Sun 25 A very lonesome day. No services at Union today. Rev. Palmer has gone to Apple River and Rev. Siston preaches at Council Hill and Station today. I went down to Tresidders awhile this afternoon.

March 1917

- Sun 11 Mother came home on the noon train [from Apple River]. Ruby + I met her when we went to church. Only John Tresidder, Wilbur Bastian, Ruby + I were the only ones there besides Rev. Palmer. Grandfather is quite a bit better.
- Sun 18 Mother and Ruby went to church this forenoon. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie came here to dinner. Feidler came ddown this afternoon and Tresidders came up so we had quite a crowd here.
- Sat 24 A lovely day. Ruby + I walked over the Station and went up to Scales Mound on the six train. We staid all night at Uncle Nick's. We went to the school play. Lucille Tresidder was in the play. We also went to the movies before the play.

April 1917

- Sat 7 Mother went to Galena today with Tresidders. took some eggs and got some supplies. Snowy this afternoon.
- Sun 15 Mother and Ruby went to church this forenoon. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie came down to dinner. This afternoon Tresidders came up this far in their car. Uncle Georges' [Dittmar] also came in this afternoon. Had quite a crowd here. They staid to supper all but Tresidders.
- Sun 22 A nice day. But the flies nearly eat a person up alive. This forenoon, John came up with his Ford. Milton to. Pa, Ruby + I rode up and down the bottom with him. He doesn't like to run only on the level. This afternoon we all went to church. Quite a few there. The anemonies are out. This evening we all went down to Tresidders.
- Fri 27 Well this is Grant's birthday. John Tresidder asked us to go to town [Galena] with them if we wanted to. So Ruby + I went with them this forenoon. Papa drove old Della in. A great crowd. A great parade. All the children in town marched and more I guess. We went up to the hall [Turner Hall]. A Mr. Lee. General Lee's son talked. Quite a nice speech. And a former Secretary of War spoke a short time. They had nice singing. Had quite a nice time. Hope our car will come soon. A sheep had a little lamb today.
- Sun 29 I got the toothache today. I didn't go to church. Pa + Ma + Ruby went this forenoon. Only they and Agnes, Milton and the minister there. Dark, cloudy + cold as usual again. It rained last night. We all went to Uncle Edd's to supper.

May 1917

- Fri 4 We churned today. I went up to Aunt Annies' this afternoon. But they had gone to town. So I called at Ethel's awhile. I called in at Agnes's and borrowed to yeast cakes.
- Sat 5 Dad went up to Scales Mound today. wanted to ask about the car. Mr. Grube thinks we may not get it till the first of August. I'm so disappointed. There is nine orders in ahead of ours. Mother chanced it to Galena today. Rode in with Blums in a Ford. Rode home with Tresidders. She purchased a new hat.

- Sat 12 Worked hard this forenoon. Ruby + I went to the school picnic. Rode up with John Tresidders in their car. Had a nice time. I think about forty there. Mary Feidler got a necklace for going to school. not missing a day or being tardy. This evening Rev. Palmer came to stay all night.
- Sun 13 Papa, Ruby + Mr. Palmer went to church. I was sick all day. Ruby went with Tresidders out for a ride this afternoon. Cars went by in great numbers today.
- Tue 15 Ma + Ruby whitewashed the both cellars today. I made bread. Dad + I went up on Tresidder jill and got asparagus roots this morning.
- Sun 20 We were ready to go to church this afternoon when Agnes called up and said some of us could go with them to Apple River. Ruby + I went along. Had a fine ride only it was quite cold. First time I ever went to Apple River by road.
- Mon 21 A band of gypsies went along here today. Very, very cold today. I went down to Tresidders and picked some asparagus today. Ma + Ruby made curtains for the dining room.

June 1917

- Fri 1 Mother went up to Aunt Annies' and I called at Tresidders. Then I picked asparagus.
- Sun 10 We all went to church this forenoon. I had to play the organ again! Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie came down to dinner. John Tresidder came up this afternoon for awhile. A lovely day.
- Wed 13 We ironed today. Agnes called up today saying they are going to Dubuque tomorrow. said some of us could go along.
- Thu 14 Well we got up early and Ruby + I went to Dubuque. I bought a skirt. navy blue for 4.98 Ruby bought a white waist and skirt 1.98 each. We had dinner at the Y.W.C.A.
- Sun 17 We all went to church this afternoon. Tresidders were up there with their car. Ruby and I rode down with them. Tresidders all came up here this evening. They say our car is up to Scales Mound.

July 1917

- Thu 5 Picking and putting up cherries again. Finished today. Put up thirty-six and one half quarts. We ate the half. This afternoon Milton broke his arm just above his wrist by falling off a load of hay. They called Mother down. Dr. Bench came out to set it.
- Fri 6 Mother went to Galena with John and Milton in the car this morning. Milton had to go in to the Dr. We washed today.
- Sun 15 A beautiful looking morning. We all got ready and went up to Scales Mound this morning. We went to the Methodist church. Lucille T was there. She asked us to go out to their place. And I guess we would. But the clouds were gathering and we were afraid it would rain so we came home again. We were going down to Tresidders' this evening but they weren't at home so we went up to Uncle Edds'.

- Sun 22 Ma, Ruby + I went to church this morning. Nobody there. only the minister came. After we got home it rained nearly all afternoon. Ma, Ruby + I went down to Tresidders tonight.
- Sun 29 Well this morning we autoed to Apple River. We went the north road. First time I was ever on that road. This evening Tresidders and Uncle Edd + Aunt Annie came down but we didn't get through with chores until a quarter of none so didn't have much time to visit.

August 1917

- Sun 12 Kind of rainy. It didn't look so bad this afternoon at church time So we went but nobody else there. Ma called at Tresidders awhile.
- Fri 24 This forenoon Al, Nancy + Mamma went up to Aunt Annie's. This evening they went down to Tresidders. So Dad, Ruby + I went down after we got through with chores.
- Wed 29 Well today is my twentieth birthday. Farewell teens.
- Thu 30 This forenoon Dad + Ruby went up to Roy Tresidder to see about getting some pigs. They drove the team. Then Roy's took them up to Shullsburg in their car. They didn't get home till nearly dark. Was quite worried about them.

September 1917

- Tue 11 There was quite a frost last night. Froze some things. Ma went down to Tresidders to get ready for the thrashers this afternoon. Dad had to go to help to. I washed the car today. Ruby ironed.
- Sun 16 We all went to church this morning. We went down to Tresidders to dinner. Mr. + Mrs. R. Virtue and Vera and Grandma Virtue were there. Also Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie. Uncle Edds' were on their way to church when they met a car. 'Old Bat' got scared and run away tipping over the buggy. Aunt Annie got hurt a little but nothing serious.
- Tue 25 Ma went to Dubuque today with Agnes, Blanche and Aunt Annie. John took them in. Ma bought a suit of black serge.

October 1917

- Wed 24 Ma, Ruby + I went over to Youngs' this afternoon. We walked across. Agnes and Blanche went with us. Quite a few there. Mrs. Young was quite surprised. Had a lap supper with lots to eat. We took sandwiches. Youngs' new house is a very nice house. Everything fixed up very fine. It was dark before we got home.
- Uncle Edd went to Chicago today with his, John Tippetts', Win's [Tippett], John Tresidder's, Joe Weis + Jim Ivey's cattle. Three car loads. Aunt Annie came down to stay till Uncle Edd comes home.
- Fri 26 Uncle Edd got home. I believe they struck quite a good market at Chicago for their cattle.

Sun 28 We all went to church this morning. Then we went up to Aunt Annies to dinner. After noon Tresidders came up there to. Raining a little this evening.

November 1917

Sun 11 This morning we all went to church. Came home. ate a lunch. got out the car drove to Scales Mound. From there called up Will Tresidders to ask if they were at home. They were, so we went out. They had company. Minnie's sister and husband and son. her brother and wife and another brother. The first time we were up there since I was a child I guess. Got home a little after dark. A very nice day.

Sun 18 We all went to church this afternoon. Took the car. First time we ever had it up church. Only Tresidders and us at church.

Sun 25 Dad, Ma + Ruby went to church. I staid at home. A anti saloon man spoke. Uncle Edd + Aunt Annie came down to dinner. Aunt Annie + Mamma went up to Uncle Nick's with Tresidders this afternoon. Grahams' and Monniers were there too.

Fri 30 We hauled in a load of corn and unloaded it also husked a few shocks of corn. We have twenty-five shocks left yet. Lucille Tresidder is to have a social at the Center school tonight.

December 1917

Mon 3 We finished husking corn today. Also hauled in and unloaded a load. Have another load to haul in. Agnes and Blanche came up this afternoon to get some lard.

Tue 11 About ten oclock this morning Central called up John Tippetts. said Alvin Hammers' house was on fire. Wanted them to tell the neighbors. Quite an excitement. Dad went over. Rode over with John Tresidder. The house was nearly burnt down when they got there. There was lots of men there. But wasn't there in time to save anything much. Only some of the things downstairs.

Thu 20 Uncle Edds' finished sawing wood this forenoon and Tresidders sawed this afternoon. Uncle Herman helped for us. Dad + Ruby finished hauling fodder.

Sun 23 Quite cloudy today. Dad went to church this forenoon. The minister was there and one other young man. But there was no fire and nobody else came so Dad came home. Afterward Uncle Edd + Aunt Annie + John Tresidders came [to the church]. It seems they couldn't get together so we didn't have any church. Uncle Edd and Aunt Annie came down here to dinner. We are invited up to Uncle Edds' for Christmas.

Tue 25 Christmas day. We went up to Aunt Annie's this forenoon. Win and Martha were there to. Had lots of good things to eat. Tresidders had been in to Herbert's when they came home. Agnes, Milton + Blanche staid up there. John, Win and Dad went home. Did the chores and came back for supper. After supper John and Ethel came over. Quite a crowd.

For Christmas I got five dollars from Mamma, fifty cents from Grandpa, perfume from

Early Times

Dad, mittens from Uncle Edds'. writing paper from Uncle Thomas's. A very clear bright Christmas. No snow. Quite a few cars on the road.

From:

Sun 30 Snowy today. We didn't go to church today. Agnes called up this afternoon. wanted us to come down to supper. Didn't know if we should or not. We went. The kids had their Xmas tree lit up awhile.

I didn't say I could PAINT! I said much about with woodwork!! - Seriously, if you can paint - When I was at Grammar school over 50 yrs ago I clearly remember my art teacher walking away from my work shaking his head in a very sad sort of way, as did my woodwork master and Physics teacher and Maths teacher (was in the kitchen at) - I have taught senior Physics, done University work in integrated and Differential Calc, I've planned, towed a motor & installed & repaired full car air heating- advice & all, plastered walls etc etc. Not blowing my own trumpet, but just saying- if you want to do something - just do it - After all we only use 3-4 % of the brain so the more left in - The kiss of the sun for garden, The song of the birds for night, There is more of God's heart in a garden, than anywhere else on earth - Dunno who wrote it but it's true. All ye for him- my x2 g of were all nurserymen, some even went to Australia & did g - you just beat out with my hands in the dirt as well. Love you!

So heart-touched by your news about your husband. My wife Virginia has been the originator of some residential homes & so I've seen something of the effects of Parkinson's. Let's pray that the new treatment on the way, be effective and available in time for your dearest friend. We remember you all in our prayers.

We have had an email tonight inviting us back to minister in N. India. We need to pray in the months as for less time - we are confident that it will be a God's thing. Am longing to get back to Christian Fellowship!

Am now using Master Genealogist and copying Gedcoms from Brothers Keeper. Alas, all the notes and references have to be individually rewritten as TNG catches the tedious task, and now only done THUS FAR. Still have the numerous TRESIDDERs to do when the other is completed (I allow the yr 1850 I reckon). Find self writing, going with Jimmy, eyes at 100 & wondering Why I'm doing it. Must have a gift for my mother somewhere.

OK, correctly, your Joel [sic above Joel] m. Mary Duntzon and had Mary Jane Tresedder who m. Nels Jensen and Joel. At one point in time you had given me the dates on Joel & Mary- this is part of my data I lost when my computer was Chernobyl'd two or so years ago. Could you possibly refresh my memory on your line... And where does our line connect back?

Did the Joel in the Galena Poor House ever get connected to the line?

On Milton Tresedder

I believe he was the s/o John W. Tresedder of the Vm and Elizabeth [Eliza] Tresedder you just clarified for me.

See attached 2nd photo, glad the first one came thru for you. Also, Joann Schultz in Scates Mound sent this to Karlie-do you know how this William connects?

Dear Lucy, Thanks for the forward. It's filled in another gap for me. William was bap 1829 & is brother to Joel. Their mother Elizabeth was a widow in 1842 so obviously William took them all out to a better life. As Joel was reported in the 1851 census as being "in America" I presume that William was there with him. Joel's wife & 2 children were still in Wendron 1851, so now we know that William returned to collect them all.

Do you know who the Milton Tressidor in the photo is?

Best wishes, Stephen

He suffered much from physical afflictions in the latter year of his earthly pilgrimage. He ws converted to God at the early age of 14 and has ever since been an enthusiastic follower of the meek and lowly Jesus and a faithful and active member of the Methodist church. In his departure the church militant meets with a great loss, but it means great gain to the church triumphant. May his sainted memory long remain in this church to be an inspiring force in the hearts and lives of those that remain urging on to higher and holier achievements in the work which he loved. His triumphant spirit took its flight on the evening of Feb. 36? 1897. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord yea saith the spirit etc." He came to this country poor, but was full of ambition, and succeeded nicely. He was a very zealous Christian. Besides his companion, four, young men are left to mourn W.T. Tresidder, Wilbur, John and LeRoy.

As far as I can tell, this is the outline of the descendants of William Tresidder:

- 1 William Tresidder b: Abt. 1829 in England d: February 26, 1897
- +Elizabeth b: Abt. 1840 in England d: March 30, 1912
- 2 Joel Tresidder

- 3 Gladys Lucille Tresidder b: January 13, 1899
- 3 William R. Tresidder b: Abt. 1895
- 2 John Tresidder b: Abt. 1873
- 2 Wilber Tresidder b: 1875
- 2 LeRoy Tresidder b: 1877 d: 1968
- +Mabel Arenth Smart b: 1881 m: February 25, 1903 in Jo Daviess Co., IL d: 1937

Gorhemmyrnadow - Greetings- Lucy & Roberta,
 Please let me have more challenges like this! This is my x3 great uncle Richard TRESEDER, born abt 8 miles from where I sit writing this. I have some data (including the material that you sent, Lucy, from Allen Co Public Lib, Indiana) but these details add more to his story. I'm most grateful.

He lied about his age at naturalisation as he knew full well when he was born. His bros, my x2 gt gfa Stephen, and James were witnesses at his marriage. However, he couldn't sign his name!

Does anyone know if the Galena Gazette is still extant? It would be nice to contact them and see if they could provide some photocopies of items about Richard & family. If not, could SKS suggest where the material is held?

One point of interest. According to a granddau of Richard - Mrs Helen Pangbourne White, passed via a cousin of mine -, he died in Iowa 1883. Obviously this is incorrect according to this info.

Best wishes, Stephen

Hi,

Saw your entry in Genforum.

I have the IGI for Cornwall and searched for your Joel and this is the result:-

Joel Tresidder baptised 31 Feb 1823 Helston son of Thomas Tresidder and Elizabeth

No marriage date but:-

Noel Tresidder bp.27 Aug 1846 Stithians Wesleyan Methodists.

Mary Jane Tresidder bp.27 Aug 1846 Stithians Wesleyan Methodists.

Shown as children of Joel and Mary.

Elizabeth Tresidder baptised 31 Jan 1832 Camborne Circuit Wesleyan dau of Thomas and Elizabeth.

There isn't a Mary Dunstan b.1823 at Gwennap in the IGI but in view of the above this may be her:-

Mary Dunstan bp.6 Jan 1825 Helston Circuit Wesleyan dau of Matthias Dunstan and Ann Rogers who married 15 Jun 1822 Constantine.

Or Mary Dunstan bp.18 Apr 1825 Stithians dau of Thomas Dunstan and Grace.

Or Mary Dunstan bp.26 Aug 1824 Stithians dau of Clarinda Dunstan.

Clarinda bp.5 Oct 1800 dau of Thomas Dunstan and Elizabeth Martin.

Hello Lucy!

 See the IL Archives at www.cyberdriveillinois.com/departments/archives/jodavalms.html

then put the name in the search box (Last, First).

You can get a copy of the record from the archive library in DeKalb IL (NIU)

Hope this helps

Hello again Stephen, Thank you for your response. The Joel Tresidder aged 30 in 1860 would probably be too young for my Mary Jane's father since she was born in 1846. I wondered too about Elizabeth being ten yrs. older..not too common, but I have some other ancestors where the wife is quite a bit older. With names such as Thomas and Elizabeth, it is so difficult to determine if we have the right one. With Joel, I was a little more confident, since the name didn't seem to be as common. I'll have to try and access the Cornish strays. I used to subscribe to another Cornish list, but when the talk turned to everything but genealogy, I unsubscribed. Thank you so much for all the help you have given me. Roberta has helped too, perhaps if we pick up all these little clues, we can work the puzzle ...but isn't that half the fun of doing genealogy..never being finished??? Have a good weekend.

Gorhemmyrnadow Lucy,

Roberta has also very kindly sent me a lot of sources in Galena, & I am very grateful to you both.

Elizabeth is in the 1851 census with Mary (Dunstan) aged 28 and her 2 ch Joel, 7 & Mary Jane, 5. No men recorded at all.

I have Thomas' burial in 1842 'of Carnkye, aged 44'. He is abt the right age, being aged 40 in the 1841 (which of course, rounded - down ages to the nearest 5 years).

Elizabeth is aged 68 in 1851 but I wonder if that is an error in transcription (keep finding so many) as it would make her some 10 years older than Thomas. maybe it should be '58'.

Are you able to access the Cornish Strays collected by Richard & June Ross? They are in the CFHS but so many folders I haven't had time to go through them all yet. Maybe you would find Joel there. I don't know whether you sent me this:

Algonquin twnshp, Antanagon Co Michigan 1860 census 26 June page 131. 'Joel Tresidder, 30, married, miner, bn England'

There is no record in the GRO Deaths in UK. (I have all of them for T's). so presume he stayed in USA, even if he did return to collect his family.

There is a death record for an Elizabeth T in 1868, reg at Falmouth, aged 79, which makes her bn abt 1789. Could this be she? There is a number of other record for Elizabeths prior to this but, alas, no ages given. Next time I'm in the CFHS I intend to go through the burials index, so will look out for Lizzie.

Dew genes, Stephen.

Stephen, Hope you received the Galena Gazettes addresses ok. I was wondering how you knew that Joel Tresidder's mother Elizabeth was a widow in 1842. Also I am wondering if Joel went back to Cornwall from the U.S. when his brother William did. From the information that Mary Jane Tresidder Jensen gave on the census, she didn't come over to the U.S. until abt. 1866(if I recall correctly) and her brother Joel in 1868, so it makes me think her mother didn't come over earlier or maybe didn't come at all. I can't seem to find hide nor hair of Joel or Mary Dunstan Tresidder in the USA.. Any thoughts on this?

TRAIN CRASHES INTO AUTO

Milo and Robert Jenson, Sons of Mr. & Mrs. Carl Jenson, Die from Injuries -- Others Badly Hurt

Saturday night the west bound flyer struck an automobile driven by Will Rampenthal of Nora. The car contained Mr. & Mrs. Carl Jenson and sons Milo and Robert, their son-in-law and daughter Mr. & Mrs. Will Rampenthal of Nora, and Mr. Jenson's brother, Wilbur Jenson of this city. The list of dead and injured are as follows:

Milo Jenson, aged 14, dead.

Robert Jenson, aged 12, dead.

Carl Jenson, the father, fractured spine and fractured limb.

Mrs. Carl Jenson, the mother, dislocated ankle, fractured sternum.

Wilbur Jenson, fractured pelvis, ruptured bladder, fractured arm.

Will Rampenthal, fractured skull, fractured limb.

Mrs. Will Rampenthal, Knees badly bruised.

The auto party was returning to their home on the Miner farm near Nora, having attended the movies in Warren. The accident occurred at the Main street crossing, the supposition being that the driver could not see the approaching train owing to the buildings and box cars obstructing the view. Witnesses of the accident say that the automobile was thrown up in the air to the height of the train engine. The bodies of Rampenthal and Milo Jenson were hurled across the sidewalk and the other members of the ill-fated party were found in the wreckage. The injured were placed on the train and taken to the Dubuque hospital. Milo, whose hip was crushed, left limb broken in two places sustaining scalp wounds and internal injuries, died about 15 minutes after being placed on the train. His body was removed to the Meyer's undertaking parlors. His brother Robert Jenson, passed away at nine o'clock Sunday morning, death resulting from a fractured skull and internal injuries. He died at the Dubuque hospital. Drs. Renwick and Keller of this city accompanied the injured men and women to Dubuque.

An inquest was held over the two bodies at Meyer's undertaking parlors Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The jurors were, W.E. Stackpole, foreman, J. J. Walton, T. T. Miller, John Rowe, Ed Costello, and Tom Simpson. The verdict given stated cause of death was from being struck by the Illinois Central west-bound train No. 11, Saturday Nov. 17.

The funeral of the boys was held at the undertaking rooms Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and was largely attended. School at Nora was closed giving the school children the privilege of attending the funeral. Eighteen classmates acted as pall bearers and guards. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The father of the dead boys has not yet been told of their demise and his repeated inquiries are as to their safety.

At latest reports, Mrs. Jenson and Mrs. Rampenthal are able to sit up. The condition of the men folk remains about the same. They are regarded as being in a very critical state, and with one chance in a thousand for recovery.

The deplorable accident has thrown all Warren and Nora in deepest sympathy for the afflicted family. They were hastening home Saturday night to make preparations to spend Sunday with Albert Jenson of Nora and had driven to Warren to get Wilbur to join them. A queer coincidence with the accident is that the Jenson family had left Chatelle's music store before the tragedy. Mr. Chatell was the last person they talked with--it will be remembered that he met with a similar accident a year ago. The conductor on the train that struck the Jenson family was the same one making the run when Mr. Chattel and party met with their accident. The engineer and fireman were the same ones on the train that caused the death of the I.W.W. member at the edge of town several months ago.

It would seem that Saturday night's tragedy would plainly present the need of better protection at the railroad crossings in Warren. There are very few crossings in this town where the approach of a train may be seen before one is right upon the track. Surely human lives are too valuable to be sacrificed in this way when a little precaution would help decrease accidents of this kind. Let this serve as a warning whereby the proper officials will take the matter in charge and place some sort of signal at the dangerous crossings in Warren and at the edges of town.

DEATH CLAIMS THIRD VICTIM Wilbur Jenson of Warren, Passes Away at Dubuque Hospital Sunday Evening at 5:55 O'clock

Wilbur Jenson, youngest son of Mr. & Mrs. I. Jenson of this city, passed away at the Dubuque hospital Sunday evening at 5:55 o'clock. This makes the third death in the family resulting from the auto accident in Warren Nov. 17. His demise was caused by a fractured pelvis and ruptured bladder sustained in the accident at the Main street crossing just a week and one day ago.

Wilbur's death is a keen blow to the widowed mother, sisters, brothers and many friends in Warren. While of a reticent nature, Wilbur was known as a fine young man, one upon who great dependancy could be placed. His honesty and careful attention to small details made him a valuable employee to those who might have occasion to entrust their business affairs to him. He was the chief support of his mother and was constantly concerned in her welfare.

Wilbur was born in Warren Sept. 21, 1886 and lived here the greatest part of his life. Since his father's death he has been in charge of the Jenson tailor shop in Warren. The funeral was held at the M. E. church at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Interment was made in Elmwood cemetery.

Hi Lucy,

I saw your name on the Cornish Surname Index as researching Dunstan from Gwennap. I am searching for my gggrandmother Elizabeth Ann Dunstan b abt. 1840. She married Joseph Millsb abt. 1840. Unfortunately, I have not been able to find exactly where either were born. I suspect that Elizabeth and children appear in Gwennap in 1871 Census from the Kindred Konnections web site. I know they had a daughter Minnie and son Joseph (my gggrandfather). Not sure about Kate though-never heard any mention of her. Have you seen any reference to Elizabeth Ann Dunstan ? I would appreciate any help or suggestions that you may be able to offer.

Hi Lucy.

Thanks for your quick reply.

I'm sending my database which, of course, is a work in progress. Don't have all dates for John and Estella Allen's children, their grand children and greats. There are some names missing, too I know some of my generation has had more kids than I have listed. I have to get these cousins to fill out group sheets for me.

I was busy cleaning up my mail folders last night. Deleted your message before I got it printed. Could you please resend it? Thanks so much for the bother!

The info I have on John and Catherine Rowling Tresidder comes from Roberta Bell Wolfe.

Hi Lucy!

I ran across this bio in the 1878 county directory. I didn't know if you had it.

TRUDGIAN, MRS. MARY T.

Farming; Sec. 7; P. O. Galena; born in Cornwall, England, May 23, 1825; Widow of Joseph Trudgian who died June 3, 1857, age 45 years; they were married in Cornwall, England, Dec. 25, 1845; came to this Co. 1854; owns 160 acres of land; she has five children living: Joseph, Nicholas, Samuel, Thomas and Charles; Mr. T. had two by a former marriage: Eliza (now Mrs. Tressider, of Scales Mound), and William (who was in the army); he died in the hospital at Nashville, Tenn., in 1864; Family belong to the M. E. Church.

Charles Trudgian married Amelia Dittmar, my mother-in-law's aunt. It was their daughter, Lillian, who collected all the newspaper clippings and wrote the diary that I am transcribing.

Roberta Wolfe is going to be in the area this week and we have plans to get together. It will be great to finally meet her in person.

I haven't forgotten your Brown's. I just have to make time to get to the village hall and do the looking in the cemetery indexes. I just went full time on my job and it is leaving me precious little time for the important things in life.....like genealogy and sewing! <G>

I better get to bed.....5:30 comes awfully early! Hope all is well with you.

Hi Lucy!

Did you get the clippings okay? Sorry there wasn't more. But now I have something even better!

We were up to the farm Monday and my mother-in-law and I were looking thru a storage room-trying to find my husband's teddy bear (believe it or not). Anyway, there was a plastic bag of old books. Mary said they were part of Lillian Trudgian's things. Lillian is the lady who collected the clippings. One of these books was a diary covering 1916 and 1917. There is an entry for every day and many mention John and Agnes, Milton and Blanche. Also Lucille, Will and Minnie, and Roy Tresidder.

As I read thru the diary, I hand copied the entries that mentioned any of the Tresidders. In long-hand there are 19 pages!

My handwriting is sometimes difficult so I will type it all up and then get it sent off to you. It will probably take me awhile to get it all done. But I'll keep you posted on the progress.

More to come

Hi Lucy!

I was up to my mother-in-law's last weekend. She lives half way between Apple River and Scales Mound on the Stagecoach Trail blacktop. Her grandmother was an Atz and we were going over what I had so far in that database. We got talking about how we had a family connection even before I married Bill. (My grandfather's first cousin, Laura Boldt m. Clifford Dittmar, Mary's first cousin). She wondered where my Boldt's came in. When I said that Myron Boldt married Eunice Allen, daughter of John Allen and Stella Tresidder, she said one of her Dittmar cousins married a Trudgian who had Tresidder connections. (I think I remember it right, anyway. Should have wrote it down!) Well, anyway--

She has 'a box' of clippings, and possibly pictures, of these Trudgians and Tresidders. When the cousin died, no one wanted 'that old stuff' so Mary took it home. I think Mary is the Original Packrat. She even has the bill of sale for a car her parents bought in the 1930s- and the registration!

I told Mary that the Scales Mound Tresidders weren't in my direct line but there was most likely some connection back in Cornwall, tho we hadn't found it yet. Also told her about you researching the Scales Mound line and that you would most likely love to have copies of what she has.

Mary said she wasn't quite sure where the box was just then but would look for it. We will be up to the farm again this weekend, so I'll see if she has found it yet. I'll make copies of everything for you when I get it.

Can you give me your postal so I can forward the copies?

Have a great day!

Hi Lucy -

I had to take a break from sewing so I thought I would get these clippings in the mail.

Re: Largest clipping - Mrs. Trudgian had probably saved the church article. But on the reverse is 'Scales Mound' news. An item about the new school year mentions the Tresidder School.

It's too bad she didn't write the date on all the articles. I did find some great stuff pertaining to my maternal line, tho.

I logged onto the Ellis Island site tonight. I was real disappointed that the records don't go back far enough for what I need.

Hope you enjoy the clippings ☺

A HISTORIC CHURCH IN A HISTORIC COMMUNITY

Thousands of tourists from every section of the states, who travel Federal Highway Number 20, stop for a time in Galena. They constantly remark that it has the most beautiful surroundings in the Mississippi Valley. To this the proud old time Galenian will agree, and perhaps add: "Well, God might have made a better place, but He never did."

If you turn to the historical sources of the new territory and territory adjoining, you will learn that the country around Galena has a history dating back more than 235 years. In 1700 Le Seur, the French explorer, found Indians mining lead ore on the Fever river, now known as the Galena. In 1788 the wife of Peosta, an Indian warrior, discovered lead near the Mississippi. In 1788 the Indians permitted Julian Dubuque to work that mine or any other without interference. In 1796 Dubuque worked several mines in the region of the city, which bears his name. The U. S. government knew the value of these mines at the time it made the Louisiana purchase but could not reserve them for leasing until it had arranged satisfactory treaties with the Indians, who were the original miners and who were slow in acknowledging the new ownership of the U. S. By 1816 it succeeded in removing the Indians to lands, north of a line running west from the southern extremity of Lake Michigan to the Mississippi river, excepting that territory in northwestern Illinois of which the Fever or Galena river was the center. This it set aside as a military post.

Under the supervision of the U. S. government the development of Galena began. There were three periods.

1. The first came in 1822 when the government began the policy of leasing. Soon there was an immigration from all sections. Here are certain census returns: In 1826 Galena had 20 log cabins and 150 people; in 1828, 100 houses and 800 people; in 1832 160 houses and 1000 people.

There were times when mining was halted by attacks from the Indians, who swarmed the wilderness. The greatest trouble came in 1832 when Black Hawk and his followers carried on warfare throughout northwestern Illinois. The government routed the Indians and removed them to other territory. After 1832 the social life in this region became more secure.

2. The second period came in 1835. About this time the government offered for sale a large section of farm lands. For several years there was a general rush of emigrants, whose coming meant a permanent population. There naturally follow in 1839 the incorporation of Galena, the setting up of a city government in 1841, and the establishment of banks by Nathan Corwith and James Carter in 1843. In spite of the large amount of fiat money in circulation these bankers operated with success.

3. The third period came in 1848 when the government sold over 25,000 acres of mine lands to settlers for $125,000. Steamboats landed every day, crowded to the limit with new comers. In one year the population of Jo Daviess county doubled. By 1850 Galena had a population of 15,000. Remember that in 1826 it had only 150 people.

This great increase in population and large expansion of the mining industry led to several important developments. First, the Illinois Central extended its Chicago-Freeport line to Galena. Second, Galena capitalists established a barge line, that carried the millions of tons of ore up and down the river and also a packet line that operated between St. Paul and St. Louis. Pictures testify that 20 or more steamers docked daily in Galena receiving and discharging passengers and freight.

One day a very modest, silent man walked ashore with his wife and four children. Very little was known about him except that he had resigned from the army, had tried farming without success, and had come to Galena to accept a clerkship in his father's store at a salary of $600 a year. In the same taciturn manner he pursued his daily routine of work. But when the war broke out he was alert and ready for action. At first his offers for services were rebuffed, but he was finally offered the Colonelcy of the 21st Regiment of Illinois. He quietly packed his grip and took the train, unnoticed and unhonored. The rest of the story is known to all. When the Civil War ended General Ulysses S. Grant was the nation's hero. He received a great ovation in Galena and was presented with a fine home. Today this home is the property of the state of Illinois. It is visited annually by one hundred thousand people, while a greater number pass in and out of his tomb on Riverside Drive, New York.

The romance and adventure of this period are splendidly described and narrated in the novel, "The Bright Land," by Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbanks. My observation is that this novel has brought 75 per cent of our visitors to Galena the past three summers. I know for I have personally met over 4,000 people at our church. Get this novel out of your library, read it, and then come to Galena.

Among those that settled in Galena in 1835 were a few devoted members of the Anglican church. That year they built a small wooden church. But in 1837 it had the great honor of receiving and housing the first pipe organ ever shipped to the west. It came all the way from New York by water. It is said that Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, who visited Galena in 1835, helped in its purchase. It is still in use.

By 1850 Grace parish was composed of a congregation of loyal, reverent and educated people. They had a wholesome and refined appreciation of the beauty and tradition of the Anglican church. More than that, they wanted a church, which would conform to the best type of Anglican architecture and they sacrificed to get it. They brought to Galena the best known architect they could find—C. N. Otis of Buffalo, who had been trained by the great Hobart Upjohn, the architect and builder of Trinity church, New York. He finished a perfect church in 1850, when it was dedicated by the Rt. Rev. Philander Chase, the first Bishop of Illinois.

Stephen Blanchard, the hero of the novel, "The Bright Land," belonged to this church in these adventurous times. He said that he preferred the Episcopal church because it least interfered with his pleasures. Now that is a big truth factiously stated. That is, the Episcopal church has always allowed a wholesome and sane liberty to its clergy and members. In later years the daughter of Stephen Blanchard is married in Grace church before the simple altar, which was consecrated by the pioneer bishop.

Artistic appreciation was even stronger in the children of the founders, who constituted the congregation in the "gay nineties." They gave liberally of their means in completing Grace church as a place where God would be worshiped "in beauty and holiness." They secured R. Geissler of New York, the premier artist in three fields, to carve from black walnut the rare altar and revedos, to design and install five stained glass windows, and to fashion several brass memorials. He has left a heritage of the finest workmanship. Later the descendants invited Marshall Field and Company to send their most skilled artists to decorate the chancel, sanctuary and body of the church. When all this was done Grace church became one of the most beautiful Episcopal churches in the middle west.

This little stone church is annually visited by three thousand tourists. Jew or Gentile, Protestant and Roman Catholic, artist and artisan, wise and humble, come and go, thrilled by its reverent beauty. I urge all who are listening to make the pilgrimage, come and see this historic community and historic church. I especially invite you to our eleven o'clock Sunday service, and I suggest that before you leave you say a prayer that its congregation and priest may continue to bear witness to the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. Come in the spirit of the Psalmist, when he says:

"Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord; or who shall rise up in His holy place? Even he that hath clean hands and a pure heart, that hath not lifted up his mind to vanity, nor sworn to deceive his neighbor."

OBITUARY

Eliza Tresidder.

Eliza Trudgian was born at St. Austel, Cornwall, England, Jan. 17, 1846, and came with her parents to this country in the spring of 1852. The family settled on a farm in Guilford township where she lived with her parents until her marriage Nov. 18, 1864, to Wm. Tresidder. After spending one year on a farm in East Galena, they moved in March 1865, to a farm near Scales Mound where they lived until Nov. 1891. They then moved to the village of Scales Mound, where she resided until the time of her death, March 30, 1912, being 72 years, 2 months and 19 days old. Her husband preceded her to the better land fifteen years ago. To this union were born six children, two dying in childhood. Four sons are left to mourn the loss of a good mother. They are Wm. T. and Leroy J. of Scales Mound, John W. of East Galena and Wilbur C. of Conington, Okla. She also leaves to mourn her departure five brothers, viz. Joseph Trudgian, Tenino, Washington, Nicholas T. of Scales Mound, Samuel B. of Colorado, Thomas A. of Waterloo, Ia., and Charles of Guilford. Her religious life dates back a period of over forty-five years. She was always active in all church work, whenever health and circumstances would permit. She was a great sufferer for many years before her death, but bore it all with patience. She was ready, prepared and willing to go at the Master's call, and now has gone to the land of the redeemed. No pain, no suffering, no sorrow there. Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Tuesday April 2nd. Her pastor Rev. R. W. Van Alstyne officiating, taking for his text Isaiah, sixty-fourth chapter, and the latter part of the sixth verse, "And We All Do Fade as a Leaf." After which interment was made in the Scales Mound cemetery.

MRS. W.T. TRESIDDER, OF SCALES MOUND, DIES

Mrs. W. T. Tresidder passed away Tuesday evening June 21 at Finley Hospital where she had been a patient one day. Funeral service will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Church at Scales Mound.

She is survived by one daughter Mrs. William Thompson (Lucille) and 4 grandchildren. Pat and John Thompson and Joyce and Glenn Tresidder, one sister and two brothers. She was preceded in death by her husband early this spring.

Americans borrow some 500 million books a year from libraries.

Mrs. Eliza Tresidder passed away at her home in this village at eleven o'clock last Saturday night, March 30. Mrs. Tresidder had been in delicate health for many months. Her age was 72 years, 2 months and 19 days. Four sons are left to mourn the loss of a good mother. They are W. T. and L. J. of this township, J. W. of East Galena and Wilbur of Covington, Okla. One son and one daughter died when quite young. Funeral services were conducted at the M. E. church last Tuesday morning by Rev. R. W. Van Alstyne. Interment was made in Scales Mound cemetery by the side of her husband who died fifteen years ago. All the sons and their families except Wilbur were present at the solemn services, also her brothers, Nicholas Trudgian of this village, Charles of Guilford township, Thomas of Waterloo, Ia., and their wives, besides many other relatives. A more complete obituary will be published later. The pall bearers were Thomas Simcox, Alfred Boyie, Peter Perry, T. H. Hicks, John Glanville and Ira Smart.

Wed in East Galena.

A quiet but pretty wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bastian in East Galena on Wednesday March 22, at 7 o'clock p. m. The contracting parties being their daughter Agnes A. and Mr. John W. Tresidder of Scales Mound.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. F. Hardy of Council Hill in the presence of a few friends. The bride was becomingly attired in a brown traveling suit and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bastian, and is a most amiable young lady and is held in high esteem in the community in which she resides. The groom is one of Scales Mound's respected and industrious young men and well worthy of the one whom he has won.

Mr. and Mrs. Tresidder will make their home on a farm near Scales Mound.

Condemnation Suit Ordered By Board

In order to acquire the right-of-way necessary for the construction of the Galena-Scales Mound road the board of supervisors before adjournment last Thursday passed a resolution instructing state's attorney Donald Eaton to begin a condemnation suit against William Tresidder, East Galena. His price for approximately three acres of land necessary for the construction of the road is $5,000.

MITCHELL'S CREEK (An extract from "Sunny Corner - A Silver Town of the 1880's by Vicki Powys)

(William Henry, Mary Jane and Richard Wearne and most likely William Daniel Wearne first settled at Mitchell's Creek on arrival in Australia. William Charles; Grace and Peter Wearne Pascoe were born at Mitchell Creek before the family moved to the gold fields in Victoria. Richard Wearne registered the birth of William Charles Pascoe and as William D. Wearne died in New South Wales in 1864 in was probably around the Mitchell's Creek area)

In the early days of Mitchell's Creek

During the 1850's, miners following the gold rushes passed through this district, and tried their luck panning for gold in Mitchell's Creek. They were most successful. The gold had been washed down from the reefs of Big Hill and Little Hill, and these reefs were mined in later years. Mitchell's Creek was named after the State's Surveyor-General, Sir Thomas Mitchell, and the area became the centre of a new gold mining settlement.

This settlement at Mitchell's Creek was two kilometres west of the present township of Sunny Corner.

It is estimated that in its heyday, Mitchell's Creek would have given sanctuary to perhaps 2000 people, the miners wearing red shirts and cabbage-tree hats (straw hats). It is hard to imagine such a scene of bustling activity today, as nearly all of the area where the miners would have worked is now a silent pine forest plantation.

The scene would probably have been typical of those in other gold rush areas, with the miners and their families living in tents or makeshift dwellings, and hastily built shops catering to their needs.

The settlement took on a more permanent look when about a dozen stamper batteries were installed along the creeks. Individuals began to band together to form syndicates. Those miners who stayed on at Mitchell's Creek into the 1860's built cottages and cultivated vegetable plots, and a small township became established.

The post office opened in 1862, a police station before 1863, and a school in 1864. The church there was probably built in the early 1860's and there were two hotels and several stores at that time. By the mid 1860's the population had dropped dramatically from Mr Lean's 1850's estimate of 2000 people. By 1866 the population was officially 300, and by 1875 the population was only 150. As the gold became more difficult to obtain, the miners had moved on.

Today, there are just two homes at Mitchell's Creek, or West Mitchell as it is now known. One of these is the old school residence, built around 1878, and the other is a new home incorporating a small general store."

Martin, ball boy Jackson Stambaugh, king nominees senior Noah Frost and senior Peter Elliott and sophomore escort Evan Guilford. The homecoming game is Friday when the Pilots will face Green Meadows Conference rival Holgate at Craig McCord Field. The dance is set for Saturday from 7:30-10:30 p.m. at the high school with the theme for the event being "Arabian Nights."

Vera Lee

DESHLER — Vera Ann Lee, 94, of Deshler, Ohio, died Monday evening, February 14, 2011, at Bluffton Mennonite Home, Bluffton, Ohio.

She was born November 6, 1916, in Henry County, Ohio, to the late William and Elizabeth "Rose" (Zinser) Nolan. On December 18, 1936, she married Alson "Abe" Lee and he preceded her in death on March 18, 1981. Vera was a 1934 graduate of Deshler High School and an original employee of the former Deshler Products/Sherwin Williams. She worked from its opening in 1953 until retiring in 1977. She was a member of Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, Deshler.

with love.*

"God's Garden"

*God looked around his garden
And found an empty place.
He then looked down upon the earth
And saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you
And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful
He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering
He knew that you were in pain.
He knew that you would never Get well on earth again.
He saw the road was getting rough
And the hills were hard to climb.
So He closed your weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine."
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone.
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.*

PRAYER OF ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI

Lord make me an instrument of Thy peace.

Where there is hatred, let me sow love.

Where there is injury, pardon.

Where there is doubt, faith.

Where there is despair, hope.

Where there is darkness, light.

Where there is sadness, Joy.

O Divine Master; grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love; for it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

JOSEPH BUCHERT, proprietor hotel and farmer, Jackson Township, a native of Dearborn County, born in 1832, is a son of Peter and Mary (EGBY) BUCHERT, he a native of Germany and she of France. They were married in France, and in 1826, with a family of five children, immigrated to America, landing at New York; thence by team came to Cincinnati where they remained one year, and in the fall of 1827 came to Dearborn County, Ind., and purchased forty-six acres of land on the southeast quarter of Section 30 in Jackson Township, upon which he resided through life. When he located upon this land there was but little cleared, upon which a log-cabin into which they moved and commenced their pioneer work. Their first milling was done on the Whitewater, corn bread and meat being their principal articles of food. Subsequently he purchased more land, erected a good log-house, and before his death he had a good farm and comfortable home. After Mr. BUCHERT had purchased his land and moved on to it with his family he had $4.75 left. all the money he had in the world, and no way to get any more but to make from the land, then all in the woods- a condition which would discourage most men of the present day. But the result of his life proved him equal to the undertaking. The first plow he had bought on his way back from Cincinnati; also the first grindstone he brought in the same way. He died in February 1854, aged seventy-five years. His wife survived him and died September 24, 1874, aged eighty -three years. They were parents of eleven children. All grew to maturity, married and had families, six now living: Frances, now widow MILLER; Joseph; Catharine, wife of Frank SINDERBERGER, residing in Cincinnati; Elizabeth, wife of M. HOFFRIDER, residing at Los Angeles, Cal; Caroline, wife of Charles SCHOTT, living in Shelby County, Ind. and Morton, also in Shelby County. The latter married and resided in Jackson Township until the spring of 1883, when he removed to Shelby County. In 1880 he was elected township trustee and had served three years. After he moved away his brother Joseph, was appointed to serve the balance of the unexpired term. Those deceased were Peter, Mary, who married Joseph BRANDT; Anna, who married Lawrence SIEFORT, John and Terris, the latter married John Idoux. In the spring of 1859 Mr. BUCHERT purchased one acre of land upon which was a large building, part log and part frame. Here in partnership with John Medosch he opened out a hotel and grocery. Soon after Mr. BUCHERT bought the interest of his partner and continued the business till 1876, when he closed out his grocery stock, erected his present large and commodious brick house in which he has continued the hotel business to the present day. In 1856 Mr. BUCHERT made a trip to California and returned in 1859, prior to the purchase above mentioned. Mr. BUCHERT started in life with very little capital. Now he owns 111 acres of land and has one of the best and largest brick houses in Jackson Township, with other good improvements, the result of industry and carefully conducted business.

HISTORY OF DEARBORN AND OHIO COUNTIES, INDIANA-1885

SUBMITTED BY: Jackie DeCamp

GEORGE P. BUELL, of Lawrenceburgh, was born in Scipio, Cayuga County, N.Y., in 1801. He moved to Indiana in 1820 with his father, Judge Salmon BUELL, who had come West to invest the remnant of a fortune. Judge BUELL'S large family scattered through the Western States of Ohio and Indiana; Barnum and Salmon D. BUELL in Marietta, and George P. and Almira DUNN at Lawrenceburgh. Our subject, in 1820, in connection with his brother-in-law, Luther GEER, who had been a wealthy merchant of Utica, N.Y., brought a large stock of goods to the village of Lawrenceburgh and embarked in business. At this time very little attention had been paid to the raising of hogs, although the country about the place of his adoption was particularly adapted for that feature of agriculture, and hogs were exceedingly low, owing to the difficulty in getting them to market. While pork here was only bringing from $1 to $1.50 per barrel, it commanded the high price in New York City of from $10 to $11 per barrel. Mr. BUELL at once, on his arrival, began purchasing all the hogs in the surrounding country, had them slaughtered and packed into barrels, and taken by impromptu boats to New Orleans and thence conveyed by ships to New York City. This is said to have been the first experiment in the West, that later opened up the way and led to that very important trade and commercial enterprise which for many years made Cincinnati famous, and gave her the soubriquet of "Porkopolis". This first enterprise of the kind in the West made by Mr. BUELL proved so successful that he continued the business at Lawrenceburgh, and thereby furnished a home market for this character of agricultural product, which induced the farmers in the Miami Valley to engage extensively in the raising of hogs. For a number of years Lawrenceburgh was the center and monopoly of trade in pork packing and shipping to distant markets, exceeding and preceding this branch of business at Cincinnati. In this business Mr. BUELL continued for many years, having at different times associated with him as partners Robert Buchanan and James M. Armstrong, president of the Commercial Bank of Cincinnati. To Mr. BUELL, James H. and Geo. W. Lane each were indebted for their start in life, as he gave them their first start in business, the latter of whom, it may be said, in due appreciation of the many kindnesses received at Mr. BUELL'S hands, and from the admiration he had for the man, and respect for his memory, here preserves the facts connected with the beginning of the Western pork trade, giving credit to him to whom it justly belongs. Mr. BUELL was twice married. His first wife was Ann LANE, who died in 1844, after they had lived happily together for twenty years. He, being left with seven little children, in 1845 married Mary ST. CLAIR, who with all the love of aunt and mother, made him happy by her solicitude for his children.

Lucy,

Thanks for the pictures of the ceiling accident.
That was quite a BIG hole. Sure made Ron a lot of work to fix.

Hope this information will help you with your work on our geneology. My brother Ted and I are both excited to find out about our relatives. Ted has more information than I knew about.

Matthew Lee died in 1925, when my father was 11 years old. He had been kicked in the head with a horse, which effected his mind. He is buried in Mount Olivet Cemetary in Detroit, Mich. Matt was married to Kittie Lee, but were separated before his death.

Theodore Joseph Lee-----born---1/13/1947
William George Lee-----born---5/16/1942
Karen Ann Lee-----born---4/20/1938
We were all born in McComb, Ohio---Hancock County

Gerald (Pete) Keith Parsons---born---3/31/1936
I'm not sure where Pete was born?

I told Ted you would be giving him some info where to find the website you use to gather your ancestry information.

Mom is not doing very well. She has some difficult times when she is hard to handle. We were lucky,as she was quite good the day Bill,Kristi and I visited her. Ted called today to tell me the Doctor is changing her medicine. I sure hope it will help.

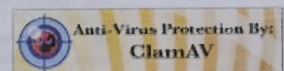

Had a great time at Cheryl's spending time with everyone. Bella and Ryan have grown so much. Abby has really begun to talk. She is quite a character,so funny.

We enjoyed having you come visit. Hope you will come again next year.

Thanks for all your work and interest in our family.

Love to you and Fred

strong, notwithstanding the trials and sorrows which have been her lot, she is able to do much to benefit those about her and comfort those who are in trouble. Here she was married September 5, 1861, to David Hughes, to whom she bore two sons: Henry H., born September 27, 1865, and James Franklin, whose natal day was August 30, 1868. The former lives in Bedford and is engaged at the carpenter's trade, and the latter is learning in the same place.

Mr. Hughes was born in Hampshire, England, and came to America with his parents when fourteen years old. He learned the trade of a blacksmith, which he followed until his last illness. He finished his earthly course October 20, 1887, dying at the age of seventy years.

A TSON W. LEE. Among the old residents of this county, mention should certainly be made of Mr. Lee, who came here at an early age, and has been as boy and man connected with the progress of this section for more than forty years. His pleasant home is located on section 15, Pennfield Township, where he has a half-interest in the paternal homestead. He traces his ancestry to one of three brothers who settled in America in Colonial times, his direct ancestor having established himself in Connecticut and the other brothers farther West. The land of steady habits was the home of the branch of the Lee family to which our subject belongs, until about the beginning of the nineteenth century when his grandfather, Thomas Lee, removed to New York.

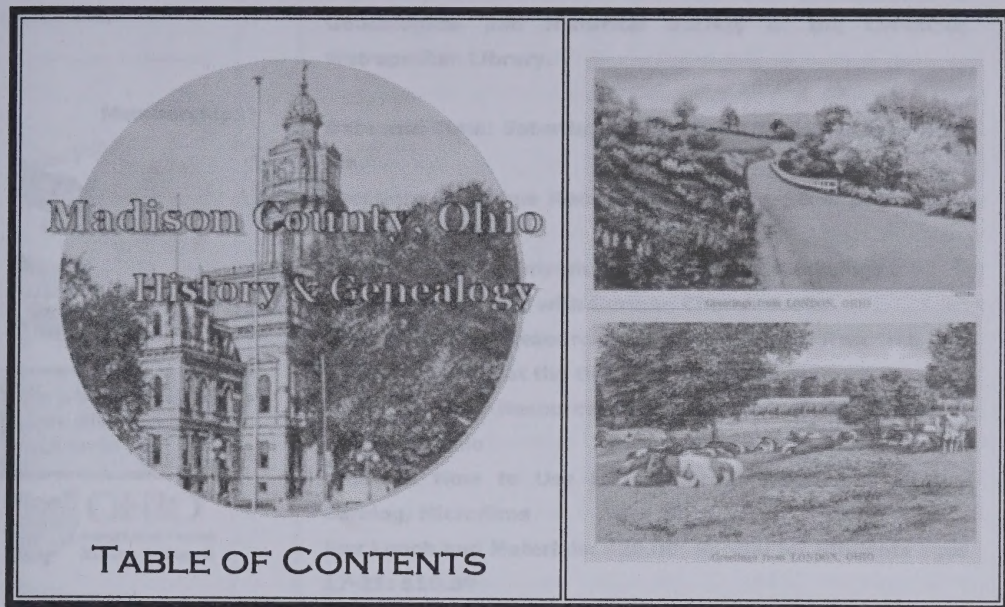

In the Empire State Matthew M. Lee, father of our subject, was born February 5, 1811. He learned the trade of a carpenter from his father, and also that of a cooper, which he followed until his marriage, after which he gave his attention to farming. He came to Branch County, this State in 1848, sojourned there a year, and then settled on the place now occupied by his son. He had but $3 in money, and if he had not had a barrel of pork with him would have almost starved. He cleared a tract of eighty acres, and rose from poverty to fairly good circumstances before this section was thickly settled. He died here September 20, 1880. He was a Democrat until the first election of Abraham Lincoln, after which he was a staunch Republican. He was a man of strong religious feeling, and identified with the Methodist Church. Grandfather Lee had come to Branch County in the early '20s, settled near the Calhoun County line and died there.

The mother of our subject was known in her maidenhood as Emily Jane Perry. She was born in New York April 14, 1814, and is still living, her home being with our subject. She is a devout and consistent Methodist. She has four children, named respectively Emaline Ann, Alson W., Emily C. and Melvin M. Her father, John Perry, was born in Wales, and came to America when but eleven years old, having stolen away on a boat because of ill treatment he received from his stepmother. In early life he followed the sea, but in later years he was a farmer.

The natal day of the gentleman whose life claims our attention, was August 15, 1838, and his birthplace Ontario County, N. Y. He was but ten years old when he came to this State, where he pursued his studies in the district school until fifteen, after which he spent three years in the High School in Battle Creek. It will thus be seen that his worthy parents gave him a good equipment for the battle of life in the mental training they secured for him, as well as in the habits they cultivated at home. He helped to clear the farm and learned how to bring a tract of raw land to a high state of productivity, and how best to keep up its fertility, and properly use its peculiarities of soil. When twenty-one years old, Mr. Lee began life for himself. He traveled some in Indiana and Illinois, and spent one winter in the southern part of the Prairie State, engaged in buying grain. After his marriage he occupied rented land six years, then settled on the homestead, where he gives his attention to raising grain and stock.

The lady who looks after the home affairs on the Lee farm was formerly Anna Lee, but became the wife of our subject January 1, 1861. She was born in England June 19, 1842. She possesses housewifely skill, a motherly nature, and the general

DENNIS CLARK, London, proprietor London Woolen Mills, was born in Fairfield County, Ohio, April 8, 1827. His father, Ralph Clark, was a native of Maryland, and a farmer by occupation. He came to Ohio in 1813, when eighteen years of age, locating in Fairfield County, and residing there until 1833. He then removed to the "Sandusky Plains," near Upper Sandusky, and ten years later to northern part of Greene County. In 1862, he came to London, where he died February 8, 1872 in his seventy-seventh year. He married Mary Rose, also a native of Maryland. They were married in Ohio, and the parents of ten children, four living. Mrs. Clark died in January 1879, aged eighty-three years. Our subject is the only one of the family in this county and learned his present trade when seventeen years of age, at Springfield, Ohio. He completed his trade in Dayton, and in the spring of 1850, came to London. He went into the woolen mill of C. K. Slagle, one mile north of London, on the Somerford pike, and soon after the mill was rented to a man named Fish. Two or three years later, Mr. Clark rented the mill, and ran it a few years. He then purchased it, and operated it till January 28, 1864, when it was burned down. Then, with others, he formed a stock company, and built and operated the woolen mill on the site of the present London Flouring Mill, from 1866 till 1871, it being consumed by fire in the latter year. In 1872, he erected his present mill, and has operated it to the present time with good success. Mr. Clark is a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge and Encampment, and the Methodist Episcopal Church, all of London. He was formerly a Republican in politics, but of late years has been an earnest Prohibitionist. He was united in marriage, February 8, 1852, to Virginia V., daughter of C. K. Slagle (deceased). Of their ten children, six are living -- Wilbur F., married Virginia Blizzard, and resides in London; Alice May, wife of John R. Manning, of London; George W., Mary F., Albert S. and Nellie McClimans. Mrs. Clark is also a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Cause; myocarditis..also asthmatic Obituary sent by Alayne Hammer of Warren, IL. 9-01-98 THE WARREN SENTINEL LEADER, WARREN, ILL. Page 1 L.H. Column Wednesday, March 26, 1924 THE PASSING OF MRS. MARY JENSEN Aged Warren woman Expires After Long Illness Mrs. Mary Jensen, an old and respected resident of this place, passed quietly away at her home on Water Street Sunday, after a lingering illness. she had been a patient sufferer for several months. Mary Jane Trisidder was born in Cornwall, England, June 15, 1846, and passed away from her late home in Warren, March 23, 1924. About 50 years ago, the deceased came to America and settled in Scales Mound, Illinois. For the past 40 years, she has made her home in Warren. On May 28, 1869, she was joined in marriage to Iver Jensen. Pre-deceasing her was the husband, the children, Joe, Lillie, and Wilbur. Six surviving children and a number of grandchildren are called upon to mourn the passing of their loved one. The remaining children are: Albert of Freeport, Carl of Nora, Arthur at home. Mrs. Mayme Leland, Ashland, Kentucky, Mrs. John Weaver, Defiance, Ohio, and Mrs. Carrie Keeton, of Grinnell, Iowa. Mrs. Jensen, during her residence here, made a host of friends, and by her upright Christian character was held in the highest regard by them. Owing to ill health, she was not permitted to be much in public life of late years, and the church she always loved, though so near her home, she could not attend owing to the infirmities incidental to her illness, but always expressed her kindly sympathy and prayer for the one of which she was a member these many years. CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank all the friends and neighbors who kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved mother, the late Mary J. Jensen. We greatly appreciate all that was done in any way. The Children. Same paper-page 8 in Personals column: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jensen of Freeport were here yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jensen.

DEAR SANTA... — The letters generally begin the same, addressed to either Saint Nick, Kris Kringle, Santa, or the North Pole, but the jolly old spirit of Christmas always manages to receive his Yuletide messages. With the hopes that Santa Claus will bring her that special Christmas doll, 7-year-old Candy Clemens hands her letter to a trusting postman — her father, Kenny Clemens, who has been delivering mail and letters to Santa Claus for 20 years. The family resides at 1582 Westgate Ave. Crescent-News Photo by Don Meyer.

World War I veteran displays a zest for life

The light of the afternoon sun brightly reflects off of the World War I honor medal that Tom Clemens proudly displays in the warmth of his room at Evergreen Care Center.

"It's hard to believe that that was 75 years ago," says the lifelong resident of Defiance county.

"I never went across the big pond," quips Clemens with a grin characteristic of his quick wit. "I just went to southern Ohio. I was proud to serve. Some of the fellows didn't want to go but I always thought it was an honor to serve my country."

It was 1918 when Clemens boarded a train and traveled "east for awhile and then south" to Camp Sherman, located in southern Ohio. The remainder of his 96-years has been spent in Domersville, except for the year that he spent in working on steam engines in Lima.

"It was quite a community back when I was a boy," reflects Clemens. "There were three houses, a school and a store. I still remember the people that lived on each corner — Schellings, Jennings, Pessefalls — there's none of them around to talk to now."

Although the store closed "around 1921," Clemens loves to describe how the men used to gather in the front of the structure on stormy winter days to play "cinch" with their cards.

It was not the card-playing, however, that attracted a 10-year-enclosed case that made mouths water and stomachs hungry.

"It was just full of sticks of candy," recalls Clemens. "They were one cent apiece or six for a nickel, but I never had enough money to buy that many. One was really a treat."

The real prize of that time, however, was Post Toasties. Clemens' mother used to gather eggs and sell them at the store for one cent apiece in order to get enough money to purchase a box of the new cereal.

The lifelong farmer notes that it was "sometime in the 1800's" when Josh Domer built the store that was eventually purchased by Clemens' father in 1916. That did not change the fact that he had to work for things that he purchased. There were no special price breaks for him.

In 1913, (the year of the big flood) his father built a house across the road and moved the store beside it. That structure was Clemens' lifelong residence until his move to the care center last year.

Although Clemens believes that he was a "pretty good boy," he recalls two instances in which he got into trouble. Once was for digging mud out of wheat field to make mudballs to throw at his friends.

"It was hard to resist because the mud under that wheat was the best kind for mudballs," chuckles Clemens. "I got in trouble in school once, too. The teacher (Annie Hornish) caught me acting up with the fellow behind me and that wasn't good."

"My father always told me that if I got a trimming up in school, I would get one when I got home," emphasizes Clemens. "It wasn't worth it."

Most of Clemens' childhood leisure time was occupied with his involvement on the Domersville baseball team, which completed an undefeated season against such powers as Ridgeville, Jewell and Evansport. Although he was too young to officially be a member of the squad that year, team members would sneak him into the outfield so that he could be a part of the hoopla.

As he draws closer to a century of living, Clemens has some spirited advice to give to people who would like to live as long as he has.

"Work hard and stay away from that dope stuff," stresses Clemens. "That's ruining a lot of kids. I never smoked. I tried it once when I was eight-years-old and I got so sick that I said that I would never do it again. I walked a lot behind the horses. That probably helped, too."

Clemens adds that it helps to be content with what you have and appreciate how it comes to you.

"One time in the depression we were out of money and I loaded up a hundred bushels of oats and sold them for 10 cents a bushel," says Clemens. "That got us through."

Although the retired farmer stuck close to home for most of his life, his eyes light up when he describes how he has started traveling with a friend in recent years.

"I finally started getting out to see some things," says Clemens. "We went to Cincinnati once and I've been to Michigan a couple of times."

on my trip to Lillehammer last February precisely one year before the Games, which will run from Feb. 12-27, 1994. My first morning, I stumbled onto a celebration commemorating 365 days to go to the opening ceremonies. The sweet smell of roasting meat drifted along the main shopping street, the Storgata. There in the middle of a side lane a whole reindeer turned over an open fire while women in wool skirts and sweaters served up slices of the ambrosial viand on homemade bread. Or you could sample the traditional Norwegian breakfast: creamy oatmeal with sugar on top served in hand-carved bowls from the nearby county of Telemark.

A parade of schoolchildren marched through, laughing in the cold, gray morning, all of them made up with warty noses and ragged clothes to look like trolls, the grotesque but hapless and largely harmless creatures of mythological forests. Following a brief caucus with King Ulr, the white-bearded god of winter, the children scrambled onto snow sculptures lining the Storgata. Carved with chain saws and chisels, the mammoth snow blocks featured outsized Olympic symbols and doubled as play structures with ramps and slides and tunnels to wiggle through. Shoppers cruised the snowy, 18th-century storefronts for fresh bread. Grandmothers in parkas glided by on "kick sleds" that double as shopping carts and child strollers.

Everybody in Norway has a gorgeous winter coat, usually of rich wool felt trimmed in leather or fur. It's emblematic of the healthy relationship Norwegians have with winter. An estimated 80 percent of the population go out skiing at least once a winter, and something like 28 percent belong to one or more of the 10,000 sports clubs in the country. Queen Sonya skied the tough Olympic downhill course at Kvitfjell three times non-stop the week before I visited. And the whole country shuts down around Easter as a majority of the 4 million Norwegians head to mountain cabins for some-skiing and celebrating the return of the sun.

This love affair with winter sport has produced 170 Olympic medals, 61 gold, in the years since the first Winter Games in 1924, far more than any other competing nation. Sonja Henie won two skating golds before twirling into a Hollywood career. The great Stein Eriksen roused the home blood with alpine gold and a silver in Oslo in 1952, the last time the Games visited skiing's birthplace. And, right on cue, the current crop of Norwegian skiers, who took an astonishing nine golds at Albertville two years ago, appear to be peaking for the homestand. Look for the musical names Kjetil Andre Aamodt (alpine men), Astrid Lodemel (alpine women), and Bjorn Daehlie (men's cross country) to run away with a sled full of medals this winter.

But typical of Norwegian modesty, ask any one of them to predict a victory, and the answer will be something like the response of Finn Christian Jagge, the '92 Olympic slalom winner, when asked about possible Norse domination at Lillehammer. "Oh no, probably not. Too much pressure," he answered, the lilting "o" sound like cream pouring.

I skied the alpine courses at Hafjell and Kvitfjell and finally got a chance to climb above the valleys and take in Norway's mountainous roof. It's a vast, white world up there, not sharp and cliffy like my own Rocky Mountains, but rather a rolling sea of mountain swells punctuated by the breaking crest of Galdhopiggen, the highest point in Scandinavia at just over 8,000 feet.

The sun rose higher in the sky than one might imagine so far north. (Lillehammer is roughly the same distance from the pole as Anchorage, Alaska. There are dark days in December and January, but by February, the sky is light from about 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.) A soft haze colored the snow with pinks and blues. These subtle hues I had already seen in the museum, where curator Mona Thommessen proudly showed off the oil paintings of Lillehammer artist Frederik Collett (1839-1914). "He was the first," she said, "to capture real winter in Lillehammer, the first to see the colors in the snow."

So inviting and accessible is the snowy landscape up here that people just take off from trailheads near home and ski across the thousands of miles of cross-country trails. There are 300 miles of trail around Lillehammer alone. Nine hundred miles of trail wind through and around the city of Oslo. Instead of jogging or working out at a spa, people here go skiing. And it's all free.

"It would be an insult to the Nordic ethos to charge money for access to trails," an engineer named Rolv told me. "You ski where you choose, except in somebody's garden, of course. To ski, hike, camp, pick berries, to enjoy the gifts of nature in the mountains is viewed as a basic civil right."

The alpine ski lifts are not free, of course, but this kind of luxury riding and sliding is relatively new to Norwegians. The Hafjell alpine area, which will host most of the women's races, has been open since 1988. The men's downhill at Kvitfjell was carved from dairy and forest lands just last year. From my reverie atop and wintering cattle.

Just at the edge of what will be the Olympic slalom course there is a slate-roofed farmhouse converted to a skiers' cafe. Inside, warmed by a tiled corned woodstove, you exchange your ski boots for crocheted slippers, sit at long wooden tables framed by lace curtains and sip aquavit, a clear rye vodka that warms all the way down even on the coldest days.

Lillehammer and the surrounding villages are so small most Olympic visitors will have to stay in Oslo and ride the excellent trains up to the events themselves. Things will be crowded, excited, charged with a kind of global electricity that is not altogether in keeping with the low-key Norwegian character. But the Olympics are an atypical time. And what they will no doubt do is give a real, ruddy-cheeked face to a land hitherto known primarily for fjords and pickled herring.

It's a land where the colors in the snow...

Somehow the Norwegians blend their organic connection to the land with a genuine fanaticism for sport. Rest assured they will pack every Olympic event, singing and swaying and waving blue and red flags. I experienced a dramatic demonstration of fan loyalty the afternoon I visited the Birkebeiner cross-country ski stadium and skied the Olympic 30 km course. On the taxi ride up to the stadium, a river of cars with skis on their roofs were flowing down the other way. "World Championships," the driver said, referring to the speed skating world championships happening in the neighboring town of Hamar in the new stadium built to look like an upside-down Viking ship, her keel to the sky.

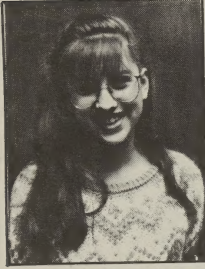

"This afternoon Koss tries for the 10,000-meter record," my man continued. "Are they all going to Hamar?" I asked. "No way. Tickets have been sold out for six months. Everybody's going home

Determination helps woman overcome difficulties

"But a positive love for life and an attachment to family warmth continues to strengthen her through the difficult times."

Lelah Clemens was determined to walk again. She was going to walk out of Leisure Oaks Convalescent Center following her convalescence from a fractured hip that cut short her winter activities earlier this year. She was going to begin a new season of her life.

Things are looking up for the 82-year-old Defiance woman these days. Reminiscent of her attitude, the birds sing outside the therapy room's window where she diligently works on her daily exercise. In fact, there's a strong possibility that she might return to driving a car within a few weeks.

It was March 12 when an "otherwise enjoyable" day of antique shopping with her two sisters was ruined when she fell outside of a shop in Archbold. When the seriousness of her injury was determined, she was rushed by emergency medical personnel to Defiance Hospital where she underwent surgery.

Following hospitalization, she was taken to Leisure Oaks where she was enrolled in an intensive therapy program. Thanks to a positive attitude and her determination to overcome obstacles, Clemens is expected to return soon to her enjoyment of antique hunting, sewing, crocheting and baking for family members.

"I never had any idea that anything like this could happen to me," says Clemens, "but I made up my mind that they could carry me in here, but I'm going to walk out. Doctors tell me that I should be able to continue to care for myself and drive the car.

"The doctor told me that when I came in to the hospital, my hip was really a mess," adds Clemens, "but I decided that I was going to have a positive attitude about it from the very beginning. I felt that with all of the good doctors and nurses I would get along really well. I didn't really view it as a problem. I don't look for problems. I think what's going to happen is going to happen."

Clemens traces her grit to overcome difficult times to the family homestead in Delaware Township where she grew up during the Great Depression. In spite of the hard work that was demanded of her to help the family through rough times, she managed to graduate from Delaware Township High School in 1933.

"I can't say that we had a lot of money to spend, but my parents (Fred and Viola Slough) always made sure that we had plenty to eat," explains Clemens. "We raised our own gardens and we had a couple of cows. One thing I can say is that we didn't have much, but we had a lot of love."

Clemens' eyes moisten as she reflects on the little things that made for family happiness during those times. And, she loves to describe the way she walked two and a half miles one way to school.

"In the bad weather my dad would take us to school," says Clemens. "We didn't have busses back in those days."

A lot of water has gone over the dam since then and not all of it sweet. Her husband, Lawrence, is a resident of Leisure Oaks Convalescent Center, due to Alzheimer's disease. A son died from cancer in 1984. Clemens has been hospitalized on several other occasions with various surgeries.

But a positive love for life and an attachment to family warmth continues to strengthen her through the difficult times. Much of her time since her husband's illness has been spent traveling with her sisters and preparing favorite foods of family members.

"My grandchildren look forward to my goodie packages," says Clemens. "I like to make caramel candy and peanut brittle. They know that if they come to my house I'll fix them what they like."

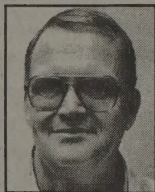

Therapists Barb Boyd and Amanda Adkins have little doubt about the basis for Clemens' positive recovery.

"It's nice to work with people with so much energy," says Boyd. "Her motivation and positive attitude are definitely the key to her recovery. It gives a lot of pleasure to work with somebody that gets well so quickly."

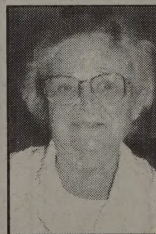

"I would like to take a little credit for her recovery, but I can't. It's 90 percent her attitude," adds Adkins. "It's obvious that she knows how to work over obstacles. She's very consistent and determined in her work ethic."

"So you can see that I've had quite a bit of this stuff, but I've never worried about it," says Clemens. "I always figure that everything works out for the best. If you have a good attitude it's going to work out okay. I've never felt like sitting around and worrying about things."

Determination helps woman overcome difficulties

"But a positive love for life and an attachment to family warmth continues to strengthen her through the difficult times."

Lelah Clemens was determined to walk again. She was going to walk out of Leisure Oaks Convalescent Center following her convalescence from a fractured hip that cut short her winter activities earlier this year. She was going to begin a new season of her life.

Things are looking up for the 82-year-old Defiance woman these days. Reminiscent of her attitude, the birds sing outside the therapy room's window where she diligently works on her daily exercise. In fact, there's a strong possibility that she might return to driving a car within a few weeks.

It was March 12 when an "otherwise enjoyable" day of antique shopping with her two sisters was ruined when she fell outside of a shop in Archbold. When the seriousness of her injury was determined, she was rushed by emergency medical personnel to Defiance Hospital where she underwent surgery.

Following hospitalization, she was taken to Leisure Oaks where she was enrolled in an intensive therapy program. Thanks to a positive attitude and her determination to overcome obstacles, Clemens is expected to return soon to her enjoyment of antique hunting, sewing, crocheting and baking for family members.

"I never had any idea that anything like this could happen to me," says Clemens, "but I made up my mind that they could carry me in here, but I'm going to walk out.

Doctors tell me that I should be able to continue to care for myself and drive the car.

"The doctor told me that when I came in to the hospital, my hip was really a mess," adds Clemens, "but I decided that I was going to have a positive attitude about it from the very beginning. I felt that with all of the good doctors and nurses I would get along really well. I didn't really view it as a problem. I don't look for problems. Defiance Hospital study shows ITA as successful method of labor pain relief

After two years of study, officials at Defiance Hospital have declared the use of Intrathecal Analgesia (ITA) to reduce the pain of labor a successful endeavor.

According to Karen Haaser, RN, OB unit supervisor, statistics reveal that 95 percent of mothers who received ITA since the program began in late 1994 report a high degree of satisfaction with the method.

ITA is a relatively new method of pain control where an extremely small dose of an appropriate drug is injected "intrathecally" into the mother's spinal canal when her cervix is dilated between four and five centimeters.

"The narcotics injected greatly diminish the discomfort of contractions without affecting the quality or progress of labor, and without limiting the patient's physical activity," said Sheree Clark, one of the overhauls of the ITA program.

Dexa was established to offer regional physicians the opportunity to provide bone density measurements to patients at local hospital or clinics. Currently serving northeast Indiana and northwest Ohio, Dexa Diagnostics has plans for future expansion, providing a larger service area to outlying physicians and their patients.

Consumers could see rise in prices of generic drugs

NEW YORK (AP) — Generic drugs, those low-priced copies of brand name medicines, are so popular that they now make up nearly half the 2.4 billion prescriptions written in this country every year.

That popularity hasn't filtered down to the bottom lines of the generic drug makers, however, and the industry's troubles mean consumers could soon see prices rising and their selection limited.

Last year, heavy competition slashed the industry's profits and stock prices. Four of the top nine companies lost money and the industry's share prices fell more than 20 percent.

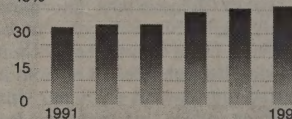

In addition, the Food and Drug Administration is having trouble keeping up with a growing number of generic drug applications. The backlog is so bad it now takes more than two years to get a new generic drug approved.

nies unite couples

Bonnie Kay Clemens and William Lee Fosnaugh were united in marriage at 2 p.m. Saturday in the First Church of Christ with the Revs. Bryan Maxey and Howard Brammer, Lancaster, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alva F. Clemens, 600 E. High St., and Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Fosnaugh, 1496 Lynn Dr., Lancaster.

Nuptial music was presented by organist Phylliss Stevenson, pianist Carolyn Robinson and soloists Darcy Robinson, Kevin Buchman, Steve Maxey and Bryan Maxey, all of Defiance.

The bride selected a floor-length gown of candlelit organza and point d' esprit satin ribbon enhancing the Chantilly lace. The gown was fashioned with a high neckline, long Bishop sleeves and a deep V-yoke edged in ribbon and lace ruffle. A satin bow marked the front of the full A-line skirt with a wide flounce of point d' esprit lace and ribbon encircling the hemline and cathedral-length train. She wore a wreath of apple blossoms, and carried an arm bouquet of white roses, daisies, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mary Martha Clemens, Defiance, attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a blue luster glo knit gown with an ivory chiffon bodice, high neckline and long Victorian sleeves on the lace V-yoke. Self ruffles and ribbon enhanced the bodice. She wore a wreath of blue apple blossoms, and carried a single blue rose with baby's breath. Similarly attired and wearing matching wreaths of apple blossoms were sisters of the bride, bridesmaid Sandra L. Clemens, Defiance, in lavender, and junior bridesmaid Melody Hope Clemens, Defiance, in yellow. They carried matching single roses with baby's breath.

The bride's niece, Carrie Caldwell, Oblong, Ill., was flower girl, wearing a blue dress with a white pinafore and a blue wreath of forget-me-nots in her hair. She carried a white basket of forget-me-nots and baby's breath. John David Ater, Woodburn, Ind., the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

Walter Beardsley, Defiance, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman was John Chestnut, Cincinnati.

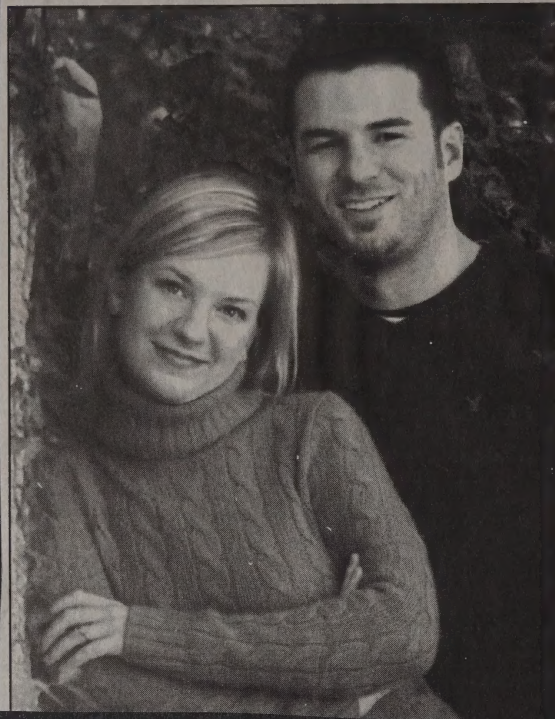

Seating the guests were Matt McGue, Defiance, and Dale Gwin, Indianapolis, Ind.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 250 guests was held in the church's fellowship hall.

A graduate of Defiance High School, the new Mrs. Fosnaugh is an optometric assistant for Drs. Daniel Meffley and Robert Burris. Her husband, a graduate of the Cincinnati Bible Seminary, is associate minister at the First Church of Christ.

The couple will live at 215 Webster St., Apt. B.

Diane Richey: 'Wow, I saw the lady'

Essay wins Tinora soph trip to N.Y.

By JEFF LASANEN
Staff Writer

Diane Richey, a sophomore at Tinora High School, traveled to New York City last weekend as a winner of an AMVETS Post 1991 essay contest.

Richey, 15, wrote an essay entitled, What Does an American Veteran Mean to Me? which received county, district and state attention.

Richey placed first in Defiance County competition, first in the district and second at the state level.

"I am proud of American soldiers who fought during World War I and World War II," she said. "They fought for our liberty and freedom. We should be thankful and envious of them."

Richey submitted her essay as a freshman and heard in May the results of the AMVETS Post 1991 decision to send her to New York. "I was amazed and so happy when I heard the outcome," she said.

While in New York City, Richey saw the Statue of Liberty. "Wow, I saw the Lady," she said. Later, she visited Ellis Island and found in the immigration record books six people with the same last name as hers.

As the bus took her to New York, Richey was able to get a glimpse of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia, the birthplace of a young nation. Said Richey: "It gave me such hope and honor while I looked at that bell."

In Valley Forge, Pa., Richey joined 40 winners from the states of North Dakota, Texas, Missouri and Florida as well as other states to talk about the freedoms they cherish in school and community. Said Richey: "It is a medal of honor to live in America."

Richey encouraged all freshman to challenge their energies by writing an essay about American veterans. Said Richey: "It is worth it. I would do it all over again if I could."

To go along with the trip, Richey received cash rewards and saving bonds.

Prior to this trip, Richey got the chance to visit Washington, D.C., where she walked along the Vietnam War Memorial and also saw the white crosses at Arlington National Cemetery, marking the graves of those who had sacrificed their lives for love of country.

Richey is the daughter of Gary and Sue Richey, Evansport Road.

DARRELL DUCAT, 1926-2017

Bowling center owner was true 'bowler's proprietor'

By MARK ZABORNEY
BLADE STAFF WRITER

Darrell Ducat, whose bowling centers played host to nationally televised championships, died Tuesday in Cornerstone Hospice at The Villages, Fla. He was 91.

He'd developed an infection after a medical procedure, his daughter Debbie said. He still was an owner of bowling centers in Florida and, before his recent illness, spoke of changing the bowling ball he used, said his son Larry, who owns Miracle Lanes in Toledo.

Mr. Ducat was 87 years old when he played in a Professional Bowlers Association Tournament in Florida. Both sons followed him into the business. Son Michael is a former president of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America.

Mr. Ducat was best known as the proprietor of the former Imperial Lanes on Central Avenue and Reynolds Road. Its 60 lanes housed the PBA National Championship from 1981-98, before moving in 1999 to Southwyck Lanes, which Mr. Ducat also owned then. He bought Imperial in the mid-1980s.

"He was a bowler's proprietor," his son Larry said. "He loved the game more than the business."

ABC Sports broadcast the championships, with the late Chris Schenkel announcing play by such greats as Earl Anthony and Pete Weber.

Those tournaments garnered local support, allowing Mr. Ducat to contribute $50,000 toward prize money totaling at least $200,000.

"What the heck. I probably make a million dollars a year," Mr. Ducat, a founding PBA member, told

The Blade in 1997. "If I break even on the tournament, it's no big deal. What are you going to do with your money anyway?"

He was a 1987 inductee into the Toledo Bowling Association Hall of Fame and was recognized nationally.

"He felt good about his accomplishments and enjoyed the praise he got," son Larry said. "He wasn't one to get up and talk about it."

"When he was most relaxed was when we were holding the tournaments and the guys were sitting around drinking coffee and beer and talking bowling," son Larry said. "That was his stage. That was his territory."

Mr. Ducat also was a hotelier whose properties included the former Clarion Westgate on Secor Road. He still was an owner of two Toledo area hotels.

"I just like to buy and sell things," Mr. Ducat said in 1997. He and his sons became a team.

"What he really was good at was putting a deal together," son Larry said. "My brother Mike and I would run [the businesses]."

He was born Jan. 18, 1926, in Rudolph, Ohio, to Ethel and Alvin Ducat. He attended DeVilbiss High School after the family moved to Toledo, leaving to enlist in the Army Air Corps. He served in the Pacific Theater during World War II.

Back home, he operated services stations in West Toledo and opened an automatic transmission shop. On the second story of his repair garage, he opened the Miracle Mile Ballroom, which later he made a bingo hall. He became an investor in Miracle Lanes in 1970 and later in Showcase Lanes.

"He was a self-made man," daughter Debbie said. "He never even finished high school and believed in hard work and demanded it of everyone around him too."

The Ducats at one time had a stake in five bowling centers, son Larry said.

In recent years, he divided time between residences in Perrysburg Township and Florida.

He was formerly married to the late Marianne Ducat. His second wife, J. Rosemary "Rose" Ducat, died Jan. 28, 2011.

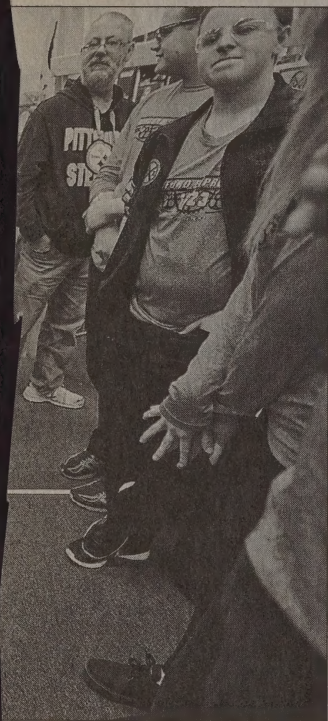

Surviving are his sons Larry and Michael Ducat; daughters Debbie Augustyniak, Terri Duerringer, Elizabeth Starr, and Tami Bonaminio; brother Paul Ducat; 14 grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

Visitation will be from 2-8 pm. Tuesday at the Walker Funeral Home, Sylvania Township, with services at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

'TERRIBLY' MISSED

Glenn's widow appears publicly, touched by support

97-year-old attends Ohio State event

ASSOCIATED PRESS

COLUMBUS — John Glenn's widow says she misses her husband "terribly" and was touched by the outpouring of love and support when he died two months ago.

Annie Glenn turned 97 on Friday.

She made her first public appearance since her husband's memorial service, a reception on Thursday at Ohio State University's John Glenn College of Public Affairs.

Mr. Glenn, the first American to orbit Earth, died Dec. 8 at the age of 95.

Mrs. Glenn said losing her husband of 73 years has been difficult.

"Oh, gosh. It's just awful, because we've known each other since we were 2 years old, and he and I, we were both on the same side, he was always helping me, with the kids and everything," she said. "I really miss him terribly. There's nothing I can do about it."

Mr. Glenn's body lay in repose at the Ohio Statehouse before a public service attended by hundreds, including the U.S. vice president, current and former Ohio governors, and other dignitaries.

"Wasn't that special? I didn't expect that at all," she said. "It was very touching."

Mrs. Glenn couldn't quite say how her public pace may change now that John is gone and she has recovered after a recent fall.

"We always went to things together, and so it's simply ...," she said, reflecting. "I just can't explain to you what I have to go through."

Mrs. Glenn said she fell about a month ago and has been recovering from the pain of three broken ribs and compressed vertebrae. She said she was "out and about" and hurrying when she slipped.

On Thursday, she moved slowly, but on her own, using a walker.

Accompanied by her daughter, Lyn, Mrs. Glenn chatted cheerfully as other helped celebrate her birthday.

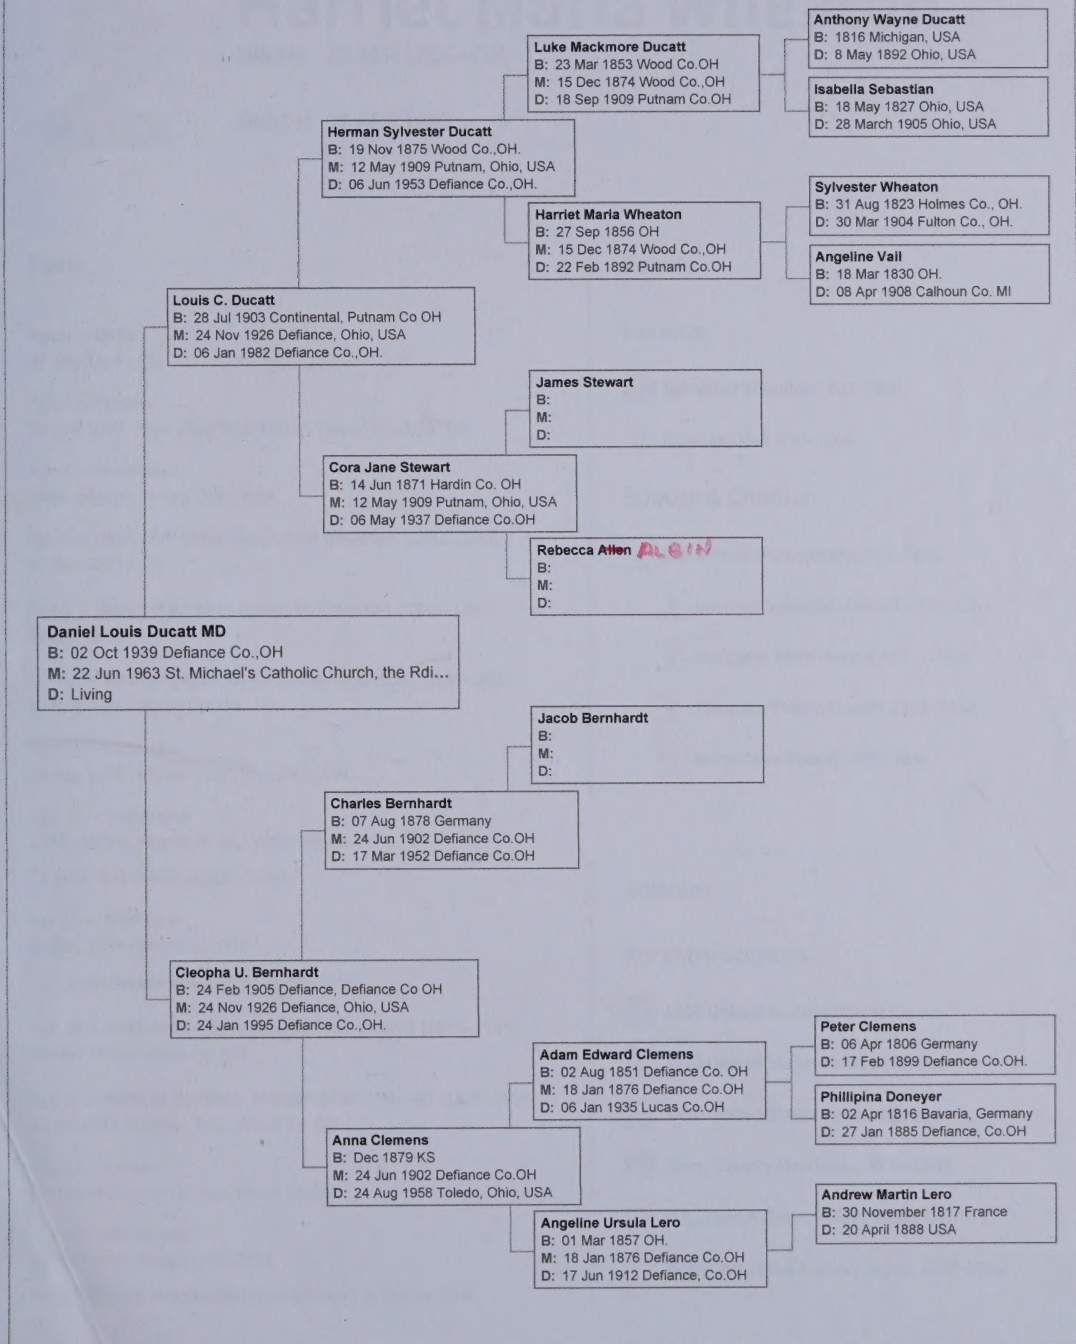

Mrs. Glenn apologized for being unable to recognize people because of her eyesight.

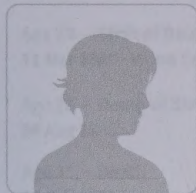

Lyn Glenn said she and her brother, David, have been taking turns visiting their mother at her high-rise condo in Columbus about once a month since their father died, traveling from their respective homes in Minnesota and California.

Descendants of Thomas Vail

11. Samuel³ Vail, Jr. (Samuel², Thomas¹) was born December 21, 1678 in Westchester County, New York, and died June 26, 1733 in Woodbridge, New Jersey, U.S.A.. He married (1) Abigail Hadden 1707. She was born October 14, 1685, and died October 14, 1724 in Westchester County, New York. He married (2) Sarah Farrington February 08, 1724/25 in Queens, Flushing New York, daughter of Matthew Farrington. She died June 21, 1756 in Westchester County, New York.

Children of Samuel Vail and Abigail Hadden are:

+ 28 i. John⁴ Vail, Jr., born April 21, 1708 in Westchester County, New York; died May 17, 1754 in Plainfield, New Jersey.

+ 29 ii. Stephen Vail, born April 10, 1710 in Westchester County, New York; died October 17, 1777 in Green Brook, Somerset County New Jersey.

30 iii. Samuel Vail, born April 15, 1711 in Westchester County, New York; died Bef. June 19, 1733 in Westchester County, New York. Samuel Vail died probably before 19 June 1733, the date of his father's will since he is not mentioned in it.

31 iv. Phebe Vail, born September 13, 1712 in Westchester County, New York; died December 24, 1776 in North Salem, Westchester County New York. She married Daniel Turner; died September 08, 1746 in North Salem, Westchester County New York.

Notes

Samuel Vail, Jr.: yeoman. custodian. overseer, assessor to Westchester,

Samuel (3) Vail came to the vicinity of Plainfield, just when is not known, and died at Woodbridge, N. J., 26 June, 1733. Like his brother, John (3), Q. P., he had bought a large tract of land along Green Brook, just S.W. of Plainfield, in what is now Somerset County. This plantation was bought about the time that John (3) bought his farm, which was in what is now North Plainfield, from the Dutch proprietor Peter Sonmans, 3 April, 1732, and hence it would seem that Samuel left Westchester only a little over a year before his death.

Description

This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1850 United States Federal Census, the Seventh Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, age as of the census day, sex, color; birthplace, occupation of males over age fifteen, and more. No relationships were shown between members of a household. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1850 Federal Census. Additional Instructions Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code.

When should I complete the form? Complete Form W-4P and give it to the payer as soon as possible. Get Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, to see how the dollar amount you're having withheld compares to your projected total federal income tax for 2017. You also may use the IRS Withholding Calculator at www.irs.gov/individuals for help in determining how many withholding allowances to claim on your Form W-4P.

Multiple pensions/more-than-one-income. To figure the number of allowances that you may claim, combine allowances and income subject to withholding from all sources on one worksheet. You may file a Form W-4P with each pension payer, but don't claim the same allowances more than once. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4P for the highest source of income subject to withholding and zero allowances are claimed on the others.

Other income. If you have a large amount of income from other sources not subject to withholding (such as interest, dividends, or capital gains), consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Get Form 1040-ES and Pub. 505 at www.irs.gov/form990.

If you have income from wages, see Pub. 505 to find out if you should adjust your withholding on Form W-4 or Form W-4P.

Note: Social security and railroad retirement payments may be includible in income. See Form W-4V, Voluntary Withholding Request, for information on voluntary withholding from these payments.

Withholding From Pensions and Annuities

Generally, federal income tax withholding applies to the taxable part of payments made from pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity, and certain deferred compensation plans; from individual retirement arrangements (IRAs); and from commercial annuities. The method and rate of withholding depend on (a) the kind of payment you receive; (b) whether the payments are to be delivered outside the United States or its possessions; and (c) whether the recipient is a nonresident alien individual, a nonresident alien beneficiary, or a foreign estate. Qualified distributions from a Roth IRA are nontaxable and, therefore, not subject to withholding. See page 4 for special withholding rules that apply to payments to be delivered outside the United States and payments to foreign persons.

Because your tax situation may change from year to year, you may want to refigure your withholding each year. You can change the amount to be withheld by using lines 2 and 3 of Form W-4P.

Choosing not to have income tax withheld. You (or in the event of death, your beneficiary or estate) can choose not to have federal income tax withheld from your payments by using line 1 of Form W-4P. For an estate, the election to have no income tax withheld may be made by the executor or personal representative of the decedent. Enter the estate's employer identification number (EIN) in the area reserved for "Your social security number" on Form W-4P.

You may not make this choice for eligible rollover distributions. See Eligible rollover distribution—20% withholding on page 4.

Caution: There are penalties for not paying enough federal income tax during the year, either through withholding or estimated tax payments. New retirees, especially, should see Pub. 505. It explains your estimated tax requirements and describes penalties in detail. You may be able to avoid quarterly estimated tax payments by having enough tax withheld from your pension or annuity using Form W-4P.

Periodic payments. Withholding from periodic payments of a pension or annuity is figured in the same manner as withholding from wages. Periodic payments are made in installments at regular intervals over a period of more than 1 year. They may be paid annually, quarterly, monthly, etc.

If you want federal income tax to be withheld, you must designate the number of withholding allowances on line 2 of Form W-4P and indicate your marital status by checking the appropriate box. Under current law, you can't designate a specific dollar amount to be withheld. However, you can designate an additional amount to be withheld on line 3.

If you don't want any federal income tax withheld from your periodic payments, check the box on line 1 of Form W-4P and submit the form to your payer. However, see Payments to Foreign Persons and Payments To Be Delivered Outside the United States on page 4.

Caution: If you don't submit Form W-4P to your payer, the payer must withhold on periodic payments as if you're married claiming three withholding allowances. Generally, this means that tax will be withheld if your pension or annuity is at least $1,720 a month.

If you submit a Form W-4P that doesn't contain your correct social security number (SSN), the payer must withhold as if you're single claiming zero withholding allowances even if you checked the box on line 1 to have no federal income tax withheld.

There are some kinds of periodic payments for which you can't use Form W-4P because they're already defined as wages subject to federal income tax withholding. These payments include retirement pay for service in the U.S. Armed Forces and payments from certain nonqualified deferred compensation plans and deferred compensation plans described in section 457 of tax-exempt organizations. Your payer should be able to tell you whether Form W-4P applies.

For periodic payments, your Form W-4P stays in effect until you change or revoke it. Your payer must notify you each year of your right to choose not to have federal income tax withheld (if permitted) or to change your choice.

Nonperiodic payments—10% withholding. Your payer must withhold at a flat 10% rate from nonperiodic payments (but see Eligible rollover distribution—20% withholding on page 4) unless you choose not to have federal income tax withheld. Distributions from an IRA that are payable on demand are treated as nonperiodic payments. You can choose not to have federal income tax withheld from a nonperiodic payment (if permitted) by submitting Form W-4P (containing your correct SSN) to your payer and checking the box on line 1. However, see Payments to Foreign Persons and Payments To Be Delivered Outside the United States on page 4. Generally, your choice not to have federal income tax withheld will apply to any later payment from the same plan. You can't use line 2 for nonperiodic payments. But you may use line 3 to specify an additional amount that you want withheld.

Caution: If you submit a Form W-4P that doesn't contain your correct SSN, the payer can't honor your request not to have income tax withheld and must withhold 10% of the payment for federal income tax.

DUCAT Darrell Ivan

Darrell Ivan Ducat, age 91, of Perrysburg, Ohio and formerly of Toledo, passed away on February 14, 2017, surrounded by his loving family. He was born in Rudolph, OH, the second eldest son of Alvin and Ethel Ducat on January 18, 1926. Darrell enlisted in the Air Force in 1944. He maintained his pilot's license for most of his life. Darrell worked as an auto mechanic in his early 20's and later co-owned Ducat's Automotive and the Miracle Mile Ballroom along with his older brother Dick. However, Darrell's first love was bowling, and he was a long standing member of the Professional Bowlers' Association after it was founded in 1958. His dream of owning his own bowling center was realized in 1971 when he purchased Miracle Lanes. He went on to co-own Showcase lanes with Norm Sobiecki, and Varsity Lanes in Bowling Green from 1977-1984 along with fellow PBA member, Dean Mooseman. Through the 1980's, Darrell acquired several bowling centers and hotels in Ohio and Michigan. It was at Imperial Lanes in Toledo that Darrell and his son Michael hosted the annual PBA National Championships which were televised on ABC sports from 1981-2002. Imperial was sold in 2009 when Darrell began living in Florida part-time. He continued to co-own several hotels in both Ohio and Florida, and two bowling centers in The Villages, Florida, with his son Larry. Darrell never stopped bowling! In April of 2013, he became the oldest player to compete in a PBA tournament at the age of 87 when he bowled in the PBA50 Tour in The Villages, Florida.

JAMES N. DUCAT

James N. Ducat, 87, of Reading, Michigan, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, passed away Wednesday, November 8, 2017 at his home under the loving care of his family and CHC Hospice. He was born January 21, 1930 in Rossford, Ohio. He is survived by his wife, Sundra Ducat; one daughter, Lisa Foster of Spring Hill, FL; one stepdaughter, Lori Droszcz of Coldwater, MI and four grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his stepson, Nick Droszcz. At his request cremation has taken place and there will be no additional services. Arrangements are entrusted to the Hamp-on Funeral Homes in Hillsdale, MI.

"The best and most beautiful things in the world cannot be seen or even touched. They must be felt with the heart."

- Helen Keller

Darrell was preceded in death by his parents; his first wife, Marianne (Knapp); his second wife, Rose (Balog), and brothers, Herbert and Dick. He is survived by his brother, Paul (Diane); sister-in-law, Dorothy Ducat; sons, Larry (Sue) Ducat and Michael Ducat; daughters, Debbie (Mark) Augustyniak, Terri (Bruce) Duerringer, Elizabeth (David) Starr and Tami (Bret) Bonaminio; grandchildren, Brain (Jen) Ducat, Michelle (Craig) Amon, Jasin (Shannon) Ducat, Kimberly Wolfe, Erica Krause, Erin (Robert) Lewandowski, Greg (Marie) Knerr, Chris Duerringer, Steven (Rachel) Duerringer, Emily Duerringer, Jourdan Ducat, Chelsea Ducat, Olivia Bonaminio Isabelle Bonaminio; 13 great-grandchildren, and special friend, Phyllis Steele.

Family and friends may visit on Tuesday, February 20, 2017 from 2:00-8:00 p.m. at the Walker Funeral Home, 5155 Sylvania Ave. (west of Corey Rd.) where funeral services will be Wednesday at 11:00 a.m. Interment to follow at Toledo Memorial Park. In lieu of flowers, contributions in Darrell's memory may be made to Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Northwest Ohio, 4 Seagate #660, Toledo, Ohio 43604. Online condolences can be shared at

Dear Lucy and Gerald

Thank you for your order and I will be writing to let you know when I get the addition completed it is ready to be Logged in the computer and printed out so then I will have printing it or rather copying it on the 3 hole paper. I have not made any profit yet on this project so would you be willing after you have looked this over to send me address of any that would be interested in it.

Thank you

Dear families, some of old and some close,

Regarding a new compilation of Sutcliffe/Sutliffe/Sutliff genealogy:

I know that it would be more appropriate if I could write a personal letter to everyone, but due to the number of families that I am attempting to reach, a copy letter will have to suffice. My brother, Leo Curtis Sutliff, of Southern California spent a great deal of time contacting members of the family several years ago. There was a great deal of response at that time, and I have been working on this genealogy compilation for three years now and have continued to receive information. There have also been about six attempts to bring all of the Sutliff family together.

I have combined all of the information that has become available to me and some families are traced for seventeen generations, others have only fifteen generations spanning the same period of time. As a result, the book has turned out to be quite lengthy. I have indexed all of the names of Sutcliffe, Sutliffe, and Sutliff and all of the other surnames connected directly with the immediate families. The added lineages are not in the index.

I have about 800 Sutliff names with addresses to which I hope to send this letter. I realize that there may be many who are not in the book, but there will be blank pages in the back of the book so that families can be updated. There are also many places where dates are left blank because of a lack of information.

If everyone could send update information periodically, then I will attempt to send out updates annually to all of those who purchase this book. My hope is that others may some day help to make the book more complete. At this time, the genealogy goes back to approximately 1536 with John Sutcliffe, Sr. who married Margaret Owlsworth (or Holdsworth).

I am also interested in the female members of the family, as they are more difficult to trace. I have found that they are a valuable source of information and their family lines are just as important to the Sutliff genealogy.

The price of different versions of the book are as follows, including postage and handling cost:

$ 38.50	For the standard book
$ 45.00	For a 8 1/2 x 11 inch looseleaf version, w/o notebook
$ 20.00	For two disks formatted on Macintosh computer, Word 5.1

Thank you for your time, please let me know how many books that I should make up, as I have already started with fifty copies, but if the response to Samuel Milton Sutliff's book in 1909 is any indication, there should be a fairly large demand.

Dear Mr. Sutliff:

Just came across a letter from you dated June 7, 1995 regarding a new compilation of Sutcliffe/s Sutliffe/Sutliff Genealogy. If the standard book ($38.50) is still available, would you please advise. I am a direct Sutliffe descendant through Hannah Sutliffe b. 19 Dec. 1665, who married Thomas Wheadon. Hannah was the daughter of Hannah Plympton and Nathaniel Sutliffe.

Am enclosing a self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Sorry to be so late in inquiring, but your letter arrived during a spell of illness that I had, and unfortunately all of my correspondence was laid aside.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Lucy M. Weaver

January 1998

Dear families (some of old and some close):

Regarding a new compilation of Sutcliffe/Sutliffe/Sutliff genealogy:

I know that it would be more appropriate if I could write a personal letter to everyone, but due to the number of families that I am attempting to reach, a copy letter will have to suffice. My brother, Leo Curtis Sutliff, of Southern California spent a great deal of time contacting members of the family. In the 1980's, there was a great deal of response, and I have been working on this genealogy compilation since 1993, and continue to receive information. There have also been about six attempts to bring all of the Sutliff family together for reunions.

I have attempted to combine all of the available information into one source. For example, I have found a deed of Abraham Sutliff, spelled that way, dated 1668, in Scituate, Massachusetts. I would like better proof of when he came to the United States. As a result, the book has turned out to be quite lengthy. I have indexed all of the names of Sutcliffe, Sutliffe, and Sutliff and all of the other surnames connected directly with the immediate families. The added lineages are not in the index. I hope to have those indexed also as I have found in my own searches they can lead to more Sutliff connection.

I have many Sutliff names with addresses to which I hope to send this letter. BUT MOST IMPORTANT I would like all that have told me they would send their updates and corrections, to do so, as I am going to QUIT. In January 1999, I hope to have all of the available information compiled and intend to discontinue my work. I will try to keep all information on file, but the work is too time consuming. I realize that there may be many who are not in the book, and there are many places where dates are left blank because of a lack of information.

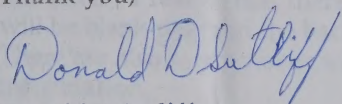

My hope is that someone else may be able to use the information available to make the Sutliff genealogy even more complete. At this time, the genealogy goes back to approximately 1536 with John Sutcliffe, Sr. who married Margaret Owlsworth (or Holdsworth). We now have a trace of some back to William (The Lion) King of Scotland, in 1214. Also, a Sutcliff registration at the College of Arms shows that one Roger de Suthclif held land in the parish of Halifax in 1240.

I am also interested in the female members of the family, as they are more difficult to trace. I have found that they are a valuable source of information and their family lines are just as important to the Sutliff genealogy.

There will be disks available which are formatted on Macintosh computer, Word 5.1 if that is helpful. If anyone is interested in a book please let me know how many books that I should make up. I don't intend to try pushing this book, but there may be a few that will want it. A loose leaf full-page version is the most requested and I will have to decide what the price is after completion as I am only trying to cover my expenses. I can also produce bound books but it is more work. If you are interested please contact me as it is very costly to send out letters.

Thank you,

Donald D Sutliff

P. S. In addition to the original compilation, there is also a supplement that was completed in 1996, and a new 1998 supplement is in the process. If you have any questions about this you may contact me at the following address, phone number, or e-mail address.

You may get more than one letter as it is hard to sort through all of the address. SORRY ABOUT THAT.

Oh! yes I want you to know that Hugh E. Sutliff has been working to complete the Irish Sutliff lines and he has connected most that we know came from Ireland. It seems Edward that his children came to America in 1810 is a brother of of his Line name was John And I think He has made in roads to Ireland also So lets git with it. Hugh's address is 6304 Friars Rd. Apt. 140 registration at their office in Ames shows that one Roger de Sautelle held land in that vicinity. The date is 1914.

I am also interested in the female members of the family as they are more difficult to trace. I have found that they are a valuable source of information and their family lines are just as important to the Sautelle family.

There will be disks available which are formatted on Sautelle computer Word 2. If that is helpful, if anyone is interested in a book please let me know how many books that I should make up. Dear families, some of old and some close,

Regarding a new compilation of Sutcliffe/Sutliffe/Sutliff genealogy:

I know that it would be more appropriate if I could write a personal letter to everyone, but due to the number of families that I am attempting to reach, a copy letter will have to suffice. My brother, Leo Curtis Sutliff, of Southern California spent a great deal of time contacting members of the family several years ago. There was a great deal of response at that time, and I have been working on this genealogy compilation for three years now and have continued to receive information. There have also been about six attempts to bring all of the Sutliff family together.

I have combined all of the information that has become available to me and some families are traced for seventeen generations, others have only fifteen generations spanning the same period of time. As a result, the book has turned out to be quite lengthy. I have indexed all of the names of Sutcliffe, Sutliffe, and Sutliff and all of the other surnames connected directly with the immediate families. The added lineages are not in the index.

I have about 800 Sutliff names with addresses to which I hope to send this letter. I realize that there may be many who are not in the book, but there will be blank pages in the back of the book so that families can be updated. There are also many places where dates are left blank because of a lack of information.

If everyone could send update information periodically, then I will attempt to send out updates annually to all of those who purchase this book. My hope is that others may some day help to make the book more complete. At this time, the genealogy goes back to approximately 1536 with John Sutcliffe, Sr. who married Margaret Owlsworth (or Holdsworth).

I am also interested in the female members of the family, as they are more difficult to trace. I have found that they are a valuable source of information and their family lines are just as important to the Sutliff genealogy.

The price of different versions of the book are as follows, including postage and handling cost:

$ 38.50 For the standard book
$ 45.00 For a 8 1/2 x 11 inch looseleaf version, w/o notebook
$ 20.00 For two disks formatted on Macintosh computer, Word 5.1

Thank you for your time, please let me know how many books that I should make up, as I have already started with fifty copies, but if the response to Samuel Milton Sutliff's book in 1909 is any indication, there should be a fairly large demand.

To whom it may concern,

Regarding the Sutliff genealogy compilation and its update:

You will find enclosed with this letter, a copy of the letter that was sent out last year upon the completion of a Sutliff genealogy compilation. The book includes all of the information collected by Bennett Hurd Sutcliffe prior to 1903. It also includes much of the work collected by Samuel Milton Sutliff, Jr. and published in 1909. The remainder of the information has been collected from relatives like yourself who have been kind enough to send information. This leads to the purpose of this letter.

Everyone who has purchased a book in the last year will receive a loose-leaf packet in the summer of 1996, which will contain all of the updates and corrections that have been obtained after the printing of the book. If you are able to purchase the book and send corrections and updates to Donald Sutliff by April 1996, we will include the information in the packet. We have already provided additional information as far back as Abel Sutliff (159) and Levi Sutliff (195), both of whom were born in the mid-1700s. We have also located a descendent of the Irish line of the Sutliff family who can trace his descendants back to 1710 in America. We will be able to include this information in the update as well.

If you have brief histories of your immediate family, we would be glad to include that as well. Genealogy can become more meaningful when there is a historical attachment. Historians are just beginning to understand that the history of average men and women is just as important to the shaping of a country's social and cultural heritage as the people in the current history books. Remember, we are also interested in all of the Sutliff women and the spouses of Sutliff's. Please send us all of the information that you can possibly attain on your family.

If you have family members who did not receive this letter, we would appreciate it if you could send us their addresses so that they will have the opportunity to buy this book if they are interested. We contacted one man in Arkansas that did not realize there were any Sutliff's left in the United States besides his immediate family. If you need assistance obtaining information on your family, you can call or write Donald Sutliff, he will be happy to assist.

On the previous letter, you will find that two disks can be purchased with the complete genealogy on them, but it is only formatted for Macintosh computers. We are in the experimental phase for converting the files so they can be read by an IBM-compatible computer. My computer can format IBM disks, but I do not have the current knowledge to convert the files. If you are interested in an IBM version, or have information that would assist me in converting the files, I would be grateful. My address is as follows:

Dear Donald:

Received your letter today regarding the availability of the Sutliff-Sutcliffe Book. It sounds as if I would be better off with the loose leaf version, since you are adding the annual update. Enclosed is my check for $45.00.

As soon as I have reviewed my material on my branch of the Sutliff Family, will send you a copy so that you will have it for your next update.

Thank you for replyins so soon.

Sincerely,

Lucy M. Weaver

Hi Lucy,

Here is what mom got from Joan McBride - she sent mom a letter after she asked for info. If you could get any more info from Joan please let me know - I'm very interested in finding out more about the Mincks.

Information I have on Minck family in Paulding Co, Ohio: Minck family came over to Junction, Ohio in 1855 or 1856. They were from Alsace-Lorraine region of what is now France. Daughters in this family had the names of Katherine, Theresa, Elizabeth, and Mary. A son in this family was Richard Minck. I don't know who their parents were. They were born around 1810 to 1820 presumably with other information that I have. Richard was born in Austria. Richard married (wife's name unknown) and had a son named Anthony who was born in France in 1835. Anthony went at 16 to become a banker (or a baker?) in Paris (1850 or so). The whole family moved to US in 1855 or 56. (Richard, spouse and son Anthony). Anthony married Mary Dick on July 18, 1859 in Defiance, Ohio at St. John's Catholic Church. They had nine kids - John, Michael, Margaret, Anna, Mayme, Elizabeth, Mary, Anthony and Joseph Anthony. Joseph Anthony married Sarah M. Coressel in Defiance, Ohio (St. Michael's Church) in 1892. Michael married Elizabeth Cussin (not sure of the spelling) and had five kids - Alfred, John, Clara, Nelly and Michael. Alfred died 1983, John died 1984, Nelly died 1989, Michael died 1982. These dates are estimates from my mom but I recall meeting them all and I was born in 1979. You could call Bunny at (419) 497-3107 if you want more info - but she probably does not have any more than I do. My phone is (216) 226-6743. Address: 12700 Lake Ave. #1104, Lakewood, OH, 44107.

I'll give you a quick update about my family also. Libby graduated from Old Dominion U. in 2000. Then she started her Master's at ODU in Technical writing and Journalism (I think it was a combined program but I'm not sure). Then she and her boyfriend, Liam Kelly, moved to Miami where he started Law school (at U. of M.) She finished her Master's degree in December of 2001 telecommuting/computer learning from Miami to ODU. Now she is working at Jones College in Miami teaching freshman English part time. I think she is trying to get a job in research at U of M although I'm not sure what areas she is researching. I am graduating from Case Western Reserve U. in May of this year. I will have a B.A. in Psychology and Sociology. Then I am looking for a job for a year to get clinical experience in psychology. After that I want to get a Master's degree at least in Clinical or Counseling Psychology - I'm still deciding what the plan is. I'm working at CWRU doing research in schizophrenia medications and also (a separate project) affect expressions in children's play. Tyler (20 years old now) is going to attend art school at Cleveland Institute of Art next year. He finished a year at University of Toledo and decided to transfer to just focus on art. Frank (18) is going to Ohio State U. in the fall and will graduate high school this year. He loves to learn about German culture and language and wants to study anthropology. Nate (17) is still in high school. I don't know what his plans are, but he is interested in criminology and law. Bunny still has her job at Sears, but wants to retire soon - probably in the next five years. She misses X-Ray but there are not many opportunities for that now in Defiance since most of the physicians send their people to Defiance Hospital instead of using their private office for that. Denny is still at Defiance Hospital emergency room where he's been for 30 years now.

148 Cussin Daniel - Cussin/Muncel

Thanks for everything - let me know when/if you get more info on the Mincks or any other family.

"Let the Laughter Out"³
by

Harry Brokaw,
East Liverpool, Ohio
circa 1935

It takes a lot of courage
To keep from feeling blue,
And antidotes are needed
To keep the spirits true;
But when just loads of trouble
Are locked within the heart,
The man that keeps on smiling
Oft plays the hero's part.

Your friends may never know
The effort that it takes
To show a grin that cheerful,
And cover up the aches;
But the world cares not for trouble,
It likes to see you smile,
So if you're sad and gloomy,
You'd better change your style.

We find, somehow or other,
A good wide healthy grin,
Oft makes the best impression,
And proves the chance to win.
If you would make life cheerful,
And put the foe to rout,
You'd better touch the button
That lets the laughter out.

This a poem that Mom cut out and saved from at Lakeside trip soon after her Mother passed.

Obituary of Virginia Marguerite Lenhart

Virginia Marguerite Lenhart, 95, passed away at home on Tuesday, March 28, 2017, surrounded by her family.

She was born in Defiance, Ohio, on April 7, 1921, to Gale and Mary (Bunke) Vaughn. A 1939 graduate of Defiance High School, Virginia attended Defiance College and was graduated from Bowling Green University in 1943 as a member of the honorary education sorority, Kappa Delta Pi. A life-long educator, Virginia taught at the BGSU primary school and was the first-grade teacher in Oakwood, Ohio. While raising a family of eight children Virginia volunteered at the Good Samaritan School and tutored students through school and church programs. In her 50's Virginia earned her real estate license working in that profession to age 90.

She was a member of University Women, Daughters of the American Revolution and Ohio Realtors Association. A member of Trinity United Methodist church for over ninety years, Virginia cherished her service on the Administrative Board and as a delegate to the annual church conference. She credited her church family with being a lifeline after her mother died when Virginia was just 13. She believed the greatest gift she could give to others was her faith.

Virginia never met a stranger. She loved sharing her stories and making people laugh. She delighted in time spent at the Methodist Chataqua of Lakeside, Ohio; "God's Country" as she called it. Virginia will be remembered for her huge heart and natural way with people, her can-do attitude and remarkable green thumb.

Virginia is survived by her children, Mary (David) Bernabucci of Alexandria, Virginia, Sarah (Dr. Edmund) Pezalla of Wethersfield, Connecticut, Phillip (Sally) Lenhart of Rocky River, Ohio, Roberta (Michael) Burke of Arlington, Virginia, and Virginia (Mark) Bell of Shepherdsville, Kentucky, 17 grandchildren, 6 great-grandchildren and 2 great-great-grandchildren. She is preceded in death by her parents, brother Richard Vaughn (Columbus), daughters Tamara Sue Lenhart and Amy Joan (Lenhart) Scharff and by Dr. Francis M. Lenhart.

Funeral Service will be at 1:00 P.M. April 1, 2017, at the Trinity United Methodist Church, Defiance, Ohio, with the Rev. C. Edwin Pellett officiating. Private interment will follow at Riverside Cemetery.

CELEBRATING THE LIFE Of

VIRGINIA MARGUERITE LENHART

April 7, 1921-March 28, 2017

"It's better to wear out than to rust out."

Thou art the salvation of my countenance and my God, whom I must love

O most gracious Virgin Mary that never was it known, that any one who fled to thy protection, implored thy help and sought thy intercession was left unaided. Inspired with this confidence I fly unto thee, O Virgin of Vergins, my mother. To thee I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful.

O Mother of the Word I Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me. Amen.

Remember Me In Quiet Days

Remember me in quiet days, while raindrops
whisper on your pane.
Remember in your memories have no grief,
let the joy we knew remain.
Remember me if once you wake,
to catch a glimpse of red sunrise.
Remember when your thoughts do turn to me, know that I would not have you cry, but live for me, and laugh for me.
When you are happy so am I.
Remember an old joke we shared.
Remember me when spring walks by.

A Mother-Daughter Duo... Bring Equine Therapy To Defiance!

By Rose Hollo

Mary Jo (Jodi) Lenhart-Young, daughter of John and Pauline Lenhart, was born and raised on a farm on Adams Ridge Road in Defiance County, Ohio.

Some of her daily chores included helping take care of all the farm animals and hoeing the fields in the summer.

History In 4-H

Jodi says, "My Father was a 4-H advisor and a very active Fair Board member.

THE FIRST WEEK OF LATE SUMMER LUNAR PHASE AND LORE

The Katydid and Cricket moon, full on August 10 and reaching perigee on the same day, wanes and weakens throughout the period, entering its final quarter at 7:26 a.m. on August 17. Rising in the evening and setting near midday, this moon moves overhead after midnight, encouraging fish to bite – especially as the August 17 cool front approaches, forcing down the barometer. The waning moon is favored for harvests of all kinds. Also, plant late autumn root crops, peas and greens under Pisces on August 11 - 13.

WEATHER TRENDS

The cool front that typically arrives in August's second week can bring frost to the higher elevations in the West. Its strength frequently causes violent weather throughout the Great Plains and Midwest. The August front teasel time is over.

August 16: In the night sky, the Summer Triangle shifts into the west, following June's Corona Borealis and Hercules. Delphinus, the Dolphin, is due south. After midnight, autumn's Pleiades rise up over the northeastern tree line. Orion fills the east before dawn.

August 17: The weak moon (entering its final phase today) could weaken the weather system that sometimes brings the chance of a killing frost to portions of the North as well as snow at upper elevations in the Rocky Mountains.

August 18: Goldenrod and the rich purple of ironweed brighten the fields, while tall bellflowers soften the mood of the decaying forest undergrowth with their blossoms of powder blue August 19: Big, white puffball mushrooms emerge like moons among spring's rotting stems and leaves.

IN THE FIELD AND GARDEN

August 13: Elderberries and wild grapes should be perfect for juice and wine by the middle of the month. Garlic planting time is here along the Canadian border from Washington to Maine.

August 14: Grazing sheep and cattle together may result in fewer losses of sheep to predators since cattle are larger and tend to be more aggressive.

August 15: Second-crop raspberry and strawberry harvest time picks up.

August 16: Mum selling time is approaching for the mum growers. Pansy time is here for the autumn pansy market.

August 17: Second brood corn borers, the second generation of bean leaf beetles, and the rootworm beetles still work the fields. Banded ash clearwings attack local ash trees.

August 18: The summer apple harvest is more than half complete along the 40th Parallel. Farmers are making preparations for the seeding of winter rye, wheat, and barley.

ry will be considered for the grand prize of $50.00 and a certificate. And there will be four runners up that will win $5.00 prizes – and they'll get certificates, too. If you don't win a prize but your story appears in this Almanack, Poor Will is going to pay you $4.00! All stories could appear in an annual edition of the Almanack.

my brothers, Gary and Gene.

"They would stack bales of straw and make the coolest tunnels in the haymow and we'd swing across the mows on the pulleys and jump in a huge pile of loose straw.

"I mucked stalls and pens and groomed my animals.

"My animals have always been my therapy.

"You love them and they love you back unconditionally.

"I sat on my father's lap when he drove tractor.

"The highlight of my tractor days was when I was seven years old, and my Father and I were taking grain to the elevator and he let me take the steering wheel.

"We had all kinds of animals on our farm, including a pet fox and pheasants.

"On weekends I went deer and fox hunting with my Father so I wouldn't have to stay home, cooking and cleaning," Jodi laughs.

"Dad and I hung out at Minsel's Grocery Store in Jewell, the Jewell Elevator and the Evansport Fox Hunters Club."

Her father rented farmland from Mr. Zimmerman.

One day, Mr. Zimmerman

surprisingly brought Jodi a paint horse named Dolly.

She still has the trunk with the original tack.

When her older brothers graduated from high school, her father retired from farming and her parents built their retirement home in the country north of Defiance and sold the farm.

While Jodi was a full-time caregiver for her parents for 30 years, (her mother was partially paralyzed from polio, and later suffered from dementia), she missed living on the farm and would often ask her mother if they could build a barn and get a horse.

Her Mother would laugh and say, "No."

Jodi says, "Once a farm girl, always a farm girl.

"It's in your blood."

Jodi's Daughter

Jodi made two promises to her daughter, Jami, while she was growing up in her grandparents' home.

First, she would take her on a cruise and second, she would get Jami a horse.

They enjoyed their cruise on the Pacific years ago, but Jodi was indebted to fulfill her second promise to her daughter.

Jodi Gets a Horse

After Jodi's mother, Pauline, passed away in March of 2010, Jodi was visiting one of her best friends, Cindy, who had also previously lost her mother.

Cindy confided in Jodi saying, "I think I'm going to get a horse."

Jodi's instant reply was, "Well if you're getting a horse, then I'm getting a horse."

Cindy commented, "Ok, great, then you can keep your horse here."

And that's how the story begins: Five single women, including Jodi's daughter Jami, went horse shopping on a Sunday morning after church.

They bought three horses that day.

A Long Commute

Jami lived south of Defiance and they drove to the farm every day, where Duke, their first horse, was boarded.

Once 'Old Man Winter' came along, driving on ice became challenging on the daily trek to Jami proposed it's time to build a barn and bring her horse home to the Lenhart house.

Building that barn on the family property was a dream-come-true for both mother and daughter.

Life Takes a Turn

One evening while Jodi was at work, her co-worker Ray sat down in a chair in her office and started crying.

Jodi said, "Ray, what's wrong?"

Ray proceeded to tell Jodi that the Equine Therapeutic Center in Wauseon, where his special needs daughter took therapy sessions, just gave their clients one weeks' notice they were closing the doors after 15 years.

Jodi asked Ray, "Do they have any tack for sale?"

Ray gave Jodi the non-profit business's phone number.

Jodi contacted her daughter Jami and said, "Call this gal and see if she has any tack for sale."

Less than two hours later, Jodi received a call from Jami: "Mom, we can't let this business close their doors and leave all these children with no place to go."

Well, you can imagine what happened next...one week later, Jami, who was previously employed in insurance, went out on

She learned, "Jesus tells the rich man to give everything away."

Jami feels lucky because she gets to see this sort of kindness every day from the kids that come to the farm, and from volunteers.

According to Jami, caring comes from thinking about other peoples' needs.

Area bed & breakfast and inns staying busy

By DARLENE PRINCE
prince@crescent-news.com

Beautifully appointed historic homes and quiet little inns are being used as bed and breakfast establishments in many cities, towns and rural areas across the country. They offer a more personal approach to traveling and, sometimes, a connection to the local history through the owner.

There is one bed and breakfast home and two inns in the Defiance six-county area — the Augusta Rose Bed & Breakfast in Napoleon, the Frank Baker Inn in Defiance and the Bittersweet Inn in Paulding.

The Augusta Rose Bed & Breakfast has been in operation as a bed and breakfast since 1996 by owners Ed and Mary Hoeffel. It is located on West Main Street, about one block from the Maumee River. The Queen Anne style Victorian house, with a turret and wrap-around porch, perfectly fits the popular image of a traditional bed and breakfast. In the 1890-era historic home, modern amenities best experience possible.

Most students attend weekly for a month session at a time, but many attend for life.

Donations Needed

Besides volunteers, Jami says there are many daily and one-time needs for the organization.

Her list of needs include hay feed, a lightweight portable wheelchair ramp, adaptive equipment, saddles, a draft or stock horse trailer (open type), a dump truck and a small tractor with a loader to help move manure.

Of course, cash donations are always welcomed.

It costs over five dollars each day just to feed each horse!

Currently, LCF is holding a cash raffle in which the winner could receive $2,500 in cash with a $250 FireKeepers Casino-Hotel (Battle Creek) Gift Card and transportation by Defiance Limos.

Each raffle donation is $10, and can be purchased at Holgate Implement Sales, from Donna at Coldwell Banker Sigg Realty, Westwood Saloon and from LCF staff and volunteers.

All donations and raffle ticket purchases are tax-deductible.

The barn is a busy place with volunteers, a professional therapist, a mother and an Autistic student named Ben, 6, who is visiting for his weekly therapy session.

Ben was not happy about putting on his helmet, but the moment he was placed on his horse, his face lit up with a smile.

His big, bright eyes went from tears to beaming as he rode his therapy horse around the yard.

I heard him speak while signing "thank you," at the end of his ride.

This is a big deal for Ben, who is visiting for his fourth week.

Jody Mohring, of Archbold, is Ben's therapist, and is one of the only paid employees.

Jody relates that she's always had an interest in horses, but this is her first time working directly with horses in a therapeutic setting.

Her traditional role has been working as an Intervention Specialist at Defiance City Schools, and was previously a pre-school teacher, working with students with special needs.

She attended training for equine therapy at Lily Creek Farms (LCF) and is now happy to be working with children in this environment.

ing and how we're doing what we can with what we have.

What they have is one barn, a couple of therapy horses, a small riding yard, a couple of specially trained therapists, a handful of very dedicated volunteers and some very big hearts.

All of the animals on the farm are rescued, but Jami emphasizes that, "We are not a rescue."

Lily Creek Farms' goal is to eventually obtain land for a larger outdoor riding area and an indoor arena for therapy sessions.

They started operations last summer, but had to shut down during the winter because they have no indoor facility.

Jami notes that they have about 10 students signed up for therapy right now, and typical lessons take place on Tuesday and Thursday nights, with students visiting once weekly.

The most common diagnoses she currently sees at the Farm include Autism and Cerebral Palsy.

About Therapy

"Little Victories" happen here every day, according to Jami, from watching a young man's stiff leg straighten for the first time, to a student with very little vocabulary and a short attention span begin speaking to his horse and following the directions of his instructors.

The benefits of equine therapy are numerous, and include physical, emotional and mental rewards.

The movement of a horse's pelvis closely simulates the movement of the human pelvis in normal gait, and riders have been known to improve their walking abilities, as well as flexibility, muscular strength and balance.

Emotionally, horses help riders develop independence, self-esteem and patience.

"Therapeutic riding transcends traditional therapeutic methods and provides people with the joy of participating in a program that offers social, athletic, and personal rewards, while providing benefits as well."—Robert T. Kramer, Chief,

Tiny transplants

ARA Content

After nine months of pregnancy, an adorable bundle of love becomes part of your life.

Bringing your baby home from the hospital is a special day, as you look forward to watching this perfect little human being grow and learn. Imagine discovering a week or a month later that your child has developed a serious health problem and will need surgery. Whom do you trust with that tiny little body?

Heather Voss knows that feeling all too well. Her daughter Skyline was a happy, healthy baby — or so they thought — right up until they learned she needed a heart transplant.

"When she was a month and a half old, she went off to daycare in the morning, and within two hours she was in the local emergency room," says Heather.

cessfully to treat the condition with medication, doctors told Heather that Skyline needed a heart transplant.

Luckily for Skyline, her family lives in Minnesota, so she was transferred to the University of Minnesota Children's Hospital, Fairview, one of the nation's premier facilities for pediatric heart transplants. Founded in 1981, the transplant center's pediatric organ transplantation program is the only one in the state that regularly serves infants.

The team of experts at University of Minnesota Children's Hospital specializes in stabilizing children pre-transplant, performing heart transplantations and providing follow up medical care. Physicians at the hospital performed the first infant heart transplant in Minnesota on a six-month-old baby and have since performed a heart transplant on a one-month-old child.

Skyline was three months old when she had her heart transplant. She spent two months in the hospital following her surgery. She is now 10 months old, and "doing really well," says her mom.

Although Skyline suffered one bout of rejection, she has since been able to decrease the amount of anti-rejection medication. "We're down to a check up every six weeks," reports Heather.

Dr. Cynthia Herrington, a cardiovascular and thoracic transplant surgeon who was part of Skyline's medical team, explains that there are many different reasons that a child might need a heart transplant, such as congenital heart disease, a heart defect, or as in Skyline's case, cardiomyopathy.

"Heart transplants are the best hope for pediatric patients with serious heart disease," she says. "While there are a wide variety of support devices for adults, there aren't many options for children."

About 300 pediatric heart transplants are performed in the United States every year. Once a child is placed on the list for a heart transplant, it can be a matter of days or months before a heart is available. Skyline waited for three weeks before a match was found.

Many children are hospitalized during that time, as was the case with Skyline.

"It was really hard to see her heart deteriorate before she got her transplant," says Heather. "She was on a ventilator and her heart function was down to 5 percent."

While it was a very full time, Heather pr the doctors and nur were with Skyline al way. Heather looks to seeing the staff w she and Skyline go ba checkups.

"We have a long h research devoted to ing results for pedia patients. We are pro our reputation for in tion and advanced to gy in performing h transplants for infan children," says Herr

Health educator shares the truth about organ donation misconceptions

By LINDA EARLE
Williams County
Health educator

Last year, data from the United Network of Organ Sharing showed that nearly 26,000 people received an organ transplant. That means literally thousands of men, women and children received an organ trans-

Someone made the decision to donate their organs, in fact, to donate life. These donors and their family members are heroes to the kidney recipient who recovers from a near-fatal illness to walk his daughter down the aisle, or to a star athlete who goes on to win an Olympic medal. These individuals also stand as examples to everyone else by proving that one person and one decision can make a dramatic difference.

With the current number of people waiting for a transplant approaching 90,000, every person counts. Because of the current shortage of organs, 17 people die each day before an organ is available. But just one additional donor can impact up to 50 lives, either in a life-saving or life-enhancing way. When considering organ and tissue donation, it is important to make a decision based on accurate information.

Several misconceptions exist about organ and tissue donation. These are:

— Donation will be a financial burden to my family. There is no cost to the donor's family for donation. The costs are assumed by the recipients of the organs and tissues.

— I'm too old or sick to be a donor. Persons up to age 80 are potential donors. Suitability is determined on a case-by-case basis.

— Donation would mutilate my body. Donation is a dignified process and does not disfigure the body. Open casket visitations are possible.

— My indication to be a donor will affect the care I receive in the hospital. This is not true. Every effort is made to save a person's life. It is not until after death has been verified by a physician and the family consents that donation can occur. Transplant physicians are neither involved in a patient's care prior to death nor in the process of declaring the death of a potential donor.

— Wealthy or famous people get priority for organs. This is not true. A national computer system and strict federal, regional and local systems are in place to ensure ethical and equitable distribution of organs. Organs are allocated based on the potential recipient's blood type, body size, medical urgency, length of time on the waiting list and proximity to his/her transplant center.

For families who have discussed donation, the process is much easier. Donation of organs often helps families find some sense of hope in a tragic situation and shortens the grieving.

The decision you make could affect thousands of lives. In 2004, more than 2,000 people in Ohio died for organ transplant. More than 2,000 men, women and children are now waiting for an organ transplant. More than 89,000 are waiting nationwide.

One person deciding to donate an organ and tissue could help more than one person waiting for an organ and tissue transplant. Choosing to become an organ donor is as simple as signing a uniform donor card (the card on the back of your driver's license) and your decision with family members.

Potential donors can sign up with the new Donor Registry through the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles. Donors can online at www.donateohio.org. After making a decision, be sure to tell family.

Your Dental Health

FLUORIDE FACTS

About two-thirds of the U.S. population gets fluoridated water in their homes. Some communities have naturally occurring fluoride in their water while others add it to the water supply. Derived from fluorine, the thirteenth most common element in the earth's crust, fluoride helps combat decay by strengthening tooth enamel. This enables the hard, shiny, protective outer coating of the tooth to better resist the acid formed by plaque. In addition, fluoride allows teeth that are damaged by acid to repair (or remineralize) themselves. That is not to say that fluoride can repair cavities, but it can reverse low levels of tooth decay, thereby preventing new cavities from forming. Though fluoride benefits adults, it is particularly important for children's developing teeth.

Even with the numerous, innovative dental products, techniques, and equipment on the market today, you can't escape it-brushing, flossing, and fluoride remain at the cornerstone of good oral hygiene. These three elements of dental care will help ensure that your professional dental visits will be shorter, more comfortable, and less costly than if routine maintenance is ignored.

P.S. Tooth decay occurs when bacteria found in plaque breaks down sugars in food. This process produces acids that dissolve teeth's hard enamel surface to create a cavity.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

Board Certified in Obstetrics & Gynecology

Some Good News

Every two years since 1996, the American Cancer Society has issued a report that gives estimates of cases of breast cancer and deaths for the current year. The most recent report shows that progress in the early detection and treatment of breast cancer is paying lifesaving dividends with continuing decreases in mortality rates.

In fact, the report indicates that death rates from breast cancer have declined by 2.3% a year since 1990. The drop is most pronounced among younger women.

While the incidence in breast cancer actually increased by 0.3% a year from 1987 to 2002, it was limited to women 65 and older. Among women 55 and younger, the number of cases declined the same period.

Monthly breast exams are a life saver. So can visit your gynecologist.

My staff and I are here to protect your health with medical care. Whether dealing with contraception, or menopause, we put you by focusing on prevention of disease down the road. We understand the needs of women throughout the life cycle.

For more information call my office at 419-399-1745

We are conveniently located at the Paulding County Hospital Medical Office Building, 1032 West Wayne Street

Note: According to Breast Cancer Facts & Figures 2005-2006, the five-year relative survival rate for women diagnosed with breast cancer is 88% and the 10-year relative survival rate is 80%.

Family History

Peter Lenhart came to America from Germany in 1848. He purchased farm land in Defiance County, after spending two years in Cleveland as a Blacksmith. He eventually owned about 150 acres of farmland in Adams Township. Peter hewed a farm out of the wilderness, and left a name to be remembered with respect by his descendents. Peter's only son was John Lenhart, born in 1854. He inherited the home farm and married Elizabeth Coressel, Justin Coressel's aunt. They had twelve children. These people helped to build an America of which we can be proud. St. Michael's Ridge was little more than a wilderness when they lived and worked here. They worked under unbelievably difficult conditions, yet they were never daunted. They raised wonderful sons and daughters to carry on the family name and we can be proud of them.

We meet today for good fellowship, to renew old friendships and to honor the names of those valiant pioneers, Peter and John.

My Childhood's Prayer.

One thing, my God, I've asked of Thee,
It was my childhood's prayer,
And tho' dark storms have swept my soul,
One hope is steadfast there!
It is that I may live for Thee,
From earth's vain joys apart,
And find a home, a resting place,
Lord, in Thy Sacred Heart.

Oh, if I knew there was one chord
In this poor heart of mine,
That throbb'd with vain and sinful love,
And beat not true to Thine,
I'd break the tie, however dear, —
Tho' long the wound might smart,
For I would live, and love, and die,
Lord, in Thy Sacred Heart.

Then to Thy love a captive bind,
My soul with fetters strong,
For it has borne the sinner's chains,
And wept in darkness long.
But now I breathe my childhood's

Campaign for new senior facility hits its full stride

By JACK PALMER
palmer@crescent-news.com

Every nine seconds, there's a new senior citizen in the United States.

Five years from now, the frequency will be even greater.

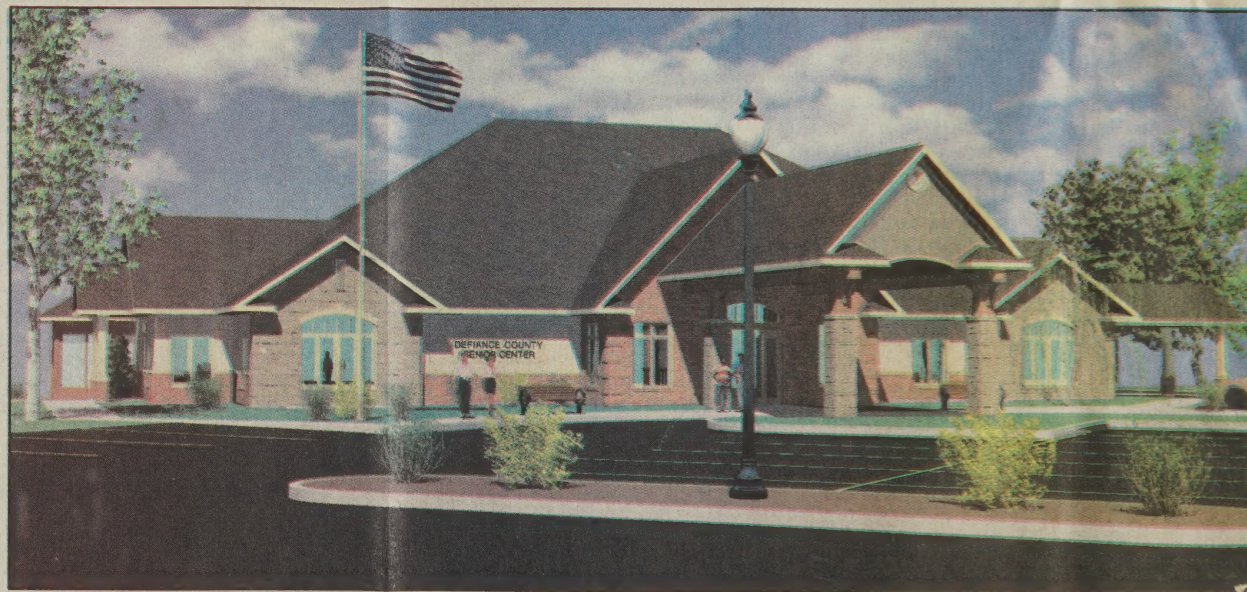

"Older adults are our foundation, our roots," said Tina Hiler, director of Defiance County Senior Services. "They share memories of the past, and wisdom gained through life experiences. They also use their gifts to fly high and accomplish great things, while providing wings for the dreams of younger generations.

"It's time we look to our future and build a new senior services facility."

Responding to both demographics and inadequate facilities, the Defiance County Senior Services Auxiliary has officially moved its building campaign from the "quiet" stage to front burner status.

Architect's sketch of new Defiance County Senior Services building to be built on city's east side is officially known as the "Roots and Wings Building Campaign."

Serving as chairmen are Bill Small, president and CEO of First Federal Bank of the Midwest; Rick Small, director of operations for Clear Channel Radio; and Lisa (Small) Sealscott, a charge nurse for Laurels of Defiance.

Sealscott is Hiler's sister, while Bill and Rick Small are Hiler's first cousins.

"We didn't have to go far to recruit our campaign leaders," Hiler said with a smile. "Bill, Rick and Lisa have all visited the center many times and observed our program. They are amazed at how much we do with our limited space."

Hiler said the target goal is $2.5 million.

"We have received about $600,000 already, which includes $300,000 in grant funds," she reported. "Our goal is to raise the rest of the money by Dec. 31 and break ground next spring."

"It's going to be a stretch, but with a lot of hard work we can get the job done," said Bill Small, who chaired the successful Defiance school levy campaign last fall. "There is no doubt it's attainable."

A Prayer to the Graduates

As we prepare to watch the graduate walk across the stage to receive a diploma, we want to take a moment to thank You for keeping them safe and guiding them to this point.

Lord, touch them now with wisdom to be able to handle the next stage of their lives in a way that will be pleasing to You, and that will set them on a path of living a life that will be a blessing to others. Amen

Seven security incidents in a day disrupt U.S. flights

HOUSTON (AP) — U.S. and Argentine authorities were investigating how a stick of dynamite in a college student's checked luggage ended up on a Houston-bound flight, one of seven security incidents that disrupted U.S. flights in a day.

There was no indication terrorism was involved in any of the incidents, which caused two flights to be diverted, others to be delayed and passengers to be questioned.

The dynamite was discovered during a baggage search in an inspection station at Bush Intercontinental Airport shortly after Continental Airlines Flight 52 from Argentina landed early Friday.

Argentina's chief of airport security police, Marcelo Sain, said in a televised interview Friday that authorities there were in contact with U.S. officials as they opened their own probe into how the explosive got into the baggage.

The student, 21-year-old Howard McFarland Fish, was charged with carrying an explosive aboard an aircraft and was in the custody of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

Houston Fire Department Assistant Chief Omero Longoria said Fish told authorities he works in mining and often handles explosives.

Fish's father, Howard, said he is certain his son, who bought the dynamite while visiting a silver mine while traveling in South America, intended no harm.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in Houston said he would appear before a federal magistrate Monday. Carrying an explosive aboard an aircraft carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a fine of up to $250,000.

The incident could have been disastrous and raises questions about security in overseas airports, said Bill Waldock, aviation safety professor at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Arizona, adding that dynamite can be unstable if it's old.

In other incidents:

— An American Airlines flight from England to Chicago was forced to land in Bangor, Maine, after federal officials "learned of a reported threat," FBI spokeswoman Gail Marcinkiewicz said. Marcinkiewicz said no one was arrested but declined to say if anyone from the flight out of Manchester was in custody.

— A US Airways jet was diverted to Oklahoma City's Will Rogers World Airport after a federal air marshal subdued a disruptive passenger who had pushed a flight attendant, the FBI said.

The passenger was undergoing a mental evaluation, and authorities had yet to determine what criminal charges he might face. The twin-engine jet returned to flight three hours later on its trip from Phoenix to Charlotte, N.C. — A Continental Airlines flight from Corpus Christi, Texas, to Bakersfield, Calif., was held in El Paso, one of its scheduled stops, after the crew discovered a missing panel in the lavatory, authorities said.

— A utility knife was found on a vacant passenger seat of a US Airways flight that had traveled from Philadelphia to Bradley International Airport in Connecticut, state police said. No arrests were made and there were no threats involved, said Master Sgt. J. Paul Vance, state police spokesman.

— An Aer Lingus flight from New York to Dublin was evacuated Friday morning during a scheduled stopover in western Ireland following a bomb threat that turned out to be unfounded, officials said.

— A United Airlines flight out of Chicago's O'Hare International Airport was delayed because a small boy said something inappropriate, according to a government official speaking on condition of anonymity because of the sensitivity of the information. "He didn't want to fly," the official said.

Tabatha Cramer is greeted by her family at Meadows Field in Bakersfield, Calif., on Friday, many hours after her Continental Airlines flight's scheduled arrival. The flight was held in El Paso, Texas, one of its scheduled stops, after the crew discovered a missing panel in the lavatory, authorities said.

Rubin resignation caps a crazy week at Ford

DETROIT — Ford Motor Co. started last week with its stock tanking as it was downgraded by analysts. Then there were reports that the company is talking with Nissan-Renault about an alliance. Later came speculation that Ford could go private, and finally one of its board members resigned.

It was been a dizzying week of news for the nation's No. 2 automaker, capped Friday by the announcement of the resignation of Ford's chief executive, Alan Mulally.

Knights of Columbus Hall

*God saw he was getting tired
And a cure was not to be.
So He put His arms around him
And whispered, "Come with Me."
With tearful eyes we watched him suffer
And saw him fade away.
Although we loved him dearly,
We could not make him stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.*

Time To Say Goodbye

Till We Meet Again

Dear Lucy and Fred:

Thank you for your kind words of sympathy - they were greatly appreciated.

Tom had been ill for many years, never complaining. He was a gentle man and a gentleman. I miss him so very much but keep telling myself he doesn't suffer any longer and is in a better place.

Congratulations on your marriage, may you be blessed with many years of happiness.

Love,
Peggy

A. Helen Lawson

TOLEDO — A. Helen Lawson, 85, of Toledo, Ohio, surrounded by her family, left this earth on July 1, 2014, and went to be with The Lord after a long battle with cancer.

Born February 4, 1929, in Defiance, to Marvin and Amelia Gallup, Helen married James L. Lawson on August 18, 1951, and they had four children.

A graduate of St. Vincent Hospital School of Nursing, Helen was proud to be a registered nurse. During her 20-plus years at St. Vincent Hospital, she was a nursing instructor and worked in the retina unit. Helen also held nursing positions locally at the pediatric office of Henry Cullin and Brookfield, as well as Hospice and Ask A Nurse while residing in Florida.

Helen loved sewing, reading, dancing and playing endless hours of cards.

Helen was preceded in death by her parents, Marvin and Amelia; her husband, James L. Lawson; brother, Samuel Gallup; and sisters, Mary Weber and Betty DeLaet.

She is survived by her sisters, Ruth May of Defiance and Sr. Janet Gallup, Boston; brother, John Gallup, Quebec; sons, James J. Lawson (Cindy) and John H. Lawson (Mary); daughters, Janet M. Malinowski (Mark) and Judi L. Scott; grandchildren, Katie Daggett (Lyle), Michael Lawson, Jeffrey Seiler (Sara) Stephanie Doyle (Michael), Heather Lawson, Brian Pruss (Jody), Katelyn Scott, Amanda Scott and Dylan Scott; and 12 great-grandchildren.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to all the caregivers that were so gracious with their time and loving in their care for Helen during her illness.

Visitation will be held Sunday, July 6, 2014, from 4-8 p.m. at Walter Funeral Home, 4653 Glendale Avenue, Toledo, Ohio. The funeral services will begin with prayers at the funeral home on Monday at 9:15 a.m. with a Mass of Christian Burial to follow at St. Joan of Arc Catholic Church at 10 a.m. Interment will be held at Resurrection Cemetery, Toledo, Ohio.

NOTED

Lucille Kretz

PERRYSBURG — Lucille R. (Killion) Kretz, 91, Perrysburg, passed away peacefully on Saturday, March 23, 2019, at the Hospice of Northwest Ohio in Perrysburg.

She was born in Defiance, Ohio, to Raymond and Margaret (Keller) Killion on October 16, 1927. She married Donald K. Kretz on May 7, 1949, and was happily married until his death in 1994. First and foremost, Lucille was a great mother, grandmother and a faithful friend; happiest when doing things for others.

Lucille was a member of St. Rose Catholic Church for nearly 50 years and a volunteer there for many of those years. She prided herself on her independence; she lived alone and was still driving at the age of 91. Although Lucille had a walker, she never used it for fear of looking old.

Lucille is survived by her children, Mark Kretz, Michael Kretz, Gary (Lynn) Kretz, Kathy Kretz (Chris Snyder) and Amy Didion; grandchildren, Chelsea (Luke), Lindsay (Jamie), Jesse (Charity), Adam (Megan), Sarah, Shelby (George) and Mitchell (Amanda); and great-grandchildren, Sienna, Tyler, Silas and Natalie.

She was preceded in death by her husband; siblings, Nellie, Eugene, Nancy; and children-in-law, Annie, Michael and John.

A funeral service will start at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, March 28, 2019, at Witzler-Shank Funeral Home, 222 E. South Boundary Street, Perrysburg (419-874-3133). Burial will take place at Riverview Memory Gardens in Defiance, Ohio, at 2 p.m.

Memorial donations in Lucille's name may be made to Hospice of Northwest Ohio, 30000 E. River Road, Perrysburg, Ohio. Online condolences to the family may be made at www.witzlershank.com.

Betty Meyer

NAPOLEON — Betty R. Meyer, 83, died at 6 a.m. Sunday, January 3, 2021, at Northcrest Nursing Home (Elara Caring Hospice) in Napoleon, Ohio.

She was born November 2, 1937, in Napoleon, Ohio, the daughter of the late Lawrence and Mary Rose (Thompson) Hoeffel. She was a graduate of Napoleon High School and International Business College. Betty was united in marriage with Phillip (Phil) Meyer on September 16, 1961. She retired from the Community Memorial Hospital, where she also volunteered for Meals on Wheels. Betty was best known for her love of cooking, as well as her sense of humor. She was an active member of St. Michael's Catholic Church, the Rosary Alter Society and the Parish Council in Hicksville, Ohio. Betty was a volunteer sitter for the Alzheimer's group and a member of the Hicksville Eagles Aerie 2556 and Eagles Auxiliary for over 50 years.

Betty is survived by her two children, Steve Meyer of Saucier, Mississippi, and Susan (Brad) Poper of Bluffton, Indiana; six grandchildren; two stepgrandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and five great-stepgrandchildren. Betty also leaves behind two sisters, Mary (Ed) Slattery-Hesselschwardt and Grace (Mike) Speiser, as well as two brothers, Bill and Ed (Mary Catherine) Hoeffel.

She was preceded in death by her husband and daughter-in-law, LeeAnn.

A private Mass of Christian burial for Betty will be held at St. Michael's Catholic Church, Hicksville, Ohio, with Father Dan Borgelt officiating. Interment will be made at Forest Home Cemetery, Hicksville, Ohio. Oberlin-Turnbull Funeral Home, Hicksville, Ohio, is entrusted with her care.

In lieu of flowers and gifts, memorials may be made to St. Michael Catholic Church or a charity of the donor's choice.

Philip Lenhart

ROCKY RIVER — Philip Michael Lenhart, 68, Rocky River, passed away January 11, 2020, in the loving arms of his wife, Sally; and children, Katherine and Alexander, at Cleveland Clinic Fairview Hospital.

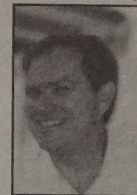

Phil was born in Defiance, Ohio, to Francis and Virginia (Vaughn) Lenhart on December 19, 1951. He graduated from Defiance High School, and recently enjoyed reconnecting with friends at his 50th year class reunion. Phil graduated from Defiance College in 1973, where he was active in student government, led the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and was known for his spirited parties. He married Sally Jaeger in 1976, and proceeded to work for Aetna before starting his own financial services company, from which he retired in 2017. He was most proud of his family, for whom he was a constant presence and a pillar of support. Phil was known for his kindness to others and his good humor. He was fiercely loyal to his principles and always looked out for others who could not look out for themselves.

He is survived by his wife of 43 years, Sally; his daughter, Katherine Grace (Eric Apper) of New York, New York; his son, Alexander Stewart of Rocky River, Ohio; his sisters, Mary Bernabucci (David) of Alexandria, Virginia, Sarah Pezalla (Dr. Edmund) of Wethersfield, Connecticut, Dr. Martha Lenhart (Dr. James Cox) of Silver Springs, Maryland, Rebecca Stork (Dan Schindler) of Ney, Ohio, Roberta Burke (Michael) of Arlington, Virginia, and Virginia Bell (Mark) of Jensen Beach, Florida; many nephews, nieces, grand-nephews and grandnieces; brother-in law, Stewart Jaeger of Plainville, Connecticut; and special friends, Kathy Koch and Delbert Hammond, both of Defiance, Ohio.

He was preceded in death by his parents and sisters, Tamera Sue Lenhart and Amy Joan Scharff (Gary).

Funeral services will be held Friday, January 24, 2020, at 10:30 a.m. at Rocky River United Methodist Church, 19414 Detroit Road, Rocky River, Ohio. Interment will follow at Lakewood Park Cemetery. The family will receive friends on Thursday, January 23, from 5-8 p.m. at Berry-McGreevey Funeral Home, 26691 Detroit Road, Westlake, Ohio.

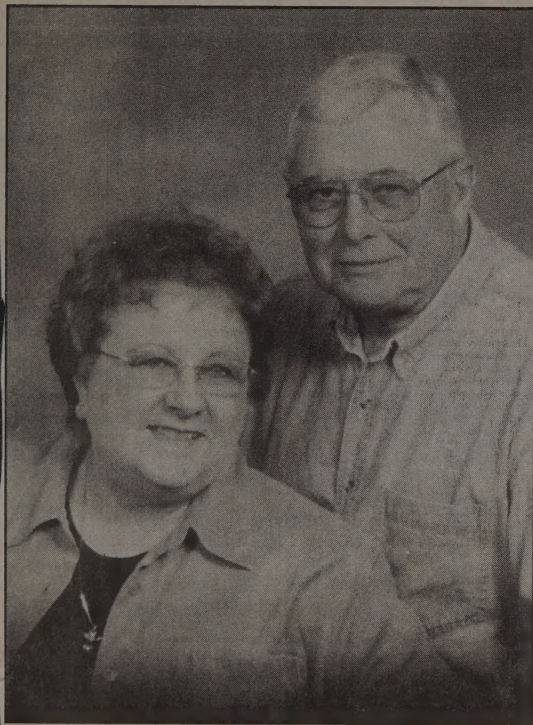

In lieu of flowers, contributions to honor Phil's life may be made to the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 22718, Oklahoma City, Okla. 73123-1718.

Bernice Westrick

Bernice L. Westrick, 87, passed away Friday, December 26, 2014, surrounded by her husband and family at her home in Defiance after 13+ years with Alzheimer's.

Bernice was born on December 13, 1927, to Jacob and Mary (Welch) Clemens in Defiance County, Ohio. She married Eugene Westrick on July 28, 1951. Bernice was a graduate of Florida High School in Florida, Ohio. She worked at several offices in the Defiance area before she married. Later on, Bernice worked for the Campbell Soup Company in Napoleon for 15 years, retiring in 1985. She was a wonderful mother, a great cook and loved to garden. She raised enough fruits and vegetables to can and freeze for the family needs.

Westrick

Bernice is survived by her loving husband, Eugene; sons, Steven (Brenda) Westrick of Defiance and Thomas (Susan) Westrick of Rittman, Ohio; and daughters, Deborah Cash and Linda (John) Hayes, both of Maumee, and Barbara Westrick of Defiance. Bernice had five grandchildren, Christopher Cash, Jordan (Brittany) Westrick, Mollie (Alex) Garza, Megan (Bobby) Blossom and Jacob Greear. Bernice had four great-grandchildren, Ariana and Diego Garza, Landon and Leah Blossom. Bernice also had many stepgrandchildren that have called her "grandma" over the years. She is also survived by two brothers, Robert (Louise) Clemens of Holgate, and Charles (Marie) Clemens of Marion, Ohio.

Bernice was preceded in death by her parents; sisters, Virginia Dickman, Isabel Franz, Geraldine Minsel, Ruth Karmol, Pauline Walker, Frances Miller and Mary Ann Yaw; and brother, Vincent (Jim) Clemens.

Visitation will be from 2-8 p.m. Monday, December 29, and a vigil service will be at 7 p.m. at the Lawson-Roessner Funeral Home, 1753 S. Clinton St. Defiance. Visitation will also be from 10-11 a.m. Tuesday at the church before services. A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at St. John's Catholic Church in Defiance at 11 a.m. Tuesday, December 30, 2014, with Father Todd Dominique officiating.

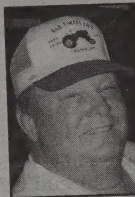

Memorials can be sent to St. John's Catholic Church, CHP Defiance Area Hospice or the Alzheimer's Association. Condolences may be shared at www.lawsonroessner.com.

The back of the dress included an embroidered blue heart in memory of the bride's late grandmother. The wedding colors were red, black and silver with red roses. The wedding bouquet was created by the bride's aunt, Brenda Wheeler, and was composed of red and white roses with accents of silver and black and with babies' breath and green foliage.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Jaylynn Shaffer of Defiance, a sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Alyndria Stykemain, Carley Woods, Amber Manson, Aurora Lopez and Laura Katterheinrich, all of Defiance, and Rachel Johnson, Toledo. The flower girl was Olivia Stykemain

Summary of gay marriage cases before appeals court

Associated Press

The Cincinnati-based 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals heard arguments Wednesday on six gay marriage fights from Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee on Wednesday, setting the stage for one ruling. Each case deals with whether statewide gay marriage bans violate the Constitution. A look at them:

OHIO

Ohio's two cases involve rights for gay and lesbian couples at the beginning of life and at the end. One case involves two gay men whose spouses were dying. They sued to win the right to be listed as the surviving spouses on their husbands' death certificates and for their spouses to be listed as having been married.

Cincinnati civil rights attorney Al Gerhardstein said the state's refusal to recognize out-of-state gay marriages violates the dignity of same-sex couples and amounts to unique discrimination, since Ohio has historically recognized marriages in other states

Plaintiff's attorney Laura Landenwich told the judges that Kentucky's law doesn't have a rational purpose and discriminates against same-sex couples. Waiting for voters to change the law is not an option, Landenwich said.

In the other case, the same judge also struck down Kentucky's ban on issuing marriage licenses to same-sex couples. That ruling is also on hold.

MICHIGAN

Michigan's gay marriage fight began when a lesbian couple sued to change a state law that bars them from jointly adopting their three children.

The state's solicitor general, Aaron Lindstrom, said that any change in the state's ban on same-sex marriage should come through the political process.

Fundamental constitutional rights shouldn't be decided in popular votes, countered attorney Carole Stanyar, who represents the plaintiffs in that case.

"The Michigan marriage amendment gutted the democratic process," she said.

MICHAEL LENHART

Lenhart is new engineer in Putnam County

By TODD HELBERG

@cntoddelberg
cncedit@crescent-news.com

OTTAWA — Putnam County has a new head engineer.

Michael Lenhart, formerly Defiance County's deputy engineer, recently was chosen to replace Terry Recker who resigned after 34 years due to ethical issues concerning pay increases and promotions for his sons who work in the Putnam County engineer's office.

Lenhart had worked in the Defiance County engineer's office for nearly 16 years — since August 1999. An Ayersville High School graduate, Lenhart will complete Recker's unexpired term which runs through 2016.

The election for a new four-year term will take place in 2016, and Lenhart plans to file for that full four-year term.

"I will run for the term definitely," said Lenhart, a Republican. "It was always the goal to continue on."

Having lived in Ottawa for the past 14 years, the transition is a smooth one for Lenhart, who now lives less than a mile from work.

Putnam County engineer's office eventually.

"I always thought about Putnam County because it's where I live and I knew the county engineer (Recker) had been here for several years," explained Lenhart, 41. "At some point I figured he would be retiring, just not under these circumstances."

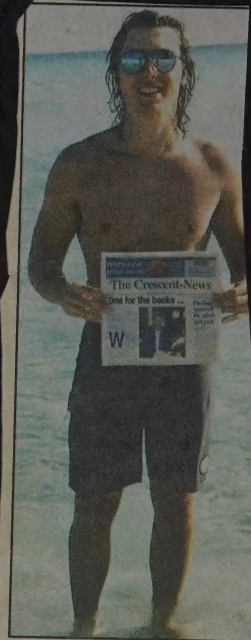

Notwithstanding those, Lenhart said "everybody has been very good" and "supportive" in Putnam County.

His prospects for the top job in Defiance County were not as favorable, given that he did not live there and would have been required to do so as the elected engineer, and the county's incumbent — Republican Warren Schlatter — is only a little older than he.

Lenhart was appointed by Putnam County commissioners on May 15 before Putnam County Republicans made it official on May 20. The Republican Party had authority to appoint a replacement as Recker was a Republican.

Defiance County has no immediate plan to replace Lenhart, according to Schlatter, who briefly mentioned the matter during his weekly report to county commissioners Monday morning.

Mercy Health honors employees

McDonel wins lifetime achievement award

Mercy Health Defiance honored its employees recently for their dedication and presented a special award – the Catherine McAuley Lifetime Achievement Award to Karla McDonel.

This is the first year for the Catherine McAuley Lifetime Achievement Award. The award is named for Catherine McAuley, a founder of the Sisters of Mercy, who dedicated her life to the service of others. The sisters of Mercy's mission began in Dublin, Ireland in 1827 and grew with the first sisters arriving in Tiffin, Ohio in 1912 to build a hospital. Their compassion extended to Defiance and in 1932 three doctors formed the area's first physician group which grew into the Defiance Clinic in 1962.

"The award is to be given to an individual each year, who through a lifetime of service to the Defiance facilities, emulates most closely the values of Catherine McAuley," according to Mercy officials.

McDonel was selected as the first recipient of the award because of her excellent services and commitment.

She has been providing service to Mercy Defiance Clinic for more than 30 years, "caring for generations of women." In addition she is actively involved in women's health, appearing as a guest speaker; is active in her church, provides a majority of women's care for the Filling Home and more.

"She treats the whole person, taking into consideration their specific circumstances and adjusts treatment and advises them accordingly," the nomination form stated.

Mercy Health Defiance also recently honored 43 employees for their service.

The employee with the longest service was Jeanne Coffman with 55 years. Other long-time employees include: Vicky Roughton (45 years), Laurie Sinn (40 years); Geralyn Badenhop, Virginia Degler, Cheryl Miller, Debra Niese and Mary Schroeder (30 years); Michelle Bingman (25 years); and Mary Kennedy, Jennifer Moser and Lori Sheets (20 years).

Those with 15 years of service include: Lisa Alberti, Paulene Goliver, Jacquelyn Hoshock, Luke Leatherman, Allyson Quint, Heather Schaper and Connie Snyder. Employees honored for 10 years of service were: Michele Diehl, Connie Dominique, Theresa Miller, Heidi Nunn, Mary Richter, Julie Unverferth, Elizabeth Kruse and Jessica Krutsch.

Among those honored for five years of service were: Michelle Casarez, Meggan Gerding, Jessica Hernandez, Alice Inman, Amanda Joost, Marissa Jordan, Emily Leatherman, Robyn Maas, Stephanie Thomas, Loni Walk, Amy Wharry, Keisha Wiechers, Janel Witte and Canina Young.

Life of trees intertwine with family

It took seven strong men in four big trucks little more than three hours to take down 30 years of history.

Two 80-foot white pines bit the dust. Or the grass in the backyard in this case.

Bark beetles had taken their toll on our once-lovely towering pines. The beetles leave pinholes in the bark and mounds of sawdust at the base of the tree to let you know they're hard at work. If you're ever driving along and see a row of pines looking deep fried, extra crisp, or an entire mountainside with trees that look like they have been painted with rust, say hello to the bark beetles. They are dastardly little things.

Personal history and memories often intertwine with trees. There was a stately row of poplars in my first childhood home. I never picture the house without the trees.

Out on the farm, our grandparents always cut a Christmas tree from the fields. It was short and squat, had stiff needles that left scratch marks on your arms and smelled wonderful. That tree was a family tradition.

The pines in our backyard were only 5-feet tall when we moved in. They grew right alongside our kids and in the same manner — silently and quickly, but without the orthodontia and pizza.

Those pines once stretched a hammock between the two of them. They watched over swimming pools, campouts, rounds of hide-and-seek, snowfalls, one unauthorized bonfire and countless family gatherings.

A huge willow tree once stood in the backyard as well. The kids had a treehouse in it for a long time. Neighbor kids enjoyed it, too. The old willow rotted from the inside out and had to be taken down. The kids are in their 30s now, and they're still mad about the willow.

There's a sadness to a fallen tree, a hollow thud that echoes death when it hits the ground

COL. MARTHA K. LENHART

Defiance native receives honor

Defiance native Col. Martha K. Lenhart was honored May 5 during a 2016 Heroes of Military Medicine Awards winner in Washington, D.C., an event to recognize the outstanding contributions by individuals who have distinguished themselves by advancing military medicine.

Lenhart received the Heroes of Military Award for her accomplishments over the years. In her current assignment at Aberdeen Proving Ground as deputy chief, U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Chemical Defense, Lenhart instructs three in-residence courses: Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties; Field Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties; and Hospital Management of Chemical, Biological, Radiological/Nuclear, and Explosives Incidents; training over 4,000 students. She co-authored and edited the "Medical Management of Chemical Casualties Handbook" and the "Field Management of Chemical Casualties Handbook," among others.

Her military awards include Legion of Merit, Meritorious Service Medal (1 OLC), Army Commendation Medal (1 OLC) and Army Achievement Medal. She holds the Army Medical Department 'A' Proficiency Designator and is a member of the Order of Military Medical Merit.

The daughter of Defiance resident Virginia (Vaughn) Lenhart and the late Dr. Francis Lenhart, she received a bachelor of arts degree from Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland and earned her MD from Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. She completed her orthopaedic surgery residency at Walter Reed Army Medical Center (WRAMC), followed by hand surgery fellowship, also at WRAMC. Lenhart earned a PhD in pathophysiology from Georgetown University and an MS in health information technology from Catholic University. She is board certified in orthopaedic surgery, a fellow in the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons (AAOS), and holds a subspecialty certificate in surgery of the hand.

Her stateside clinical assignments include Fort Meade, National Naval Medical Center, WRAMC and Fort Carson. In 2003, Lenhart deployed to Bagram Air Base, Afghanistan with the 48th Combat Support Hospital (CSH) as chief, Orthopaedic Surgery and in 2011 to Mosul Air Base, Iraq with the 256th CSH as chief, Orthopaedic Surgery. She has contributed as a Patient Education, Medical Simulation, and Scientific Exhibits Committee member for the AAOS and the American Society for Surgery of the Hand.

She is a reviewer for three specialty journals and an associate professor of surgery at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Md.

As director and editor-in-chief of the Borden Institute from 2005-12, Lenhart documented and preserved the history of WRAMC, the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, the Dental Corps, the Nurse Corps and the 212th MASH. Drawing on her deployment experiences, she championed rapid production of the landmark, award-winning book "War Surgery in Afghanistan and Iraq" and enabled its distribution to deployed providers. During her Afghanistan deployment, she recognized the need for a focused approach to management of injured infants and children in combat scenarios. Her publications garnered 16 awards, highlighting excellence in military authorship and subject matter expertise.

She is married to Dr. James Cox Jr., Col., USAF (ret.), Silver Springs, Md. They are parents of two sons, James III and Joseph Cox.

Defiance graduate

Mack set to coach in Indiana

By BRUCE HEFFLINGER

hefflinger@crescent-news.com

What an impressive first head coaching job for Ryan Mack.

It's in the basketball-crazy state of Indiana.

And in the largest classification.

The 2005 Defiance High School graduate was recently named the head boys basketball coach at Shelbyville High School.

Mack

"It's a good opportunity to run my own program," said Mack, an outstanding golfer during his days at DHS.

For the past eight years Mack has built up his resume helping with two collegiate programs, Miami of Ohio and New Mexico State. At Miami, Mack was a student assistant, with his job aspects including practice, travel, film exchange and basketball camps.

After graduating in 2009, Mack moved from his home state of Ohio to take a graduate assistant position at New Mexico State where for two years he assisted in practice, pregame duties and administrative tasks. The last two years Mack, who also earned his Master's Degree at New Mexico State, has been coordinator of player development.

"I've been in game situations as far as preparation and scouting," Mack said. "Now I'm excited to call my own timeouts and run my own offense."

Mack, who will teach high school economics, takes over for Tom Beach, who left Shelbyville for an assistant coaching position at Anderson University. Beach, with an overall record of 227-98 in 15 years as a coach including two state titles at Forest Park, had a 33-52 mark in five years at Shelbyville.

"They struggled the last few years," noted Mack of the Golden Bears, who finished 6-15 this past season and 3-4 in the Hoosier Heritage Conference. "But when I was there, I saw a lot of talent

Ayersville grad, Elliott earns Eagle Scout award

Peter Elliott, 18, son of Ronald and Janice Elliott, of Defiance, was awarded scouting's highest achievement during a Court of Honor on Aug. 16. He became an Eagle Scout.

Elliott is a member of Boy Scout Troop 77, sponsored by St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church. Less than one-half of 1 percent of the male population earns the coveted Eagle rank, and fewer than 4 percent of youth in the Boy Scout program are able to reach the heights of Eagle Scout. Eagle is the only youth award recognized by the Congress of the United States, and is the only civilian award allowed to be worn on a military uniform.

To attain the Eagle rank there are several key aspects included in the requirements. In addition to earning 21 merit badges, a Scout must hold several positions of leadership within the troop, and complete a community service project in which he plans and coordinates the materials as well as the manpower. It is the ultimate test of displaying the leadership skills learned along the scouting trail. All Eagle requirements must be completed prior to the Scout reaching his 18th birthday.

Elliott's Eagle service project involved coordinating and directing nearly 200 man-hours for the restoration of eight park benches in the veterans' section of Riverside Cemetery in Defiance. Benches had become unsightly and in some cases unsafe for use, as many of the slats were badly splintered and broken. The project involved the removal of all existing slats, building, preparing, finishing and reinstallation of new slats, as well as sanding and repainting the cast iron bench support frames. Elliott spent over 50 hours in carrying out the project, and another 19 hours planning it. It is hard to account for the total number of hours volunteers spent on the project, because there was a lot of behind-the-scenes work being done by each of the participating churches.

Peter completes his scouting career, as a youth, with 35 merit badges and has served the troop in the positions of patrol leader, troop guide, assistant senior patrol leader and senior patrol leader. Additionally, he has accumulated 83 nights of camping and 137 hours of community service (not including time spent on his Eagle service project).

Elliott's father and both brothers also earned the Eagle rank in their days of scouting. His father now serves Troop 77 as scoutmaster, while brother John is a bridge engineer in Cincinnati, and brother Mark serves in the U.S. Army.

Scouting is open to any young man between the ages of 11-18. Male youth interested in adventure and fun can obtain information by contacting Scoutmaster Elliott or the church offices.

Mary Slattery, one of the event organizers for the tournament weekend, thanked everyone who helped and came out for the event.

The 21st annual Linus Slattery Memorial Golf Tournament weekend was held in June. In the last 20 years, a little more than $400,000 has been raised during the event, with all proceeds remaining in the county.

Motorcycle awareness

May is Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month, and once again Defiance-area bikers will take to the streets on Saturday during the sixth annual Motorcycle Awareness Day parade.

The event will kick off at 9:30 a.m. in the parking lot of Northtowne Mall, 1500 N. Clinton St., Defiance, with a host of activities for bikers and spectators alike.

In years past, the parade has drawn more than 250 bikes. Event coordinator Jami Young said she hopes to see even more bikers and supporters turn out this year.

"It's about raising awareness, and we encourage everyone to come out, not just bikers," Young said. "This gives people a chance to come see what the motorcycle community is all about."

In 2012, 4,957 motorcyclists were killed in traffic crashes — a continued increase since 2010.

According to data from the U.S. Department of Transportation, those deaths accounted for 15 percent of all highway fatalities that year.

In 2011, there were 1,998 fatal two-vehicle crashes involving a motorcycle and another type of vehicle. In 38 percent (757) of these crashes, the other vehicle was turning left while the motorcycle was going straight or passing another vehicle.

Riders can participate for a free-will donation to benefit Lily Creek Farms, a therapeutic horse riding center for kids and adults with special needs.

Young, also the executive director of Lily Creek Farms, said the proceeds will help fulfill a few of the center's more immediate needs — a therapy pony and a new horse trailer.

Moninger enjoys her life of service to others

By DENNIS VAN SCODER

For Mercy Defiance Hospital nurse and house supervisor Carrie Moninger, R.N., her choice of career began to take shape at an early age.

"I've always had empathy toward others and took great pride in being of service to others," said Moninger.

A graduate of Fairview High School, Moninger achieved her registered nurse degree in 2008 from Northwest State Community College. She has been employed at Mercy Defiance Hospital for nine years.

Nominated by Andrea Goliver for recognition in The Crescent-News Hometown Heroes online feature, Moninger finished as the third highest vote-getter and will receive $75.

In her nomination, Goliver said, "Carrie is a nurse, on top of that she's a mom, wife, daughter, sister and friend. Carrie has a heart of gold and cares for her patients with the patience as if they were her family. Through all of this (coronavirus pandemic), as difficult as it was, she had held her head high, even with the heaviness of her job."

Moninger has been married to her husband, Tyke, for nearly 12 years. The couple has three daughters: Brianna, 9; Avery, 6; and Baylee 5.

"The coronavirus has made all of us at work hyper-vigilant," said Moninger. "We are more thoughtful toward our patients while carrying that extra concern for us not to bring it home with us to our families."

While noting that they have had some confirmed cases pass through Defiance, Moninger noted, "We've really come together as a staff, locked arms and tried to help one another out."

Some of the initial uncertainty about the coronavirus and what to expect for local healthcare providers has subsided, Moninger shared that, "It's always in the back of your mind; but I feel like we've kind of been more at ease with the virus."

Duke, a very gentle draft horse, spent his earlier years working very hard. Taken from the kill pens at Shipshewana, he had only been at a Michigan horse rescue for three days before Jami Young of Defiance brought him home.

He was 700 pounds underweight. That was three years ago. Now Duke is healthy and has a new job description. He is a therapy horse at Young's Lily Creek Farms, corner of Carpenter and Banner School roads. The organization offers beginner through advanced equestrian and general farm animal programs and equine therapy for special needs children and adults. They currently have seven clients enrolled.

"Right now our niche is behavioral and emotional issues," Young said. "We work with horses to teach students basic principles and values. We've seen firsthand how working with a 1,100-pound animal and gaining its trust increases an individual's self-confidence, self-respect and

According to Young, executive director of the program, each session is individualized to the participant's abilities and emphasizes that it's not just about riding horses. Included in the program are lessons on safety, grooming, feeding and hoof care. Individual and group lessons are offered.

Young's inspiration is rooted in her own experiences with horses.

Attending from Tinora were: Marlee Thomas, Breanna Hartman, Cassie Fitzsimmons, Taylor Brandt, Brianne Behringer, Erika Dumire, Alyda Clay, Daniel Torrez, Zac Clay, Zach Shock, Justin Wilson and Megan, Melanie and Melinda Puehler.

Adam Vasquez, a transfer student from Edgerton and freshman at Defiance this year, also went with the Tinora group. He has been attending camp for a couple years.

"Sometimes you have to suggest things to kids to get them to become involved" notes Vicki who as a camp mom, has had the joy and surprise of seeing teens she knows learn to channel their teen spirit in more constructive ways.

One 16-year-old boy from her daughter's class, who's had a hard home life, used to listen to rap and the kind of music that most parents would prohibit from even bringing into the house.

After going to Harmony Camp, Melinda says, he wound up liking barber-shop music so much that he bought a stack of CDs to take home and share with his hard rock-loving friends.

"If it was not for positive involvement in programs like Harmony Camp, the boy would have been out on the streets", comments Vicki.

Such success stories abound at camp, where

One of Mom's favorite camp memories is of the Harmony Camp kids at the Columbus Zoo.

"Here they are, this big

The Puehlers and some of the other camp parents are presently working on establishing an account for Harmony Camp for students who would otherwise not be able to afford it.

"At first I thought Harmony Camp was going to be this lame thing and I would be so bored. But it turned out to be the best time of my life," says Melinda who is proudly wearing her 2007 lemon yellow camp shirt.

"You never see anyone just sitting around being bored. People sing in the lunch line and walking from place to place. It's just so much fun."

"Whenever a counselor tags you to sing with him you get a button. The person with the most buttons at the end of the day gets a prize," chimes in Megan.

Every night there is a different activity. Karaoke and dancing gets the party started. This year the girls were asked to don 1970s garb for a Retro disco party. Then there is the Quartet Blast in which all of the students being coached get to show off their songs. Afterward they chow on pizza.

During the middle of the last day there is an awards ceremony to recognize the Most Improved and Most Enthusiastic, etc.

group of kids all dressed alike walking around the zoo. When one of them sees something that reminds him of a song, they break into singing and they are perfectly in tune. It's really neat to see."

"It's so easy to make friends because everyone has at least one thing in common — we absolutely love to sing", says Melinda. "The musical bond you make with others is something special. I've met and made friends for a lifetime."

Before she began attending Harmony Camp Melinda says she was timid as a performer.

"I used to barely open my mouth to sing because teenagers tend to think that we look stupid singing."

"When you really get into the music, you don't look stupid. It's your physical expression that helps make the music come alive."

"The only kids that look stupid at Harmony Camp are the ones who don't open their mouths", she says with a laugh.

Of the four daughters, Mom says, she noticed the biggest change in Michelle after she went to camp.

"Michelle used to be shy. At first she did not want to go. But by the third year such as air-conditioning and television blend well with antique furniture.

Upon entering the house, a visitor immediately sees a beautiful oak staircase, crisp lace curtains at the windows and doors, and upon, further inspection, stunning stained-glass windows at the first landing on the stairs. The congenial Hoeffels happily show the four bedrooms, five bathrooms and two sitting rooms available to guests.

"When we bought the house in 1995," said Ed, "there were two apartments upstairs with complete kitchens." He said each one of their four children was given a bedroom to decorate in their own style. The result is an eclectic mix of one bedroom decorated in burgundy and dark green and resembling an English manor house and a second bedroom that is done in Victorian blue rose with white eyelet and blue roses in the decor.

The other two bedrooms are done in a restful decor, with one in earth tones and the other in quiet greens and beige.

Downstairs, there are two fireplaces — a tiled one in the living room and another with a marble mantel in an adjacent room. The dining room is an airy place with windows overlooking a well-groomed yard and unusual pocket, French doors with leaded glass. This room is where Mary serves her famous breakfast of blueberry French toast.

"If they (travelers) are bed and breakfast people, then that is what they look for," Mary said, speaking about her guests. "We had four sisters who spent a weekend here and then returned back home." She said they had a couple from Florida who came to see their grandchildren in a local school play and stayed at the Augusta Rose.

and Defiance.

Located on Wayne Street, the inn offers four rooms, one with a kitchenette and the others with a microwave and small refrigerator. While the rooms have every modern convenience and are spotless and tastefully decorated, they maintain a home-like atmosphere that seems more comfortable than a roadside motel.

A small lobby welcomes guests to sit and relax after a busy day. While Crossland does not offer a full breakfast for guests, she does provide coffee in their rooms.

"We get a lot of business from weddings and funerals," Phyllis said. "We are already booked for two weekends this year with wedding guests. Many families of local exchange students also stay here."

"We have had visitors from 39 states and 20 different countries including Germany, Italy, Portugal, and Holland. The inn is on a bicycle trail, so we get some of those customers. One guest was a man bicycling from the West Coast to the East Coast. He was an American who was working in Hong Kong and living there with his wife."

"He was going to a reunion on the East Coast and a friend told him he should bike across the country just to see the states," she said.

Recalling another event involving guests, she said, "One night, about midnight, a newly-married bride and groom showed up. We had a room reserved for them, but didn't know they were newlyweds or we would have had a bottle of champagne for them."

Ed added that people from the city enjoy sitting on the porch in the summer and watching neighbors wave at them as they walk by.

"They are amazed that people still do that in small towns," he said.

In Paulding, travelers will find a quiet retreat at the Bittersweet Inn, run by Phyllis Crossland and her daughter, Susan.

"The inn is a remodeled farm house, built about 100 years ago," Phyllis said. The modern, rambling establishment almost serves as a counterpoint to the historic homes in use in Napoleon Defiance County Engineer Warren Schlatter has announced that he has promoted Michael Lenhart from deputy to deputy engineer.

The announcement comes after Lenhart received notification that he successfully

Ohio.

A graduate of Ayersville High School and the University of Toledo, Lenhart currently performs annual bridge inspections to determine short- and long-term maintenance, repair and replacement requirements of bridges. He also estimates roadway and drainage adequacy, designs and prepares plans for infrastructure improvements and assists with assigning and monitoring survey work.

FINDLAY — It turned out to be a very strong day for local teams at cross country districts at Findlay's Owens Community College. All told, out of seven races, 14 Defiance area teams qualified for next week's Tiffin Regional.

The teams who fared the best were Liberty Center, Defiance and Pettitsville. Those squads qualified both their boys and girls teams.

Both Defiance teams placed second. The boys were second in the Division I District 1 race, while the girls were second in the Division II girls race.

Individually, Defiance's Mhalicki Bronson won the individual race in 16:04. Bronson's strategy was a bit different than most of the runners.

"I sat back a little in the first 400 meters, because of the wind," Bronson said. "Then we got out of the wind, I sprinted out and got as much distance as I could, over the next couple of guys. With the wind and the cold, I thought I ran a pretty good time."

Defiance, ranked 20th in Division I, hung right within Ashland, which outpointed Defiance by just seven points, 55-62. Sylvania Southview was a close third at 63. Ashland's five runners placed fourth, eighth, 11th, 15th and 17th.

For Defiance, after Bronson, Colin Moats was 12th, Hunter Sherry 13th, Brennan Roehrig 16th and Cooper Morton, 20th.

"We did really well, ran a good, competitive race and it was really close," said Defiance boys coach Obie Mouser. "We hung with them the first two miles and they got us with a couple out sprinting us at the end."

In the girls Division II race, Toledo St. Ursula topped runner up Defiance, 42-58. Tiffin Columbian was a close third, at 60. Shay Soukup led Defiance with a third place finish, while Katie Crites was fifth, Maggie Lenhart ninth, Abby Horvath 20th and Emily Wahl, 21st.

"I've become more confident and got out near the front early, which is what I needed to do,"

Soukup said.

Crites struggled today, but held her own, only losing one place in the last mile of the race. And Lenhart ran well.

"The wind was bad at times and I definitely started to struggle, but I knew (St. Ursula) had a good team and there were a lot of them around me," Lenhart said. "So, I just tried to stay with them."

St. Ursula placed second and eighth, but the difference came in the next three spots, where St. Ursula placed 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th.

"We beat them earlier this year, but we had Abby Horvath healthy then (and she's been back running in just the last two weeks)," said Defiance girls coach Scott Saner. "But I'm not disappointed, I figured we'd be either second or third. We had a couple of girls step us and Maggie, in particular, ran one of her best races. Maggie and Emily Wahl came through and passed a couple of people at the end. If we don't do that, we don't get second."
